GREEKS, ITALIANS CLASH IN ALBANIA

Solons Say Rails Seek To Block Canal Plans

'Empress Of Britain' Sunk By Nazi Planes

Canadian Flagship Liner Which Carried Royalty Home In 1939 Is Bombed

BERLIN—(AP)—The Empress of Britain, majestic Canadian flagship liner which carried King George VI and Queen Elizabeth home to Britain from their North American trip in 1939, was reported in informed German quarters to have been bombed and left in a sinking condition north of Ireland Saturday.

"German combat planes" attacked the liner in the waters which Germany has proclaimed as the scene of total blockade, these sources asserted. By forenoon, it was stated, the crew had abandoned the ship and she was foundering.

(The British admiralty declined comment.)

The German high command made no mention of the Empress of Britain.

Air Raids Heavy

Both German and Italian planes raided London overnight in "rolling" attacks, other German sources said ,and the high command itself recounted "numerous hits" on rail and industrial districts east of Battersea Park, on the south bank of the Thames in London, where the great Battersea power station is located. The Germans resumed the raids Saturday.

Nazi sources said a German bomber in a surprise attack Saturday afternoon had dropped several bombs on a chemical works near Birmingham; that there were resulting explosions and fires, and that factories in a number of British centers were

RIVER RISES, MAROONS 20 IN REYNOSA

Pontoon Is Dislodged By Tree Trunk

McALLEN—Twenty or more residents of the Valley were marooned at Reynosa, Mexico, for several hours early Saturday morning when the pontoon bridge between that city and Hidalgo was closed after a pontoon became dislodged.

Manager Ray Stubbs of the Valley Bridge Company said the pontoon boat was struck by a big tree trunk being carried down the Rio Grande on a 16-foot rise caused by heavy rains on the Mexican watershed, which were carried into the international stream by the San Juan.

Reopened Later

The bridge was reopened Saturday afternoon when a new boat was put in place. Extra pontoons are kept on hand for such emergencies. Repair work was hindered Saturday morning when one of the replacement boats slipped from its moorings and floated downstream with the swift current.

The river stood at 16 feet at Hidalgo at noon Saturday as the crest from the San Juan passed. Another crest caused by rains in the Laredo area was expected later, and bridge officials were preparing for a peak of 18 feet. The water was not expected to get high enough to enter the floodways.

Many Walk Across

Many of the persons caught in Reynosa Friday night walked across the bridge, leaving their cars on the Mexican side, until the gap in the structure became too wide.

Travelers returning from Monterrey said they were delayed five hours at one place near China, where the water was too high in one of the numerous small ravines to permit passage.

King George Sends Sympathy To French

LONDON—(AP)—King George VI has sent a message of sympathy and encouragement for the French people to Marshal Philippe Petain in what informed circles described as a government attempt to establish a 3-point program to "help both Britain and France."

Authoritative sources said the king expressed confidence in an ultimate British victory and hope that the French would join one day in the benefits.

George Smith Ill

Prominent Dairyman In Heart Attack

BROWNSVILLE—George Smith, well known Brownsville dairyman, was in Mercy Hospital Saturday night following a heart attack, and his condition was termed serious. Placed in the hospital Saturday morning, Mr. Smith was being given oxygen tent treatment. He has a fair chance of recovering, according to the attending physician.

Mr. Smith's car overturned on a slippery highway near here Wednesday noon and he escaped with minor bruises and shock. There was no connection between the accident and the heart attack, the attending physician said. Meanwhile, Mrs. H D. Kirk, a neighbor, who was an occupant of the Smith car, is under treatment for a fractured neck vertebra as a result of the accident.

Her injury was thought only superficial at first but X-rays revealed the fracture. She is under treatment of Dr. J. L. Rentfro at the Lula George home on the San Benito highway. Her injury is reported painful but not dangerous.

MANSFIELD IS OUTSPOKEN IN RAIL ATTACK

'Valley Is In A Sack' Holland Says

By HARRY FOEHNER

HARLINGEN—The railroads were accused of attempting to block extension of the Intracoastal canal from Corpus Christi to the Valley at a meeting of the Intracoastal Canal Association of Louisiana and Texas here Saturday which learned that the extension may come before Congress at its next session.

Rep. J. J. Mansfield of Columbus, chairman of the House rivers and harbors committee; Col. C.S.E. Holland of Houston, president of the association; and Roy Miller of Corpus Christi, vice president, were among those who took occasion to criticize the railroads which appeared here Friday at a hearing on the proposed canal extension and asked for time to file a brief.

Mansfield Raps Rails

It was Mansfield who said that the proposed extension probably would come before the next Congress. He lashed out at the railroads which he said "used to secretly and covertly fight waterways but are now in the open." He said that now unions frequently join with railroad executives in fighting waterways.

The Congressman explained provisions of the Lee-Wheeler bill which authorize the Interstate Commerce Commission to regulate rates charged by steamship and barge lines.

"We must wait and see what their policy is going to be," he said. "One of the members has said that money spent on waterways should have

Al Smith's '36 Walk Was '4 Years Ahead'

CHICAGO, Ill.—(AP)—Alfred E. Smith declared Saturday night that when he took his famous "walk" in 1936 he was "about four years ahead of the parade."

"My advice was ignored then," he added, "and look at the mess we're in today."

Brutal Valley Killer Is Still Hopeful For State Clemency

By MYNATT SMITH

EDINBURG — Ascension (Chon) Martinez, the Donna man whom the state says joined five others in the brutal murders of an unidentified man and his wife on the banks of the Rio Grande in 1935, started his long walk down the road to death Saturday.

"I'm not insane," Martinez through an interpreter told Criminal District Judge Bryce Ferguson, who summoned the Donna man before the bar to hear pronouncement of his sentence to the electric chair.

There was only a scattered crowd of spectators on hand when "Chon," a handkerchief wrapped around his head to hold back his bushy hair, walked into the courtroom. Deputy Sheriff George Ingram took a pair of handcuffs off Martinez and they clanked loudly as he laid them in a nearby chair.

The defendant sat down and nervously picked his teeth with a match stick.

The court of criminal appeals at Austin a few days ago issued a mandate ordering Martinez's electrocution, having earlier affirmed the death sentence meted out in Judge Ferguson's court here. But the high court noted that Martinez had refused to sign papers appealing the penalty, adding the statement that the man might be insane.

"Chon" stepped up to the little witness stand in front of Judge Ferguson's desk.

Did he have anything to say before sentence was pronounced, the judge inquired.

"My wife has letters from the governor," the interpreter quoted Martinez. "She has evidence."

The judge had asked that Martinez present any evidence he might have relating either to clemency from the governor or affidavits from two physicians as to his insanity—the only legal loopholes left for him. Martinez evidently did not understand the technicalities involved, for he told the interpreter that "doctors at San Antonio" had said he was sane.

"That's the truth," Martinez added.

But he lacked any visible evidence of documents to which the judge had referred.

AIR SERVICE IS SUSPENDED INTO GREECE

France Enters Axis Orbit In Pact

By The Associated Press

With France under the Axis belt, the Rome radio Saturday night broadcast a report of a clash between Greek troops and Italian-ruled Albanians—an event some believed a prelude to wider action against pro-British Greece.

Six Greek soldiers were said to have been captured and two Albanians killed and three wounded in a fight between Koriza and Porta Edda inside Albanian territory.

Air Service Halted

Italy previously suspended air service to Greece until November 4 under circumstances suggesting increased pressure on that country, and the Greek fleet was ready to hold day and night maneuvers from October 28 to January 1 near Salonika.

An Italian government communique later told of the clash and said the Greeks were armed with rifles and grenades.

The communique asserted "Greek or English agents" were being sought for a bomb attack near the Porto Edda headquarters of the Italian lieutenant-generalship.

Three bombs exploded slightly wounding two persons, the communique said.

France bowed to the will of Adolf Hitler in his desire to fit the conquered nation in his own way into the Nazi scheme for "a new European order."

Parley Is Reported

Marshal Philippe Petain, chief of state of France, and his vice premier, Pierre Laval, met the French cabinet at Vichy and reported on their conversations with Hitler and his foreign minister, Joachim Von Ribbentrop.

Then came a brief announcement: The cabinet had approved the Petain-Laval decision. Hitler and Petain would collaborate in restoring peace to Europe. What kind of peace and the manner of its restoration were not made clear.

British reaction was not immediately forthcoming, but officials of the "free" French government in

Uprisings In Norway Face Nazis

STOCKHOLM —(AP)— The newspaper Dagens Nyheter reported from Oslo Saturday night that a limited state of emergency has been proclaimed at Bergen because of demonstrations and sabotage in that city of Nazi-held Norway against the National Samling, pro-Nazi Major Vidkun Quickling's party.

Bergen citizens, it said, have been forbidden on the streets after darkness which descends now in the late afternoon.

Two persons were said to have been killed and several injured last week at a meeting of the Samling (National Union) which has been made the only legal political movement in Norway.

Fish exports to Germany, this report said, have been spoiled by saboteurs on several occasions and long prison terms have been imposed on several persons convicted of espionage.

Two Bergen newspapers have been banned in recent days, it added.

The Political Roundup

Demos Answer Lewis

Early Says Many CIO Unions Repudiate His Stand; Willkie In New York

By The Associated Press)

The Roosevelt administration struck back Saturday at John L. Lewis' denunciation of the New Deal and support of Wendell Willkie while evidence piled up that a deep political schism had developed in the CIO itself.

Stephen Early, presidential secretary, said Lewis had "chosen to go down the lonely road." Many CIO leaders, Early declared, had "repudiated" Lewis' stand in messages to President Roosevelt.

Secretary of State Hull said that Lewis was "100 per cent wrong in his effort to prejudice the American people by the baseless charge that President Roosevelt is seeking to get this nation into war."

Otherwise, the day brought such developments as these:

President Roosevelt decided definitely to make a political address in Boston next Wednesday in addition to one Monday night at New York, then began a weekend of speech-writing in the seclusion of the White House.

Willkie Confident

Willkie campaigned again into the New York City area, telling crowds that "we are on the march—we are going to win. I promise you we can't lose." Republican headquarters announced that the nominee had cancelled a radio broadcast scheduled for Saturday night because of the "complicated nature" of his tour through New York City boroughs.

Willkie had expressed pleasure Friday night at receiving Lewis' support.

The Lewis expression brought comment, too, from William Green,

NAVY LAUDED AS AMERICA'S 'FRONT LINE'

FD In Navy Day Note Opens Observance

WASHINGTON —(AP)— President Roosevelt told the American fleet Saturday night on the eve of the 19th annual Navy Day that it was "a deterrent to those nations who would plant the heel of dictatorship across this hemisphere."

"I pray," he said in a letter to Secretar Knox, "that it will continue to emphasize, by its strength, our determination to remain a free people, marching steadily along the open road that holds peace of the spirit as well as a full and worthy material life."

Observance Restricted

The chief executive's letter was published along with an exchange of greeting between the army and navy on the eve of a Navy Day observance which is to be restricted "in the interest of national security."

Progress toward realization of the ultimate goal of a two-ocean navy was disclosed, meanwhile, by an official compilation showing that six new fighting ships were added to the fleet last month, four others were launched and keels of four more laid.

New Ships Rushed

With the start of work on the 45,000 ton battleship New Jersey, six new dreadnaughts are on the ways, and two others have been launched and are nearing completion.

Mr. Knox, Assistant Secretary Lewis Compton, and Admiral Harold R. Stark are to speak Saturday on a world-wide radio broadcast, but there will be no general visiting of ships of the fleet or shore stations. Vessels assigned to training reservists will receive visitors and drills and demonstration are scheduled at many cities.

NAVY DAY ADDRESS PLANNED BY KELLEY

WESLACO—State Senator Rogers Kelley of Edinburg will make a Navy Day talk over radio station KRGV at 8 p.m. Sunday, the talk having been arranged by R. H. Kern of Harlingen, navy recruiting officer for this area.

PIGGOTT TO SPEAK ON NAVY DAY OBSERVANCE

BROWNSVILLE — Arthur W. Piggott, past commander of the Brownsville post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and former national patriotic instructor for the VFW, will deliver a Navy Day address over Station KGFI at 11 a.m. Sunday. Piggott's talk, on the life of John Paul Jones, "Father of the American Navy," will be dedicated to the Navy Mothers of America.

Numerous carnival goers enjoyed their cold drinks and other carnival specialties while playing bingo, penny tossing, the octagon wheel, country store, doll stand, ring pitching, fish pond, razzle dazzle, nigger baby, and while enjoying the cake walk, Negro minstrel, and many other attractions.

Members of the Band Boosters as well as faculty members, Lions, Firemen, Legionnaires, Rotarians, Kiwanians, Optimists, Valley Baking Co., and numerous individuals and other organizations took part in running the booths and other attractions.

Texans To Break All Dem Voting Records

AUSTIN—(AP)— A prediction that Texans would break all records at the polls in the general election and attain the campaign goal of 1,000,000 votes for President Roosevelt came Saturday from Myron G. Blalock, national Democratic committeeman from Texas and the state campaign director.

Liquor Trade Is US 5th Column Danger

FDR NOTE TO PETAIN FAILS

Appeal Prior To Nazi Pact Revealed

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The United States' deep concern over the German-French negotiations was evidenced Saturday by disclosure that President Roosevelt had sent a message to Marshal Henri Phillippe Petain, chief of the French state.

The communication was delivered to Gaston Henry-Haye, the French ambassador, last Thursday by Sumner Welles, undersecretary of state. The fact of its dispatch was a closely-held secret until Saturday.

Secretary Hull, in disclosing that Mr. Roosevelt had communicated with the 84-year old World War hero who now heads the Vichy government, declined to reveal the nature of the message. No reply, he said, had been received.

Although lacking official confirmation, it was reported that the president's message had been timed—and perhaps contained an appeal—designed to influence Petain against signing any "collaboration" pact with Germany which would imperil France's future as a free nation and possibly bring about a clash between French and American interests, especially in the western hemisphere.

Italian Sub Sinks Portuguese Vessel

LISBON, Portugal—(AP)—An Italian submarine rescued 27 officers and men of the Belgian freighter Kabalo after sinking her about 600 miles off Madeira October 15 and landed them safely on Santa Maria Island, in the Azores, the Kabalo's captain reported to Portuguese authorities Saturday.

FRENCH MAY 'LEND' NAVY

Neutrals Speculating On Concessions

BERN, Switzerland—(AP)—Diplomatic onlookers Saturday night said they believed France would pay for Axis concessions by "loaning" to Germany and Italy her Mediterranean air and sea bases near East Africa, and under much the same conditions as Britain now holds Egyptian bases.

PETAIN

The government of old Marshal Petain is expected to get more "unoccupied" territory under her deal with Hitler; use of Paris for its capital and gradual release of French prisoners of war.

So far, in view of most diplomatic observers, the Vichy government has given the Axis ammunition only for its propaganda guns and is withholding disclosure of more tangible aid until later.

One informed source said the point on which Petain still balked was the extent to which France's army air force and navy should be called on to protect Axis-used French bases against British attack.

French "collaboration" with the Axis, one report said, will be divided into two spheres:

1. The Atlantic, where both Spain and France will remain non-belligerent in order not to excite the United States but will afford "all possible aid" in Axis attempts to cut Britain's South Atlantic trade and the "Cape route" to India;

2. The Mediterranean, where Italian and German sea and air forces will get full use of Tunisian and Syrian bases in an offensive aimed at breaking Britain's hold on the eastern Mediterranean.

Baudouin Ousted

Pierre Laval, vice premier of the Vichy government, has taken Baudouin's portfolio, the report said.

Dictators Seek To Make Slaves Of Other Nations Warns Sec. Hull; Terms This Decade Among Saddest In History

Would-Be 'Masters' Of World Threaten All, But Safety Lies In Strong Defenses

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Secretary Hull described the rulers of Germany, Italy and Japan Saturday night as "would-be conquerors" engaged in a relentless attempt to reduce mankind to "a master-and-slave relationship among nations and individuals, maintained by brute force."

Speaking before the National Press Club over a nation-wide radio hook-up, (NBC), the secretary of state listed efforts by these nations "to take by force what they say they need or want" as he reviewed what he called "the whirlwind developments of one of the saddest and most crucial decades in the history of mankind—that of the nineteen-thirties."

"The rulers of these nations," the secretary continued, "have repudiated and violated in every essential respect the long-accepted principles of peaceful and orderly international relations.

"Merciless, Unrestrained"

"Merciless armed attack; unrestrained terrorization through slaughter of non-combatant men, women and children; deceit, fraud and guile; forced labor; confiscation of property; imposed starvation and deprivations of every sort—all these are weapons constantly used by the conquerors for the invasion and subjugation of other nations."

These same nations, Hull declared—presumably in reference to Germany's reported efforts to secure the French fleet and Japan's warship building program—have as

CONTROL OF PRICES SEEN

Business Boom May Set Record

By FRANK MacMILLEN

NEW YORK —(AP)— With industry booming at levels of fabulous 1929, business men this week looked forward to a record $85,000,000,000 national income in 1941 and laid lines to hold war-pushed prices to reasonable levels.

Creation of a "priorities board" at Washington to assure a steady flow of critical materials to the war plants—if necessary by denying or delaying them to civilian industry—threw into sharp focus the problem of possible runaway prices later on in the defense drive.

Inflation Denied

Economists have long agreed the basic factors of an upward spiral of prices—some call it inflation—is an increase in the supply of spending money in the hands of the public, combined with a decrease in the supply of things for which the public can spend.

Thus they watched closely, took precautionary steps, to see that as profits and payrolls which comprise the national income climb toward a probable new high in the history of the country in coming months, prices shall not rise out of proportion.

Prominent was the warning of Tom M. Girdler, Cleveland steel maker, against "speculative buying" in that defense metal.

Increase Next Year

The business records of the week lent point to calculations of many observers that some time next year, with defense production at flood, and with the country's spendable income ahead even of the boom years of the 'twenties, would be the

Mexican Ambassador Flies To Washington

MEXICO CITY —(AP) —A government spokesman said Saturday night Dr. Francisco Castillo Najera, Mexico's ambassador to the United States, would take a plane to Washington Sunday carrying with him the results of a three-weeks' survey of Mexican-American relations with President Cardenas.

The ambassador was scheduled to leave at mid-day and arrive in Washington early Monday.

British Watch Election

Highly Interested, But Don't Take Sides

LONDON—(AP)—The British are following the United States presidential race with a more avid interest than they have paid to any political campaign outside the British isles in many years.

The national press carries campaign stories day and night, illustrated with photographs of vigorous electioneering incidents far removed from the sedate English trend.

As a whole, the newspapers have taken no sides. They have told their readers that both President Roosevelt and Wendell Willkie are committed to a continuation of aid for Britain.

"From the British point of view it is enough to know that both candidates have the strongest admiration for our fight and are pledged to help us by all means 'short of war,'" said The Manchester Guardian.

MANSFIELD IS OUTSPOKEN IN RAIL ATTACK

Valley Is In A Sack, Holland Says

been given to the railroads as a bonus."

He said further that "one of the members is as railroad-minded as hell itself."

"Valley In A Sack"

Colonel Holland also criticized the railroads declaring that they had "the Rio Grande Valley in a sack; in a sack tied at the top with a ribbon called the Robstown differential."

The rail carriers were charged with responsibility for the load limit on trucks in Texas. He said that this was the first time in 35 years that he had ever criticized the railroads, "but when they come to us in this unfair way and get our report to examine it at their leisure in their swivel chairs I am not going to be mealy mouthed about it."

Holland's reference was to the fact that Eugene S. Coghill, Jr. of Houston, representing the Association of American railroads, had appeared at the public hearing Friday and requested 90 days in which to examine the report supporting the proposed extension filed by Brigadier General G. A. Youngberg and to file a brief if desired. Col. F. S. Besson of Galveston, U. S. Army district engineer conducting the hearing, granted the railroad organization 45 days.

Canals Aid Railroads

Miller said that it had never been the policy of the rail association to oppose the railroads and pointed out that there had never been a worthy water project which has not increased business for the railroads. He said the railroads were given land equivalent to the area of New England to build transcontinental lines and one-fifth the area of Texas to build lines in this state.

"Every foot of the line from Algoa to Brownsville and Rio Grande City was more than paid for by land donations," he said, quoting a former publicity man of the railroads without giving his name.

"This probably will be the last hearing we will ever have to hold to assure completion of this project," said Miller in describing the Youngberg report submitted at Friday's hearing as "conclusive."

He brought out the fact that construction of waterways with a 12-foot depth and 125-foot bottom width was practically an adopted policy.

Bailey T. DeBardeleben of Houston, representing the Coyle barge lines, declared that barge operators would fight any efforts on the part of the Interstate Commerce Commission to raise barge rates under its new authority under the Lee-Wheeler Act.

J. E. Bell, manager of the Corpus Christi Chamber of Commerce and formerly at San Benito, issued an invitation to attend the international celebration which will be held in Corpus Christi when the canal is completed to that city probably early next summer.

Bowie Urges Reduction

James C. Bowie, director of the Port Isabel harbor, declared that if cost of handling fruit could be reduced 10 cents a box to the producer that it would mean the difference between easy living and in many cases today inevitable bankruptcy."

The association authorized another three-year program of activity beginning January 1, 1941 when the current program expires.

Saturday's convention of the canal association followed a hearing on the proposed extension held by the U. S. Army district engineer Friday. Delegates to the hearing were taken on a tour of Port Isabel, the Port of Brownsville and Matamoros Friday afternoon and had dinner in Matamoros Friday night.

McAllen Stolen Car Regained In Mexico By City Patrolman

McALLEN—The automobile owned by A. A. Vohs, allegedly stolen here Friday night, was recovered Saturday night at Reynosa and a man arrested in the car was jailed.

City Officer Richard Bales brought the man to jail here and returned the car to Vohs. Bales said General Avila Durantes and other Reynosa officials were "very co-operative." It was the third car Bales has recovered in six weeks. Auto owned by O. E. Gomez was recovered at Reynosa and one owned by W. H. Wickline was recovered at Falfurrias.

American Business Throwing Away Red Ink As Sales Show Steady Gains; Defense Should Boost 1940 Totals

By ROGER W. BABSON

BABSON Park, Mass.—I have said in recent articles that business is getting better. As long as the defense program continues to broaden there will be no lessening of activity. Yearend reports will show more plus than minus signs. Manufacturers and other business men are throwing away the red ink bottles and stocking up on black. It takes time for war production to get under way. The country is still in the inertia stage. Once the initial problems of planning, financing, and production are overcome, things should move fast.

Don't Be Impatient

With machine tool companies working day and night to provide the necessary equipment, there is a scarcity of skilled labor. Men must be trained for many important and technically-skilled jobs. Blueprints must be drawn, sources of supplies arranged, transportation schedules by rail and highway checked. Lawyers must study contracts, prices be determined, and bank loans negotiated. Our industrial areas are coming to a state of intense activity.

The great agricultural sections of the country have not yet felt the increased tempo of our industrial cities. However, as movement of the business cycle swings from East to West, all sections of our land will ultimately be caught up in this rush to arm. Young and old, rich and poor, will all take more of a part in whatever the future holds.

Business Will Improve

War prosperity for some few people is a delightful state to contemplate. Unfortunately, such people do not come into contact with the actualities of war. These are far more cruel than those of the last conflict. My business associates know that I never side-step a scrap.

I thrive on trouble. Give me some new upset to face each day and I am a happy man. I am no pacifist in busines, religion, or war; and I am all set for any actual participation in the current fight abroad. But I also know that when our enemies suffer we also suffer in the end.

Dividends may increase, but total incomes of business men and investors will be drastically reduced by taxes. Even war talk and a feeling that the right side is winning brings increased activity in the stock market. The demand for labor will put more money into the pockets of the man on Main Street and into the tills of stores. Only unbiased historians years hence will be able to judge whether or not wars ever provide lasting economic values. Surely, real prosperity can come from our present situation only as it strengthens our character and teaches us needed lessons.

Let's Remember 1929

Unfortunately we have not yet recovered from the effects of the last war. Furthermore, fundamentally, we profited little from it, either financially or spiritually. We had a slump in business after the armistice, followed by several years of rising values. Then came the swift kick in the pants so many of us remember. Now, we are on the eve of another great outbreak. God grant that it will not come before we are prepared.

Our country is like a sick child who before recovering from an ear abcess breaks out with chicken pox. We are not yet out of the depression starting in 1929. Temporarily, the economic situation will ease up, bringing us to a false sense of security and prosperity. Geographically our country is so large, and our numbers and resources so great, that many have the impression we cannot be licked. However, in Hitler's eyes we are already tottering from internal labor troubles and Congressional fights. And the thought may not be far fetched

Germany now has the great bulk of the resources of the Continent, let alone the Scandinavian countries. With this backing, anything can happen to us economically. One saving grace is that in all history no man has yet conquered the world. If I have learned anything in the last forty years, it concerns man's frailty. Some day a leader will rise in some other country who will be Hitler's match. Until then, we must keep prepared economically as well as militarily for whichever way the tide turns.

I may sound like an alarmist. If so, forgive me. I am anxious only that we Americans are not caught sleeping, economically, at the switch. I am hopeful, too, that all will realize the price our young people must some day pay for the present expenditures and brief respite from unemployment. Hitler has no idea of invading the United States as long as our people are prosperous. He, however, believes, that through labor and political dissensions, unemployment will be so great and our people so divided that we will turn to Fascism as a remedy.

As my grandchildren constanly remind me, times have changed. Our conception of money and wealth will change. It no longer takes money, as we know it, to finance Germany. If it were of any real value, the gold which we have buried at Fort Knox would guarantee our own and England's salvation. No, money is today of little real value. We must have tangible resources, the courage to sacrifice, and the character to keep our heads.

have to say before sentence is passed?" asked the court.

"There is," said "Chon." "They have discredited my family." Whom he meant by "they" was not explained.

He added quickly:

"I'm not insane!" He shifted his feet slightly.

"I know the governor is representing me."

He chatted a moment with the interpreter, who then quoted him:

"I mailed a letter to the president—President Roosevelt. I didn't write the governor. I haven't received a letter from him."

Judge Gives Sentence

The judge conferred briefly with District Attorney Tom Hartley and his assistant, Jack Ross.

In a moment he intoned:

"You . . . shall on the fourth day of December, 1941, be electrocuted . . . ."

The handcuffs rattled again as Ingram picked them up.

Martinez remained on the witness stand.

Ramon Longoria, court-appointed attorney for Martinez, whose chief counsel, Kenedy Smith of Raymondville, was not present at the session, asked Judge Ferguson to allow Martinez to remain in the county jail here through Monday, thus giving the man's family time to have him examined by two physicians, ostensibly regarding his sanity.

Martinez may still present evidence of such physicians' findings to the court and ask for a sanity hearing.

Otherwise, Sheriff R. T. (Bob) Daniel, who had made preparations to leave with Martinez Saturday for Huntsville, will start with him Tuesday morning for the death cell at the state prison.

District Attorney Hartley, who on October 12 had worked exactly four years on the "Donna river murder case" as a public prosecutor, walked from the courtroom to his office and smoked a cigaret.

"Four Long Years"

"That is the last of them," he commented quietly. "These have been four long years."

Of six men originally indicted for the slaying of the unknown man and woman after each had attacked the woman, only one faces any prospects for freedom.

Placido Handy, given the death term in court here, was electrocuted at Huntsville several months ago.

Now Martinez faces the electric chair.

Three others, Braulio Yanez, Emiliano Martinez and Bonifacio Martinez, were given life sentences a few months ago when they were tried in district court of Bexar county at San Antonio. They accepted the sentences.

The sixth man, Jose Rodriguez, who turned state's evidence and testified against the other five under an agreement that he would be granted immunity, remains in the county jail here, where he too has been for four years.

When the Martinez sentence is finally disposed of, the charges against Rodriguez will be dismissed and he will go free.

France Enters Axis Orbit In Pact

London repudiated any agreement between Hitler and the aged Petain, terming "any association, direct or indirect, between France and her mortal enemy" a "sacrilege."

King Wiresh Petain

Earlier in the day informed circles in London had disclosed that King George had messaged Petain, extending courage and sympathy to the French people, and expressing the conviction of an ultimate British victory. Vichy dispatches did not mention the communication.

President Roosevelt also had sent a communication to the French government, Secretary of State Cordell Hull, revealed. That message went across seas Thursday while Petain was seeing Hitler somewhere in occupied France.

While the diplomatic moves went forward on the continent, the military phases of the war continued at increased speed. London had seven daylight air raid alarms and an eighth shortly after nightfall with an untold number of casualties and considerable property damage to private homes and apartments.

Activity In Channel

There was considerable activity in the Channel area. Within sight of watchers on on the English shore RAF squadrons bombed a German convoy and English coastal batteries shelled a small fleet of German torpedo boats maneuvering along the French coast.

British pilots also resumed their attack on the German long-range guns near Cap Gris Nez.

The Germans, intensifying the war at sea, claimed to have hit the 42,348-ton liner Empress of Britain with aerial bombs off North Ireland and to have left her sinking. The ship was used on the return trip of King George and Queen Elizabeth from North America in the summer of 1939.

The British admiralty declined comment.

RAF Over Germany

The British air ministry announced the usual RAF flights over Germany and German-occupied territory again took place with bombs dropping on the naval base at Kiel, on Bremen and Cuxhaven and the Channel invasion bases.

Various industrial centers likewise were attacked, the ministry said.

In the Mediterranean area, Italy was reported to have suspended air service to Greece until November 4, and many believed some action against the Greeks was imminent.

The official Rome radio also announced that the long expected Italian offensive in Egypt was about to begin.

Greasy Burglar

Miami Prowler Gives Police Headache

MIAMI, Fla. —(AP)— A grease-smeared burglar dressed only in trunks is giving police here new problems in crime detection.

On at least one occasion citizens gabbed at the elusive thief and got only handfuls of grease.

Officers can't decide whether he is a white man or a negro. They think he may be white, though, because there appeared to be charcoal dust mixed with the lard left on one citizen's hands.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Financial reports from four major political organizations were filed with the clerk of the House Saturday and listed $1,527,911 in contributions for the last seven weeks. The Republican national committee's report for this period is yet to be received.

The Democratic national committee said it received $642,320 and disbursed $603,742 in the period from September 1 to October 22.

The Associated Willkie Clubs of America listed receipts aggregating $624,605 and expenditures totalling $464,376 from September 1 to October 20.

The Democrats-For-Willkie organization, New York, reported $148,720 in contributions and expenditure of $117,001 from September 10-October 20.

The national committee of independent voters, which is working for re-election of President Roosevelt, reported $112,266 received and $50,088 spent from September 20 to October 22.

Contributions reported by the Democratic national committee included:

an objective "the securing of control of the high seas."

"They threaten peaceful nations with the direst consequences if those nations do not remain acquiescent, while the conquerors are seizing the other continents and most of the seven seas of the earth."

"We are in the presence not of local or regional wars, but of an organized and determined movement for steadily expanding conquest. Against this drive for power no nation and no region is secure save as its inhabitants create for themselves means of defense so formidable that even the would-be conquerors will not dare to raise against them the hand of attack."

DNB, official news agency, said two British pursuit planes were shot down in an extended fight over the English Channel in these raids and a third forced to make a landing on the French coast. No German losses were reported.

On the home front, Adolf Hitler ordered Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering to start a second "four-year plan" and adapt it to the needs of war. He told Goering that first 4-year plan, intended to make prewar Germany self-sufficient, was a great success.

NEW BUSINESS SCHOOL OPENS

Durham Institute Is To Locate Here

HARLINGEN — President G. D Durham of the Durham Business Institute, Austin, and other officials of the school visited in the Valley during the past week, deciding to open a branch school in Harlingen.

Durham said a lease has been taken on a home for the new enterprise in the Embee building, and that complete equipment and office machinery is being installed for opening of the Harlingen branch.

critical point in the fight to hold prices down.

Steel mills operated at about the highest percentage of capacity in history, around 95, with actual amount of steel turned out undoubtedly the greatest on record.

Automobile production was the largest for this part of the season in three years. Orders from dealers were said to be heavy.

Retail Trade Better

In retail trade, snappy weather drove people to stores for winter clothing. Sales in steel and heavy industry towns led the pickup.

Heavy construction awards — largely for factories which will later add to swelling employment and payrolls—topped $127,000,000, nearly 100 per cent ahead of the same period last year.

Not only in steel, but in textiles, motors, electric utilities, and elsewhere expansion appeared to be in the offing. The aircraft companies, with an estimated $3,500,000,000 of orders on their books, and more likely to be added as these are filled, already is rushing millions in plant construction completion.

president of the American Federation of labor.

The CIO, he said, was "torn with dissension, divided politically because its leaders seek to compel it to support a political party." The AFL, he added, "has evolved and followed a non-partisan political policy."

Green Says CIO Split

Some officials of the United Mine Workers, foundation stone of the CIO organization, disagreed with Lewis. Hugh V. Brown, president of District 7, a Hazelton, Pa., unit and one of the big UMW locals, said the district membership would "go down the alley battling" for Roosevelt. On the other hand, Ray Edmundson, Illinois district president of the UMW, made public a resolution by 16 UMW officials pledging support of Lewis and a "vigorous campaign" against a third term for President Roosevelt.

Interpreting The War News

Italian Morale Sags

News Of Impending Offensives Originate In Italy, Apparently As Propaganda

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON

Loudest predictions of a dramatic military denouncement as a result of Axis strategic moves in France and Spain come from Italy, not Germany. They picture for Italian home consumption something big about to happen to help Italy get on with her slow-motion war in Egypt and the eastern Mediterranean.

It will have to be something very big to get any place. There would be no short-war connotations in a siege of Gibraltar, an Axis lunge via the Dardanelles on a 2,000-mile march to the east or Axis acquisition of French or Spanish air and submarine operating bases. All imply long-war readjustments, and it is waning hopes of a quick victory over Britain that is troubling Messrs. Hitler and Mussolini, particularly Mussolini.

Unless the new Axis technique in France and Spain—when disclosed—holds out hope to the Italian people of early escape from Britain's choke-hold sea blockade, the effect on Italian public morale might become serious this winter. Italy is the weak spot in Axis armor by every indication.

Italian morale has had little rich substance on which to feed recently. Highly seasoned tales of Italian naval victories that would be of minor consequence even if true cannot conceal the slow progress of the Italian drive in Egypt. It has been "consolidating" at Sidi Barrani for weeks.

Conflicting Reports

Only Friday, the Rome radio announced that a new Italian offensive in Egypt was imminent, that Marshal Rodolfo Graziani's army in North Africa was "now ready and fully prepared to deal a final blow to the British in Egypt." But at about the same time, the Italian high command reported that Italian positions east of Sidi Barrani had been shelled by British warships.

The odds have shifted in Britain's favor since the push to Sidi Barrani began weeks ago. Graziani was credited with some 260,000 men against Britain's probable 150,000 when he signalled his troops forward.

Only by air can Italian or German reinforcements have been transported.

Rome Admits Trouble

Even Rome admits that both British forces ashore in Egypt and the British fleet in the eastern Mediterranean have been augmented.

The Axis fostered talk of a siege of Gibraltar always has seemed primarily designed as a diversion. That "The Rock" can be taken quickly is not conceivable to anybody who has studied its natural strength.

Recently, she heard he had been in Texas about 12 years ago. She went to the public library and began searching all the directories of Texas cities.

She found him at telephone No. 1159, San Antonio.

DRAFT QUOTAS ARE COMPUTED

State Governors To Get Data Monday

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Figures to be used in computing draft quotas for 6,175 local board areas throughout the country have been compiled by national selective service headquarters for early distribution to state governors.

Regulations require the army to notify the governors by Monday how many men each state must contribute to the first 30,000 draftees to be inducted into service November 18. The call for men will be distributed by the governors among the local boards.

The board quotas will be figured on the same basis as quotas for the states. Figures which will be used in these computation will include estimates of the class 1A (fit and available for service) manpower of each state and estimates of the quota credits for volunteers from each state.

Credit For Volunteers

A state's quota is the difference between the number of class 1A men it should contribute to the land and naval forces in existence next July 1 and the number which it already has contributed, and will contribute through regular voluntary enlistments, to those armed forces.

Class 1A manpower for the whole nation is estimated by national headquarters at 5,000,000 of the 17,000,000 young men registered. A state with 50,000 men in class 1A has 1-100th of the manpower and should, therefore, contribute 1-100th of the total forces of 1,900,000 to be in existence next July 1, or 19,000.

That number would be reduced by the total of men in service plus those expected to enlist by July 1. If that aggregated 10,000, for example, the state's actual quota of conscripts would be 9,000.

LABOR RULES OUTLINED AT VALLEY MEET

Miss Tish Checks On Violations Here

McALLEN — Texas labor laws were explained to employers of McAllen and Weslaco in meetings held Thursday and Friday by Mrs. Edith Tish of Corpus Christi, deputy labor commisisoner.

The Thursday meeting was held at the McAllen Chamber of Commerce, presided over by Chamber Manager Paul T. Vickers and the Friday session at Weslaco, presided over by Chamber Manager John Hager.

The purpose of Mrs. Tish's trip was to check up on reports of state labor law violations and to acquaint employers with the Texas regulations covering men, women and children.

She said children under the age of 15 cannot be employed in industry without permission from county judges. Such children can work only eight hours a day and may not work at night. The law does not apply to agricultural and dairy pursuits.

Boys under 17 cannot be employed in dangerous jobs and cannot be sent as messengers to places of ill repute.

Women under state law can work only 54 hours a week, or nine hours a day, except in laundry and cleaning establishments, where they may work 11 hours daily, with time and a half for overtime.

The health, comfort and morals of workers also was stressed. There must be separate rest room facilities for men and women employed in the same industry, Mrs. Tish said.

Texas laws do not cover men workers with the exception of those on public projects, who can work only eight hours daily at the prevailing wages. The national wage-hour law covers male employes.

Willie Finally Gets In Army After Getting Someone To Adopt Child And Having Four Of His Teeth Pulled

TULSA, Okla.—(AP)—Willie R. Cope, 28, left for Fort Sam Houston, Tex., Saturday to begin service with the Army.

And that, as far as Willie is concerned, anyway, was something.

When he first tried to join the Army, he was rejected because he had a child. He persuaded the husband of his former wife to adopt it.

On his second attempt, recruiting officers turned him down because he had four bad teeth. He had them pulled and a bridge put in.

The third time was a charm.

"We were glad to get him," one officer remarked. "He has the kind of spunk and determination we need in the service."

RURAL POWER SHOW SLATED

REA Outlines Helps In Farm Work

MERCEDES—Poultry raisers will find many new ways to earn more profit from their business at the REA farm electric equipment show November 28-29 in Mercedes. The show will be staged by the Rural Electrification Administration under sponsorship of Magic Valley Electric Cooperative, Incorporated.

The show features demonstrations and discussions of the fact that electricity in poultry raising can lead to healthier birds, lowered costs, and more eggs in the season of shorter days and higher prices. One feature of the show is an electric brooder with live chicks. Ultra-violet lights, water warmers, electric egg graders and new scalding and waxing devices that are revolutionizing poultry dressing are included in the display.

Poultry raising is only one of several types of farming with which the show deals. Other demonstrations show other ways of cutting production costs and chore drudgery and bringing ease and economy to household tasks. Power demonstrations arranged by Daniel W. Teare, show manager, include shelling, grinding, and cutting of local grain and forage crops. A small automatic mill with an overhead bin shows how a farmer can grind a day's feed by simply pushing a button.

Trailer and booth exhibits include water pumps, irrigation systems, portable motors, dairy and poultry equipment, a farm workshop, and hundreds of small appliances. Meals big enough for half a dozen hungry farm hands will be cooked before the audience in electric range and roaster demonstrations by Miss Onita Liter, REA home electrification specialist, assisted by Miss Evelyn Bloome, REA home electrification specialist, traveling with the show.

WANT TO GET THE RAZZBERRY?

Try telling folks electric rates have been cut in half!

I WORK FOR Central Power and Light Company and the other night I had supper over at Jim and Edith's house. "No fooling" I told them, "you really do get about twice as much electricity today as you did ten or twenty years ago for the same money." They gave me the ha-ha. "Maybe you mean the bill is twice as high nowadays" said Jim. I said, "Your bill probably is higher, Jim. Mine is, too. But there's a good reason for it. Look here . . ."

And I took them around their house and pointed out their refrigerator and electric washer and percolator, radio, toaster, iron, and all the other electric gadgets, not to mention the big bulbs in the lamps. And I said, "Now honestly aren't you using a whale of a lot more electricity than you did ten or twelve years ago?" They said that was right.

"Our service is better, too" I said. "Look." I took three blocks that their youngest boy had been playing with and put them in a row on a table. Then I showed them how we've got two and three plants hooked on the very line that brought juice into that room, so if something went on the blink in one plant, service would go right on. Jim scratched his head and said, "Never realized that?"

Then I tossed a dime and a nickel on the table real dramatic-like and said, "And you get all this service for only about fifteen cents. Light, refrigeration, cool ironing, swell coffee—for fifteen cents a day! Edith, you're a good bargain hunter—is this a bargain or is it a bargain?" She nodded. "Never thought of it like that, but it certainly is," she said.

"And here's something else," I said. "You not only get twice as much electricity for your money, you cut your rate every time you use more. With our modern rates, the more electricity you use the more you cut your rate."

Well, I guess my little speech made an impression all right because a few days later I saw Edith looking at electric ranges. Mighty smart gal, that Edith. If I could find another one like her, I'd marry her quick.

BROWNSVILLE IN LINE FOR YMCA FUNDS

Would Make Soldier Center

BROWNSVILLE—Word has been received from the National Council for Young Men's Christian Associations that funds may be collected at the council's meeting this week-end in Pittsburgh for establishment of a Y.M.C.A. recreational center for soldiers here.

Col. W. E. Talbot, vice president and general manager of the Brownsville Chamber of Commerce, said a letter from the national council stated "there is a definite need for a Y.M.C.A. in Brownsville, and plans are being made to meet the need as soon as necessary funds can be collected."

Need Seen

Edward J. Fuller of New York City, army and navy department representative of the council, visited Brownsville recently to investigate need for a "Y" center here.

He conferred with Col. Talbot, Chaplain L. W. Cronin of Fort Brown and Frank Davis, president of the chamber of commerce.

Mr. Fuller stated at that time that local groups would have to furnish the location and utilities for a Y.M.C.A. here, and the national council would furnish the personnel and educational facilities.

Since that time, Col. Talbot has asked H. L. Stokely, chairman of the chamber's military and naval affairs committee, to form a local group for the purpose of obtaining a location and utilities for the project.

City To Cooperate

All service clubs, ex-service men's organizations, churches, women's clubs and other civic and patriotic groups will be asked to cooperate.

"This project won't take a whole lot of money, but it does demand united support of all Brownsville citizens," Col. Talbot declared.

T. A. Rymer of the national Y.M.C.A. council's army and navy department in New York City has requested E. W. Hearne of Melrose, Mass., to come to Brownsville to handle preliminary preparations for the project, a letter received by Col. Talbot said.

No acceptance had been received from Hearne up to Saturday. The letter stated that after Hearne had established the Y.M.C.A. here, the national council would provide a secretary for the center.

Fort To Be Enlarged

"The garrison at Fort Brown is due to be greatly enlarged in the near future, and soldiers at the post face many perplexing problems with very little opportunity for constructive use of leisure time," Col. Talbot said.

Mr. Rymer's letter stated that many requests for Y.M.C.A. centers have been received from many cities, but that the need for one in Brownsville seems to be greater than any other.

Mr. Rymer wrote that, with this in mind, a movement is on within the national council to take care of the need in Brownsville "more quickly than the rest."

The local group would also have to provide yearly funds for the upkeep of the center here, it was stated.

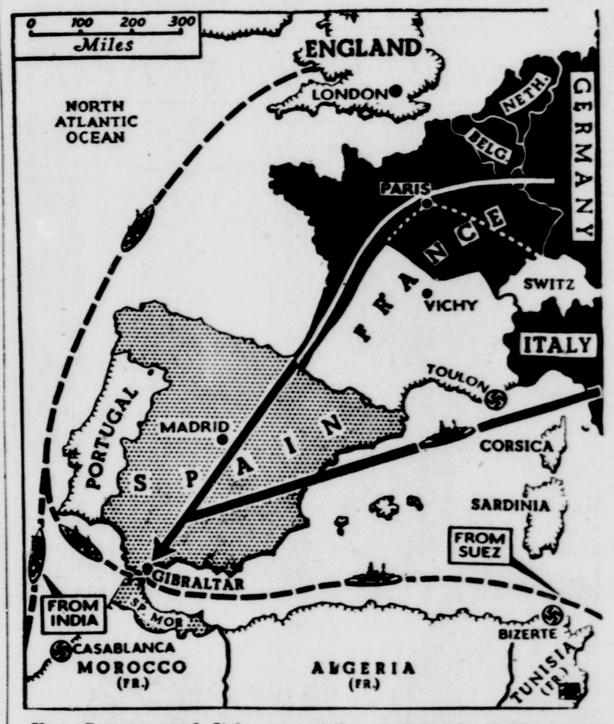
British Lifeline Next?



How Germany and Italy may strike at Britain's Mediterranean lifeline is shown in this map, based on diplomatic reports in Switzerland. A new agreement with France and Spanish co-operation would be big steps. France would yield naval bases like Toulon, Casablanca, Bizerte and Dakar (not shown). Spain would permit Axis powers to strike at Gibraltar and might enter the war against England. Arrows from Germany and Italy show possible routes of attacks on Gibraltar. Dotted line near Paris indicates possible new northern boundary of unoccupied France.

Note For Future Reference; If Ear Gets Torn Off, Save It Because It Can Be Sewed Back On Weeks Later

CHICAGO—(AP)—If an ear is torn off in an auto accident, the American College of Surgeons was advised, it should be saved because weeks or months later it can be put back on and will make a perfectly good new ear.

The report was made by Dr. H. L. D. Kirkham of Houston, Tex. The ear has to be kept in a preserative, but he said that even if it were not found until 24 hours after the accident, it still could be preserved.

Any dead person's ear, if preserved, can be used to make a good ear, he said.

The "dead" ear does not exactly live again, but its cartilage, which forms the bulk of the ear and virtually all of its contour, would be a skeleton on which a plastic surgeon could mold skin from the victim's own body to make a new ear.

Valley Fruit Features Display

BROWNSVILLE—The Valley will be well represented at the coming horticultural show at Texas A. and M. College.

The concerns they already have called on promised to send exhibits, the boys said.

"All we're worried about now is how we are going to haul the fruit back to the school," they said.

Competitor Steals Nude Ned's Stuff

BROWNSVILLE—Some lowlifer is chiseling on the nude burglar.

A clothes line theft was reported to police Saturday by Claudio Oritz, 256 Jefferson, who reported the loss of two pairs of pants.

And the police say it wasn't the nude burglar's work, as badly as he is supposed to need pants.

According to Oritz he had two clothes lines about 200 feet long filled with wearing apparel of all sorts. Friday night some thief picked the line for the two pairs of pants and left all the rest of the clothes, many items of which were more valuable than the loot.

Meanwhile Piedmont, Calif., is experiencing a mild case of hysteria over a barefoot burglar whose current case history closely parallels that of the Brownsville burglaries.

At least four homes in the swank neighborhoods of wealthy and prominent Piedmonters were raided this week by the burglar who carries his shoes and enters through screens. His loot, like the Brownsville burglar's, is small. And Piedmont is excited.

In Brownsville, no burglary attempts have been reported to police during the past week.

WESLACO TO HOLD UNIQUE STYLE SHOW

Must Be Made From Valley Produce

WESLACO — An onion ensemble or a radish and broccoli bathing suit will be possibilities here Dec. 12 at the National Fruit, Vegetable and Flower Costume Style show.

Show officials Saturday announced a list of prizes for the best costumes made entirely out of Valley fruits, vegetables, flowers, or the combination of all three.

Rules covering the throwing together of these edible fashions require that the fruits or vegetables or flora used must be native to the Valley—no California or Florida citrus will be tolerated.

Models showing off these vitamin and calory conscious creations must not be over 16, but the show officials aren't worried about having to bar somebody's grandmother from the show. It will take young girl to carry around a grapefruit polo coat.

Models may be entered by any club, organization, business or individual. They may be entered in any one of the three following divisions:

1. Street and sport dresses; first prize; $35; second prize, $25.
2. Costumes representing state, nation, or famous characters, first prize, $35; second prize, $25.
3. Evening gowns; first prize, $35; second prize, $25.

Entries from out of Weslaco, if they don't win one of the regular prizes, will compete for two special awards, one for $25, the other for $15.

The style show will be one of the features of Weslaco's Twenty-first Birthday party. Mrs. C. Burt M. McKeehan is chairman.

Allowables Hike

Week's Oil Produced Up 1688 Barrels

AUSTIN—(AP)—Net allowable oil production in Texas averaged 1,416,911 barrels daily the past week, an increase of 1,688 over last week and 111,711 above the U. S. Bureau of Mines estimate, railroad commission engineers reported Saturday.

The engineers said, however, that estimated assigned but unproduced allowables amounted to 42,507 barrels a day, dropping the state's actual production over the federal bureau's figure to 69,204.

New Oil wells during the week numbered 136 and brought the year's total to 5,826. The additional wells gave the state an overall total of 94,189.

Solon Says Honest Elections Promised Cook County Areas

CHICAGO —(AP)— Senator Clyde Reed (R-Kan), member of a senate subcommittee designated to investigate complaints of election iregularities in Chicago, declared Saturday that "we are going to see that Cook county has honest and fair elections."

Interned in a French prison camp near Tours, he said he escaped when German planes bombed and machine-gunned the prison. During the excitement, he said, he escaped to Lisbon "with the aid of American friends."

'Arrest Us If We Race To Fires,' C-C Men Propose

McALLEN—Motorists who rush to fires, hindering firemen in their work, stand condemned by McAllen Chamber of Commerce directors.

The directors agreed they themselves should be arrested and fined if they rush to blazes and interfere with the fire fighters.

Fire Chief Alfred Myers, the volunteer fire department members and Chief of Police Noah Cannon have urged people to stay at home or get completely off streets, or pull to the curb and stop on all streets leading to a fire area. Chamber directors determined to uphold the pleas vigorously.

Insurance men said the habit of thoughtless, excited McAllen people rushing to fires is liable to cause a raise in insurance rates. The former chief, C. H. Britton, said that some day a $200 fire may go into a $50,000 fire because McAllen people get in the path of the fire fighters.

Fathers and mothers sometimes put their children in the family auto and race to a fire, thereby risking the lives of the children endangering the lives of other citizens and the fire fighters and encreasing the liability of serious property losses by hindering the fire fiughters, directors said.

Last Tuesday night when a little blaze broke out on Maple Avenue, North Main Street was so congested by the curious, fire fans, that members of the volunteer fire department could hardly reach Maple; cars were crowded into trees and on to lawns and serious crashes were avoided by a hair's breadth, chamber directors declared.

HIDALGO WILL SEEK 5,000 IN RELIEF DRIVE

County's Red Cross Needs Outlined

EDINBURG—Mobilization of man power for national defense will demand increased Red Cross services to the armed forces of America, A. M. Tarbutton of Edinburg, Hidalgo county chairman, declared Saturday. Tarbutton said he hoped the goal of 5,000 members set for Hidalgo would be exceeded.

Fortunately, Tarbutton added, these services are so well organized nationally and locally that they are capable of rapid expansion. Cost of the necessary extension of activities on behalf of service men will be met, as in the past, from membership contributions. This year the Red Cross conducts its roll call of members in Hidalgo from November 11-30, he said.

"The war service of the American Red Cross," he announced, "has representatives at 77 field offices and hospitals. In the past year more than 53,000 soldiers, sailors, marine and coast guardsmen or their families were aided in solving all kinds of problems arising from economic, illness and social causes."

Tarbutton declared the war personnel in the field could not function without the aid of 3,700 local chapters and 6,600 branches of the Red Cross. "Indeed," he emphasized, "the vast area covered by the chapter set-up is the main reason why the Red Cross today is in a position to render invaluable service to our country's defense forces."

The war service also continues to carry on its program for disabled veterans of past wars, he said. "The individual cases of 140,000 U. S. veterans or their dependents came under Red Cross care in chapters last year. In regional offices of the U. S. Veterans Administration and in government hospitals, Red Cross workers dealt with the problems of 58,000 ex-service men or their families."

He declared this entire program is "operated for the benefit of every American. It is conducted for our own sons, brothers and fathers. We can help by joining the American Red Cross or by renewing our membership from last year."

He was, and so, associates reported, was an audience of "more than 400."

"To do that," he said in an address prepared for his inauguration as Swarthmore's eighth and youngest president, "our colleges and universities must produce people whose ideals are the ideals of freedom and whose hope is the preservation of a civilized way of life."

Turks Ask Rumanian Funds Frozen In US Be Made Available

ANKARA, Turkey—(AP)—Usually reliable sources declared a recently-concluded trade agreement between Turkey and Rumania could not become effective unless the United States released at least $6,000,000 of the Rumanian funds frozen in America.

It was understood Rumania had requested that such an amount be released and earmarked for Turkey in order to purchase Turkish cotton. If the request is not granted, it was said, a new agreement may be worked out whereby Turkish copper would be exchanged for Rumanian oil.

WAGE TALLY PROVIDED BY U. S. BOARD

Records On Social Security Set Up

BROWNSVILLE—Opportunity for social security account holders to check on their old-age and survivors insurance accounts is offered by the Social Security Board in an announcement issued this week. The board says it is now ready to furnish to any account holder on request a statement of the wages credited to his particular account for 1939 and at least one quarter of 1940.

There are 50 million such accounts, according to F. E. Wilson, manager of the Brownsville Social Security Board field office.

Depends On Wages

"Social security accounts," F. E. Wilson said, "are the Social Security Board's record of each worker's wages as reported to the government by his employer. The monthly benefits payable to insured wage earners, to their wives or widows, and their children, or to their dependent parents, depend upon the amount of the worker's wages. Therefore, the board points out, it is important for the worker to check up once a year and find out for himself whether the record is correct."

Such an opportunity is provided by the board once a year beginning in July, and for the account holder's convenience, a postcard to use in asking for the statement of his wages is also provided. All the worker needs to do is fill out this card and mail it, or write a letter making the same request. In either case, he gives his name and address, his social security account number, and the date of his birth to identify his account. He will receive the reply in a sealed envelope, in accordance with the board's regulation which requires that any information about anybody's social security account shall be confidential.

Show Total Credits

The statement of wage credits will show the total of the worker's wages reported to the government by his employer or employers for the year 1939, and in addition for quarters in 1940 so far as the records have been posted. It will show also the total of all his wages as reported and processed since his social security account was started.

Employers send in the wage reports with their tax returns, every three months, to the Bureau of Internal Revenue. There the tax returns are audited. Then the wage reports are forwarded to the Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance in the Social Security Board, where the wages reported for each worker are transferred to his own particular social security account. The figures can then be furnished him on request.

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico—(AP)—Devil's Island, French penal colony off the coast of French Guiana, is returning to normal after months of confusion and uncertainty that followed France's capitulation to the Axis powers, according to information reaching here.

1940 Cotton Staple Longer Than 1939's

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The average staple length of 1940 cotton ginned through October 17 was considerably longer but the proportions of middling and strict low middling white grades were somewhat larger than for the corresponding period last year, the Agricultural Department reported Friday.

Ginnings, which totaled 7,028,141 bales, contained only about two per cent of the spotted grades as compared with more than 15 per cent last season.

Texas' Riches Are Enough For Relief

WACO, Tex.—(AP)—H. P. Drought, state WPA administrator, told the Texas County Judges and Commissioners Association here Friday that Texas could afford the cost of an adequate state welfare program but was not carrying its share of the burden.

He advised the 500 delegates in a day address there was "no possibility of the federal government's enlarging its work relief program," and said there were 80,000 Texas families needing direct relief.

Rincon Field Pipeline Highlight Of Oil News

McALLEN—Additional developments in the big Rincon field in Davis City, northeastern Starr county, included Friday the construction of a 15-mile pipeline from the field to trackside loading facilities on the Missouri Pacific Lines and construction of more than 50 new homes and buildings in the field.

The new pipeline, a 4-inch line, will lead from the big Rincon tank farm to the El Tanque field, about 11 miles to the southeast, and thence to the loading racks in Rio Grande City, another four miles. About 4,000 barrels of steel storage will be built at Rio Grande City to handle the incoming crude. The new line will not interfere with present facilities, the Valley Pipeline Company's Starr county gathering system through which a major part of the Rincon crude is transported to Port Brownsville for shipment by tanker. Rincon is now producing about 6,000 barrels daily. Estimated cost is around $30,000.

The new homes and buildings at Davis City will accommodate families of men stationed in the field as well as additional men expected to be sent to the area when the company starts construction of its anticipated gas-distillate recycling plant there. No further information as to the date for start of construction of the plant has been available.

Pipe for the Starr county pipeline begun arriving in the Valley and work will be started shortly. Company officials indicated that no additional labor is needed on the project, since the local labor supply is sufficient.

McALLEN—Two highly important Lower Rio Grande Valley wildcats were scheduled to run production tests this weekend, one in southwestern Hidalgo county and the other in eastern Willacy county. Little detailed information was available on the latter. Meanwhile, wildcats scattered through other parts of Hidalgo, Starr and Brooks counties added to the general wildcat scene in the southernmost Texas counties.

In southwestern Hidalgo, just a mile east of the prolific old Samfordyce field and almost squarely in the center of an area surrounded by dry holes from 2,000 to 5,000 feet deep, Royal Oil and Gas Co. No. A-1 Yturria Town and Improvement Co., PorCor. 43, Reynosa Jurisdiction, was almost certain to become a producer. Operators topped gas sand at 3,151 feet, which caused a blowout in the No. 1 Yturria, first well drilled on the block. Then gas sand was cored at 3,489-98 feet and oil sand at 3,498-3,502 feet. The hole was bottomed in shale at 3,535 feet and 5½ inch o.d. casing was cemented on bottom. Drill stem test of the sand recovered 1,330 feet of oil, and 90 feet of oily mud with 26 pounds pressure in 15 minutes. The oil was 28 gravity, A.P.I. Production test will be made through casing perforations in the lower part of the sand.

The 800-acre block on which the well was drilled is owned jointly by Royal Oil and Gas and by Baldridge and King, McAllen independent operators and drilling contractors. The section is known locally a sthe "Nichols area" because geology on the prospect was worked out by C. R. Nichols, McAllen geologist. The well represents the fourth location drilled in and around the Sullivan City and Samfordyce areas by Royal on what was generally regarded as questionable acrege but which has proved productive.

Northwest of Sullivan City production, Baldridge and King's No. 1 Garcia Land and Livestock Co., Por. 100, Camargo Jurisdiction, a short distance north of State Highway 4, was ready to sidetrack around 4,200 feet after the hole was ottomed at 4,228 feet with pipe stuck. The pipe was shot off at 4,200 feet and cement plug set.

In northeastern Hidalgo, Humble Oil and Refining Co. No. 1 American Life Insurance Co., Lot 1 Block 13, Mo-Tex Subd., Las Mestenas Grant, was reported coring steadily ahead at about 7,510 feet.

In eastern Willacy county, considerable attention was focused on Pan-American Production Co. No. 1 Porfiro Garcia, Share 13, San Juan de Carricitos Grant, which was reported to be running production test. The well was drilled to 9,002 feet and 7-inch o. d. oil string was reported cemented at 8,900 feet. Production tests were reported run on 7,800-foot and 8,500-foot shows but no information on the wildcat could be verified. A number of major companies and one or two independents hold all available acreage.

In eastern Starr County about five miles north of the big Rincon field, Sun Oil Co. No. 2 Mateo Saenz, Survey 80, was a semi-wildcat 1,700 feet north of the No. 1 Saenz, discovery well of another producing area lying, apparently, out on the flanks of Rincon. The No. 2 Saenz cemented 10 3-4 inch o. d. surface casing at 1,035 feet and was ready to start beneath the pipe. The Sun No. 1 Saenz was the second Vicksburg producer ever completed in the Valley.

A mile west of the discovery well of the "North Rincon" area, believed to be additional flank production of Rincon, but three miles to the north and a little west, Harvey Oil Co. No. 1 R. J. Moore, Survey 513, had cemented past 4,000 feet. Harvey No. 1 Davenport-State, Survey 514, a south offset to the North Rincon discovery, Sun No. 1 W. G. Lehr, was still making six to eight barrels daily by small heads through open tubing from sand at 4,106-19 feet.

On the east side of the Rincon field about 1,600 feet east of production, W. R. Davis, Inc., No. 1 Lucy Seyfriedt, Survey 928, was reported coring around 5,115 feet, but details on the well were not made public because of its important location. It is 1,600 feet east of the Complete Oil Well No. 1 Yzaguirre, which is 8,800 feet east of most northerly production at Rincon.

In northeastern Brooks county about six miles northeast of Falfurrias, J. M. West Production Co. No. 1 Wm. Ehlers, Sec. 12, Burton & Danforth Subd., Loma Blanca Grant, recovered 175 feet of oily mud and 210 feet of salt water with was cemented at 2,914 feet for production test.

In northeastern Starr County, Sun Oil No. C-2 Geo. H. Speer, Survey 235, an inside well, was swabbing oil through casing perforations (9 shots) at 4,640-42 feet during production test. The hole was bottomed at 5,002 feet and 5 1-2 inch o. d. casing was cemented at 4,675 feet.

In the Boyle field in southern Starr, Borsodi Petroleum Co. No. 2 Juan de Dios Vela, Share 2-A, Por. 91, Camargo Jurisdiction, guaged 70 barrels daily on 1-8 inch tubing choke through casing perforations at 3,232-38 feet with 375 pounds tubing working pressure and 680 pounds closed-in casing pressure. This was the second producer in the field's 3,200 foot sand, and is located about one mile south of the Boyle discovery well, finaled in a 3,500 foot sand.

Two wells were making production tests in the Rincon field in eastern Starr County.

McALLEN—Five South Texas proven fields added eight more wells Saturday in a very active week that saw steadily expanding activity in the producing area.

As usual, the Colorado field in western Jim Hogg County was the most active, accounting for three of the new producers, but the Sun, Boyle and Ricaby fields added one each in Starr County, while the Sullivan City field had two more in the tanks for the Hidalgo County field.

At the northwest extremity of the Colorado field, V. F. Neuhaus No. F-3 F. G. Trevino, Survey 37, cored the field san dat 2,934-45 feet and cemented 5 1-2 inch o. d. oil striking atop the sand. On production test, the well made 108 barrels daily on quarter-inch tubing choke with 220 pounds tubing working pressure and 870 pounds closed-in casing pressure.

Also in the northwest part of the field, C. Andrade III No. F-2 F. C. Trevino, Survey 37, made 212 barrels daily on quarter-inch tubing choke from sand at 2,939-50 feet after casing was cemented atop the sand. Tubing working pressure was 180 pounds and closed-in casing pressure was 800 pounds.

C. Andrade II No. F-3 F. G. Trevino, Survey 37, cored the field sand at 2,914-26 feet and it showed plenty of oil when cored. Casing

SCOUTS PLAN TROOP CHECK

Cameron Boys To Aid National Defense

BROWNSVILE — All Cameron County Boy Scout troops will observe National Roll Call week the first week in November in co-operation with the national emergency program, according to Ralph M. Cissne, Boy Scout field executive for the Lower Valley area.

Mr. Cissne said the roll call will be held by Boy Scout troops all over the nation for the purpose of checking on the qualifications of all troops, Scout leaders and Scouts.

Chairmen of various troop committees will be responsible for having 100 percent attendance at committee meetings during that week, and Scoutmasters and junior leaders will be responsible for perfect attendance at troop meetings during that time, Mr. Cissne said.

Spiritualist Sees 'Moses' In Vision: Predicts '41 Axis Split, British Win; Bears Out Minister's 1940 Prophecy

BROWNSVILLE — Italy will break her ties with Germany in the near future, and Britain will emerge victorious from the present war in Europe early in 1941, according to Rev. J. P. Morgan, local spiritualist minister.

A vision of a man, who identified himself as "Moses" appeared to Reverend Morgan during the past week and informed him that Britain "not yet but soon would be victorious in the end of this struggle," the minister said.

Reverend Morgan said the "vision and words" showed "the long white way leading up into the great high mountains with the Spirit holding a flag in each hand standing on the highest peak at the end of the road."

Spirit Carries Flag

"The Spirit carried the American flag in the right hand and a misty-colored flag in the left hand with the word 'British' written through it," Reverend Morgan said.

"This showed that not yet but soon Britain would be victorious in the end of this struggle," he stated.

"Then the spirit of an old man with curly gray hair, deep blue eyes and long flowing gray whiskers appeared, carrying a trumpet in each hand ready to sound the victorious wonders to the world," he continued.

"The messenger gave his name as "Moses," and a German officer was watching his movements, ready to flee in horror and terror from the great loss that was upon him," Reverend Morgan related.

Italy Kicks Germany

"And as Moses journeyed into the mist I saw the toe of the Italian boot kicking the German officer out, and the plain words that followed were: "Get out and stay out!," which denoted Italy realizing that he had been led into great losses by broken German promises."

"This vision bears out the prophecy which they gave me in June, 1940, predicting beforehand that Italy would join Germany and that both would fail in February, 1941," Reverend Morgan concluded.

Status Of Wealthy Texan Being Probed

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M.—(AP)—District Judge Bryan Johnson delved further into the affairs of Guy L. Waggoner to determine whether the wealthy sportsman is a legal resident of New Mexico or Texas.

Upon the outcome rested whether New Mexico or Texas courts would try divorce litigation pending in the two states between Waggoner and his attractive wife, Virginia Green Waggoner of Fort Worth.

U. S. INSURANCE HOLDERS MAY CHECK CREDIT

Social Security Head Opens Books

BROWNSVILLE — Opportunity for social security account holders to check up on their old-age and survivors insurance accounts is offered by the Social Security Board now, F. E. Wilson, manager of the Brownsville board field office said Saturday.

The board is now ready to furnish to any account holder on request a statement of the wages credited to his particular account for 1939 and at least one quarter of 1940. Wilson said there were 50 million such accounts.

Full Record Kept

"Social security accounts," Wilson said, "are the social security board's record of each worker's wages as reported to the government by his employer. The monthly benefits payable to insured wage earners, to their wives or widows and their children, or to their dependent parents, depend upon the amount of the worker's wages. Therefore the board points out, it is important for the worker to check up once a year and find out for himself whether the record is correct."

Such an opportunity is provided by the board once a year beginning in July, and for the account holder's convenience, a post card to use in asking for the statement is provided. All the worker needs to do is fill out this card and mail it, or write a letter making the same request. In either case, he gives his name and address, his social security account number, and the date of his birth to identify his account. He will receive the reply in a sealed envelope, in accordance with the board's regulation which requires that any information about anybody's social security account shall be confidential.

Shows Full Totals

The statement of wage credits will show the total of the worker's wages reported to the government by his employer or employers for the year 1939, and in addition for quarters in 1940 so far as the records have been posted. It will show also the total of all his wages as reported and processed since his social security account was started.

Employers send in the wage reports with their tax returns, every three months, to the Bureau of Internal Revenue. There the tax returns are audited. Then the wage reports are forwarded to the Bureau of Old Age and Survivors Insurance in the Social Security Board, where the wages reported for each worker are transferred to his own particular social security account. The figures can then be furnished him on request.

Bus Driver Parlance Revealed For All

BALTIMORE—(AP)—If you find yourself in company with some geeches, just relax—they're respectable people.

It's simply parlance of bus drivers, pilots of swift inter-city and transcontinental "battle-ships" with a lingo of their own as characteristic as that of a soldier or printer.

Some of the terminology, with interpretations by Jack Breslin, Baltimore bus terminal dispatcher:

Geese—foreigners.

Geeches—"you-all" from Georgia.

Daisies—girls traveling alone.

Doughnut—a bus tire.

Putting her in the wind—stepping on the gas.

NEW YORK—Shades of King Arthur!

Men and women in warring countries should adopt a 1940 version of the armor worn when knighthood was in flower, says Stephen Grancsay, curator of arms and armor at the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

Grancsay says a suitable outfit could be manufactured in mass production for less than $100. He contends many serious wounds could be prevented if people were given such protection from shrapnel fragments, falling debris and spent bullets.

To objectors who argue that armor-clad civilians wouldn't have sufficient mobility, Grancsay retorts they'd have more than they now have hiding in air raid shelters.

Minister Repents

Confesses He Hunted Without License

PRATT, Kas. —(AP)— Guy Josserand, game official, received a letter from an Illinois minister that said:

"Many years ago as a boy I remember breaking one of the game laws of the state— going hunting without a license.

"Of course, this may seem out of order to some but since that time, about 17 years ago, I have moved away, become a Christian and am now a minister of the Gospel and I do not want anything between my soul and the Lord.

"Therefore I ask you to forgive me for this, as I am sorry for it, and will do what you think best."

Josserand suggested if the minister would help conserve wildlife in the future it might aid his conscience.

Primitive Magic Walks Hand-In-Hand With Rigid Christianity On Texas' Alabama-Koasati Indian Reservation

AUSTIN—(AP)—Primitive magic walks hand in hand with rigid Christianity to make the Alabama-Koasati Indian reservation in Polk county the state's No. 1 paradox, W. E. S. Dickerson told the Texas Archeological and Paleontological Society Saturday.

The University of Texas ethnologist, himself part Choctaw, claimed inhabitants of the 4,351-acre reservation reveal a "remarkable" tenacity for tribal culture despite a 400-year contact with the white race.

"In external forms—religion, dress, food, housing and language—these Indians have become largely indistinguishable from the white groups around them," he said.

"But honeycombed under the Christianity are invisible Indian traits which have survived the impact of white civilization."

These traits include co-operative effort, the use of tribal language as a medium of expression among themselves, retention of certain primitive foods such as sofki which is a native corn dish, and a mystic attitude toward nature.

Converted to Presbyterianism in 1881, the tribes are devout Christians and their church is the "physical and spiritual center of the village," Dickerson said.

He added drinking, gambling and veneral diseases were so rare as to be practically non-existant.

By HARRY FOEHNER

WESLACO—Valley grapefruit topped Florida's by 38 cents a box during the week just closed, it was revealed by the first weekly summary issued by the Federal-State Market News Service here Saturday.

The average for Valley fruit was $2.10 per box for 53,969 boxes and the Florida average was $1.72 per box for 96,570 boxes.

The Valley fruit averages ranged from $1.72 per box at St. Louis, the nearest auction market and having the lowest freight rate, to $2.42 per box in New York, generally regarded as a Florida market because of water transportation.

Florida averages ranged from a disastrous low of $1.36 at Cincinnati to a high of $1.91 at Detroit. St. Louis and Baltimore only averaged $1.37 per box for Florida fruit.

The Valley moved 53 cars of grapefruit Saturday, eight of oranges, and 10 of mixed citrus by rail and 51 carlot equivalents of grapefruit and 23 carlot equivalents of oranges by truck.

Florida moved 33 cars of grapefruit, 71 of oranges and seven of mixed citrus by rail Saturday with 13 cars of grapefruit and 27 of oranges going out by truck.

TEXAS FARM INCOME OFF

August Decline Is 21 Per Cent

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The bureau of Agricultural Economics in its report covering farm income for August disclosed that Texas suffered a decline of 21 per cent as compared with the same month last year.

The bureau reported that because of the later movement of the cotton crop this year, income from crops throughout the entire south was smaller in August than in the same month of 1939.

Texas alone among all south central states showed a drop from the previous year in income received in August from sales of livestock and livestock products. In addition Texas was one of the few states which showed a drop during the month in the total amount of government payments received as compared with August a year ago.

Total cash income for Texas farmers in August, 1940, including government payments, was $44,566,000. The total in August of 1939 was $56,252,000. Government payments in August 1940 were only $1,747,000, as compared with $5,706,000 in August, 1939. Crop income last August was $27,079,000, as compared with $34,446,000 in August, 1939. Income from livestock and livestock products was $15,740,000 in August, 1940, and $16,100,000 in August of 1939.

Van Field Jumped

Daily Allowable Now 16,591 Barres

AUSTIN—(AP)—Among a number of oil and gas orders, the railroad commission Saturday granted an increase in permissible oil production of nearly 5,000 barrels daily to the Van field in Van Zandt county.

Retroactive to October 16, the order permitted a raise in the BP CR's allowable from the current 12,030 barrels a day to 16,591 and declared the increase was granted on testimony that the crude could be produced without waste and a firm demand for it existed.

Allowable production of sour gas in the Panhandle field was reset at 686,000,000 cubic feet daily in November, under regulations which have obtained since May 4, 1938.

Recycling of gas from wells in La Gloria field in Jim Wells and Brooks counties was permitted under certain conditions and the Texas Company and Stanolind Oil and Gas Company were allowed to return salt water through certain wells to porous horizons.

Just What Would Army Do If It Had Hit A Cow?

NEW ORLEANS—(AP)—The army, fastidious about spending any of America's 15 billion-dollar defense fund, is trying to learn how much a pound of pork was worth—and what kind of pork—before it was squashed under the wheels of an army truck in Louisiana last August.

Brigadier General Raymond H. Fleming, adjutant general of Louisiana, made public just two of the letters passing between colonels on the subject.

In the following official correspondence only the names are fictitious:

"Dear Colonel:—I have been detailed formally to investigate the circumstances, determine the damage, and make recommendations concerning a claim resulting from an accident involving United States army one and a half ton dump truck No. 317474 driven by Private Blank of Company Blank, Blank Engineers Battalion, and a 60-pound O.I.C. sow, the property of Mr. Blank of Merryville, La., alleged to have occurred on or about August 26, 1940, under the provisions of paragraph 7B, AR 35-7020.

In Quintuplicate

"Before submitting by report, I should like to request that you furnish me in quintuplicate, a statement showing the value of the cost per pound of a hog, prevailing in Beauregard parish, Louisiana, during August, 1940, that was adopted by your Third Army maneuver damage and claims officer, to be used as a basis for determining the amount due claimant. I have been informed that such a figure was adopted by that officer.

"Thanking you for your kind assistance in this matter, I am,

Sincerely yours,
Colonel Blank."

Three days later, and very recently at that, this letter drew the following official response:

"Dear Colonel:—I have your letter regarding the collision between a one and a half ton United States army truck and a 60-pound sow O.I.C. I am referring it to Colonel Blank, rents and claims officer, at Camp Beauregard, to the Louisiana State Department of Agronomy and Hug Husbandry, and also to the Bureau of Weights and Standards in Washington, for reply direct.

What Kind Hit?

"We had several categories of swine in the maneuvers, wandering shoat, barrow, pig, sow, boar and plain hog. We will do our best to place your animal in the proper class for its weight and size. I hope they send the data in quintuplicate.

Sincerely yours,
Colonel Blank."

Clearing Up

When the Harlingen Cardinals won over the McAllen Bulldogs 7 to 6 Friday night at McAllen, they went a long way toward clearing up the Class AA situation in the Valley.

To date the Cardinals have won two conference games, the Brownsville Eagles one, the Bulldogs none, the Edinburg Bobcats none, and the San Benito Greyhounds none. Each Valley Class AA team plays four games in the South zone bracket and the winner then goes against the winner in the North zone. It can be seen that the Cardinals have a better grip on the title at present than the other four teams in the district.

Looking ahead, the Cardinals must win over Brownsville and San Benito to claim undisputed right to the championship of the South zone. They should get by San Benito without much trouble but are certain to have their hands full with Brownsville.

Two Class AA games are scheduled this week-end, McAllen journeying to Brownsville and Edinburg going to San Benito. Edinburg should have little trouble winning over the injury-riddled Greyhounds but fans can expect a slam-bang affair when the Bulldogs and Eagles collide.

No Sympathy

We have long been opposed to betting on high school football games and for that reason we cannot sympathize with those McAllen fellows who drove all to way to Harlingen to put their money and points on McAllen last Friday night.

Somehow we cannot get aroused about wagers made on college games thousands of miles away but there is no place for betting on a high school game.

Youngsters are condemned for a mistake or two on the field and coaches are under fire all because some guy lost 50 cents on a game. If this same guy had no wager up, he would take the game of football in high school for what it is—a fine game bringing together two teams of kids 17 and 18 years of age or less.

We have heard grown men tell these youngsters as they went on the field, "Get out there and win, I have $10.00 bet on you." We have never been lucky enough to hear what one of these fellows told a player as he left the field after his team lost. But we can imagine the conversation.

We grant there seems no logical way to stop this evil. It is simply up to an individual to decide for himself that he will make no wagers on a high school game.

Tough One To Lose

Playing in a sea of mud, the Brownsville Eagles lost a tough one to the Gladewater Bears, 6 to 0, at Brownsville last Friday night.

We think the score should have been 0-0 after watching the teams battle back and forth, slipping and sliding and handling a slick, muddy football.

Outside of one 33 yard run by a Gladewater back, there was no real offense shown by either team because of the condition of the field. The first down record shows that, the Eagles making six and Gladewater four.

As we saw the game, there were two factors that might be the real reason for Gladewater winning—the kicking of Murphy and the play of the two Bear guards. These two linemen played a good part of the game in the Brownsville backfield.

Gladewater's score came quickly, Murphy finding a hole and slipping through the middle of the line to go on over the goal. Incidentally it was the first time the Brownsville goal line has been crossed this season.

It was too bad the game couldn't have been played on a dry field. Somehow we believe it would have been a dilly between two evenly matched teams.

And we still think the score should have been 0-0.

The Big Push

Comes November and the peak of the year for Southwest Conference football. Three conference games—the maximum number possible—will be played on each of the next three Saturday afternoons.

Headliner for the immediate Saturday — Nov. 2 — is undoubtedly S.M.U. and Texas at Austin. Not since 1934 have the Longhorns managed to come out on the long end of the score against the Methodists. The Bible plan plans to call a halt to that habit.

The Texas Christian eleven comes back to Fort Worth for its first appearance at home in a month. Opposition will be furnished by T.C.U.'s ancient and honorable rival, the Baylor Bears. When Frogs and Bears mix it up on the gridiron, the result is unpredictable. But the Frogs do point out that the Bears won last year, and that it's T.C.U.'s time now.

The powerful Aggies draw the not-too-strong Arkansas Razorbacks in College Station. It would be the most majorest upset of the year for the visitors to do more than make a good showing against the Aggie strength.

Saturday will be recess for the Rice Owls. They meet Texas A. & I. at Houston in a night game.

Weems Piles Up Yardage At Houston

Bob Brumley Scores One Touchdown

By WILLIAM T. RIVES

HOUSTON —(AP)— Rice Institute, playing its grandest game of the young season, struck down the colors of unbeaten, untied Texas University Saturday, bursting loose in two terrific surges for a 13-0 victory.

The bonfire eager Rice students had built on the campus Friday night still smouldered as the Owls set out in their first Southwest Conference clash, underdogs against the league's leading grond-gainer.

Owls Strike Quickly

With shocking suddeness Rice showed it was no respecter of reputations, racing across for a touchdown in the first 4 1-2 minutes.

T. A. Weems, the tall Rockdale sophomore, who wrote his name indelibly on Rice's roll of honor Saturday, touched off the explosion.

Rice took the ball on a punt on its own 31, on the first play from scrimmage, Weems zig-zagged 41 yards on reverse around end to the Texas 28. Bob Brumley and Price shook the Texas line to the 6 and Brumley carried it over in three tries. Weems kicked the point.

The third period lasted only four plays before Rice scored again. Weems snuggled the kickoff and churned 56 yards downfield, finally being run out again on the Texas 29. Three plays later, from the 24, Brumley broke through the Longhorn forward wall and lateraled to Weems just as he was being tackled along the 10-yard line. Weems cut behind two tacklers and raced over. He failed on his conversion attempt.

Crain Stopped

Jack Crain, the wraith of Texas University, was just another ballplayer Saturday. His net gain in five tries was four yards, compared to Weems' 94 in 13 efforts.

Crain played about 26 minutes. He was injured in the Arkansas game last Saturday and did not suit up this week until Thursday. Coach Dana Bible apparently was content to use him no more.

Rice rolled up 201 yards rushing, holding Texas to a meek 94. The Longhorn, however, plucked 102 yards on Pete Layden's and R. L. Harkins' passes. Rice completed no passes but tried only three in view of its whacking success along the ground.

The starting lineups:

Rice	Pos.	Texas
Dewoody	LE	Sweeney
Hartman	LT	Williams
Goforth	LG	Dawson
Whitlow	C	Goodwin
Bassett	RG	Jungmichel
Heard	RT	Mauldin

Tulane Defeats North Carolina

CHAPEL HILL, N. C.—(AP)—A third string quarterback who entered the game in its closing minutes rushed through the line, blocked a North Carolina kick and helped Tulane to a 14-13 victory over the Tar Heels Saturday.

A homecoming crowd of 20,000 saw the contest in clear, hot weather.

The substitute quarterback was Tom Glass, a Tulane home town product from New Orleans. With the Green Wave trailing 13-7, with the ball in North Carolina's possession on Tulane's 43, with less than two minutes to play—he turned defeat into victory.

Knifing through North Carolina's line, Tom blocked a kick by Harry Dunkle. Albert Bodney of Gary, Ind. Tulane end, grabbed the ball on North Carolina's 45 and raced untouched into the end zone. Jimmy Thibaut, another New Orleans product, cooly booted the deciding extra point from placement.

NAVY 21; YALE 0

YALE BOWL, New Haven—(AP)—Undefeated Navy's power and deception gave it a well-earned 21 to 0 victory over Yale Saturday before 47,000 fans. Lenz and McTigue took touchdown passes while Cameron tallied on a brilliant 35 yard dash.

HUSKIES 7; BEARS 6

SEATTLE—(AP)—Washington came from behind in the fourth period to defeat hard-driving and stubborn California, 7 to 6, before 25,000 fans Saturday. California scored in the third quarter on a 56-yard touchdown run by Gene Pickett; then missed the extra point.

The Javelinas are strong in their class this season, but they'll be out of their class when they go up against Coach Jess Neeley's 1940 version of the Owls.

For the first time since the season opened, the week's grid bill offers no intersectional contest for a Southwest eleven. But there are several more to be played before the season ends.

T.C.U. meets Detroit at Detroit Nov. 9. Arkansas plays Fordham in New York City Nov. 21, and Texas contests with the University of Florida at Gainesville Dec. 7.

Hogs Come From Far Behind To Trim Ole Miss

Score 2 Touchdowns In Last Quarter

MEMPHIS, Tenn. —(AP)—Fighting a grim, uphill battle, Arkansas' valiant Porkers punched over a pair of Touchdowns in the final period to defeat a favored Ole Miss eleven 21-20 before approximately 12,000 roaring fans here Saturday.

Fullback Bob Forte, a 185-pound back from Lake Village, Ark., set up the winning touchdown, scooping in a partially blocked Rebel punt on the Ole Miss 37 and racing to the one. Jay Lawhon bulled over for the score and Simington kicked the vital extra point.

It was a bitter defeat for the unbeaten Bowl-minded Mississippians, seeking their fifth victory of the season. Fighting desperately in the last few seconds and sparked by their brilliant "H" boys, little Junie Hovious and Merle Hapes, Mississippi tried two field goals but had one blocked and the other fell short.

The "Passing Porkers" opened their bag of tricks five minutes after the game started. After working to the Rebel 14, Hamberg pitched to Ramsay for the score. Simington kicked the first of his three extra points.

The Rebels rallied and plowed through for a touchdown two minutes after the start of the second quarter. Little Junie set up the score with a pair of passes to Popp which carried to the Porker seven. In two tries Hapes crunched over. Hovious booted the extra point.

Minutes later, after Ole Miss again had battered into Arkansas territory, Hovious twisted through the line and ran 38 yards for the second score.

Most brilliant play of the game came on the third period opening kickoff when Les Dodson, a Columbus, Miss., boy, took the ball, and behind perfect interference, raced 90 yards for the third Rebel score. The try for extra point, which seemed unimportant at the time, was blocked.

Louisiana State Beats Vandy 7-0

BATON ROUGE, La. — (AP) — Louisiana State University unleashed a 40-yard scoring drive in the final period Saturday night to defeat Vanderbilt 7-0 before about 20,000 spectators for its first Southeastern Conference victory. Fumbles were frequent.

Louisiana State gained 164 net yards to Vandy's 43 and led 10 to 5 in first downs. The Louisiana forwards rushed the Commodore passers so hard and somthered them so often that in 16 attempts Vandy's net passing yardage was minus three.

As the third period ended Billy McKinney, third-string L.S.U. halfback, returned a punt 20 yards to Vandy's 40 and started the touchdown march. McKinney and Bob Kendrick, sub fullback, alternated through the line to bring it to the nine and Odell Weaver, reserve wingback, skirted left end on a reverse for the score.

Walter Barnes, big tackle, placekicked the extra point.

Bulldogs And Cards Attract Grid Fans

McALLEN—Gross receipts at the Harlingen-McAllen football game Friday night were $1,764.29, Supt. John H. Gregory announced.

The Harlingen school will receive 50 per cent of the net receipts, he said. Tickets cost 15 cents for grammar school students, 25 cents for junior and senior high school and 50 cents for adults.

POYAS 26; VIOLETS 0

NEW YORK — (AP) — Undefeated Georgetown gave a crowd of 11,000 New Yorkers a glimpse of greatness Saturday as it crushed New York University's Violets 26 to 0 to extend its string of 21 games without a setback. The Hoya regulars played in only two periods, but the victors scored in every period except the second.

Texas Tech Red Raiders Defeat Marquette 20-13

MILWAUKEE—(AP)—Charley Dvoracek, hard-driving Texas Tech fullback, dashed 24 yards in the closing minutes to score and give the Red Raiders a 20 to 13 victory over Marquette University in a spirited football game here Saturday before 8,000.

Dvoracek's dash was the second of two quick thrusts by the invaders in the final period. The first, a 30 yard dash by Roger Smith, took the ball to the Marquette 24 and from that point the fullback went over, smashing through the center of line, cutting sharply and outracing the Marquette secondary to score.

Marquette got the jump, scoring early in the game. Jimmy Richardson passed to Johnny Goodyear for 17 yards to the one yard line and Doug Renzel pushed it over. Goodyear added the point with a place kick.

The Raiders took the kickoff back 45 yards to the Marquette 42 and then marched from there to score. Dvoracek going over from the one. The extra point kick by McKnight was wide.

Tech took the lead early in the second period on a 45 yard touchdown pass, from Storres to McKnight and this time McKnight kicked the point. Marquette fought back into a tie when Richardson climaxed a 60 yard advance by circling end for 34 yards and a touchdown. The place kick failed.

Marquette missed two scoring chances in the third period when it was stopped on the two yard line and on the seven.

Tulsa U. Trims Horned Frogs In Tight Grid Tilt

Golden Hurricane Scores Early

By BEN FUNK

TULSA, Okla.—(AP)—An inspired University of Tulsa football team smashed the famous Texas Christian University aerial attack Saturday and launched a vicious running and passing offensive of its own to score a startling 7-0 upset victory before 10,800 Homecoming Day fans at Skelly Field.

The Golden Hurricane, in the season's greatest demonstration of speed and power, stunned the Horned Frogs with a touchdown thrust in the first three minutes of the game and protected the lead by dominating all phases of play for the remainder of the afternoon.

Fifteen-yard penalties for holding stopped two Tulsa drives inside the T.C.U. ten yard line and a third march which carried to the seven yard stripe failed to produce a score when Halfback Roy Buffalo's attempt for a field goal went wide.

Texas Christian tried desperately to tie the score in the fading moments of the second period but the timekeeper's gun sounded with the ball six yards from the Hurricane goal.

Glenn Dobbs, Tulsa's great kicker, gave the crowd one of its biggest thrills with a mighty 70-yard boot that went out of bounds on the Frog one-yard line and paved the way for the game-winning touchdown.

Halfback Jimmy Vickers took the return punt on the 38 and raced back to the 23. On third down, Dobbs passed to Vickers on the one-yard line and as two tacklers smashed him down hard he fell with the ball inches across the goal. End Bill Grimmett's kick from placement connected beautifully for the extra point.

The Horned Frogs completed 16 passes out of 28 attempts but many of them gained only a yard or two as the alert Tulsa secondary smashed the receivers down in their tracks.

Altogether, T.C.U. gained 90 yards with its aerial game, while the Hurricane, with seven completions out of 15 tries, piled up 98 yards.

Tulsa also outgained the Frogs on running plays, 122 yards to 103, and held a decisive edge in kicking with an average of 46.44 yards per kick to 38.12 for Texas Christian.

Texas Aggies Win Over Game Baylor Bears 14-7

By FELIX R. McKNIGHT

WACO—(AP)—The growing Texas A. and M. snowball flattened gallant, geared-up Baylor Saturday, 14-7, tumbling to its sixteenth straight triumph in one of the stoutest tests of the Aggies long string.

Hobbled at critical moments by the famed Baylor line, the Cadets drew deeply on their power, experience and passing game to build a two-touchdown lead that withstood Baylor's last minute surge.

Battered, weary, the screams of 20,000 fans beating their ears the last 20 minutes, the Aggies were glad to leave Municipal Stadium and a Baylor team that had been pointing for them since the playing date was announced months ago.

Aggies Pushed

The Aggies outgained and outscored the Baylors, but they had to fire All-America John Kimbrough, big Jim Thomason, Marion Pugh's aerial darts and their great line for 60 minutes to get on the winning side. The Aggies swept to 263 yards on a slightly slippery field, 155 of it from running, while Baylor rolled up 145 yards.

The first down margin went to the big red touchdown machine, 14 to six, and many times they lost scoring opportunities on their own errors and Baylor's valiant stands, but still they had to scramble to stifle Baylor in the last period.

Only one minute remained when the Aggies finally got the situation under control again. Then, on Kimbrough's battering forays outside the tackles, they were sweeping ahead down on the Baylor 13 yard line as the game ended.

Dwight Parks' meek kick-back that sailed out on the Baylor 40 started proceedings. Kimbrough and Conatser jabbing the tackles and skirting the ends, took turns about upsetting the Bruins. Just as Baylor's line girded down on their four for some of Kimbrough's bull rushing, Conatser tailed out around left end for the score, untouched. Pugh kicked the point.

Parks started connecting with passes to Witt that gained 22 and 11 yards in a drive that started from the Baylor 32 and ended in futility on the last play before the half when Odell Herman, Aggie center, intercepted on his own five and dashed 32 yards before smashed out of bounds.

Pass Nets Score

The second Aggie score came deep in the third period after Baylor had them back from the five yard line on Moser's fumble. Back on the Baylor 45, where Witt's kick settled, reserve back Marland Jeffrey spun a 15-yard pass that sophomore Bill Henderson, a gangling, six foot, six inch end, grabbed and took across on a beautiful sprint. Jake Webster kicked the point.

A 40-yard runback of a kickoff by Jim Witt, a grand ball carrier and leader, started the Bruins on their touchdown sally. With the ball on the Baylor 40, he started passing to Sophomore Jack Russell and Milton Crain, finally working down to the Aggie 29. Tiny Dwight Parks took over the chunking there and lofted a 15-yarder that Witt bagged at the 14 and took across for the score.

Tri-City Bears Wallop San Benito Hounds 20-6

PHARR— Scoring touchdowns in the first, second and third quarters, the Pharr-San Juan-Alamo Bears defeated the San Benito Greyhounds, 20 to 6, in a non-conference game here Saturday night. The game, postponed from Thursday night, drew a large crowd of fans.

In the opening quarter, the Bears recovered a San Benito fumble on the 20-yard line and pushed to the four from where Donnie Clark plunged over for a touchdown. He added a point by the same tactics. Taking the ball on the San Benito 48-yard stripe in the second period, Joe Tanner, Earl Pierce and Bud Robie combined forces to move to the San Benito 10 and Robie then went over for the second six-pointer of the game. The try for the extra point failed. Just before the first half ended, Pierce got away for a 60-yard scamper and crossed the goal but the play was called back and the Bears penalized for clipping.

Another drive in the third quarter gave the Bears their third touchdown, Robie going over from the three-yard line. Pierce added a point with a place kick.

The Greyhounds took to the air in the fourth quarter and with their passes clicking picked up 40 yards and a touchdown. Fox passed to Littlepage who went over the goal for San Benito's lone touchdown of the game. The try for the point failed. The Bears were held in check in the final stanza by the Greyhounds who never quit fighting.

The Bears chalked up 20 first downs to five for the Greyhounds.

Wildcats Claw Kansas 20 To 0

MANHATTAN, Kan.— (AP) —The Kansas State Wildcats did a businesslike job of disposing of Kansas University, 20 to 0, Saturday in the annual grudge battle to settle Kansas gridiron supremacy.

The Wildcats running attack rolled freely and their determined defense choked every Jayhawk scoring threat. Kansas State's Kent Duwe roared through the opening which the superior Kansas State line punched in the K-U forward wall and traveled exactly 140 yards on the ground during the afternoon. His average per try was 4.3 yards.

Ray Rokey, who replaced the Wildcat ace, Chris Langvardt, when the latter was injured, caught Duwe's pass for the initial touchdown and broke away for several nice gains during the game. In the first quarter he traveled 39 yards on a reverse.

Many 'Top' Teams Fall By Wayside

Undefeated-Untied List Shrinks

By HERB BARKER

NEW YORK—(AP)—Football form took a terrific drubbing Saturday as Fordham, Texas, Mississippi, Columbia, Southern California and Penn dropped off the unbeaten list, and upsets were the rule all along the line.

Still undefeated and untied when the firing was over for the day were Cornell, Navy, Georgetown, Boston College, Penn State and Lafayette in the east; Michigan, Notre Dame, Minnesota, Northwestern and Detroit in the Mid West; the Texas Aggies in the Southwest; Tennessee and Clemson in the South; and Stanford in the Far West.

All-America Tom Harmon paced Michigan to a decisive 14-0 victory over Penn, scoring one touchdown on a 19-yard sprint and passing to end Ed Frutig for the other. A crowd of 60,000 saw Penn's ace, Frank Reagan, shackled all the day.

Fordham Loses

Fordham bowed to St. Mary's of California, 9-6, on Joe Aguirre's fourth period field goal; Mississippi surrendered to Arkansas' great fourth quarter surge, 21-20; Texas, with Jack Crain unable to get going, fell before Rice, 13-0; Columbia was topped by Syracuse, 3-0 when Leland (Buck) Morris drop-kicked a field goal in the last 40 seconds.

Cornell spotted Ohio State a touchdown and then came back to rout the Buckeyes, 21-7, before a record Ithaca crowd of 34,500. Lou Bufalino scored twice in the last quarter to salt the decision and run Cornell's unbeaten streak to 16 games.

A crowd of 63,186, biggest at Champagne in 11 years, looked on as Notre Dame, boasting its finest team in years, rolled over Illinois 26-0 with Steve Juzwik counting twice.

Navy, Georgetown, Boston College, Lafayette and Penn State, the other unbeaten Eastern outfits, won decisively. Georgetown ran its unbeaten streak to 21 games with 26-0 rout of New York University. Navy hammered Yale into submission, 21-0; Lafayette knocked over hapless Army, 19-0; Penn State ran up an 18-0 count on Temple, and Boston College spilled St. Anselm's, 55-0.

Dartmouth surprised with a 7-6 decision over Harvard and Brown's 9-6 victory over Holy Cross also was cause for eyebrow-lifting. Princeton handed Rutgers its first defeat, 28-13 and Wesleyan defeated Amherst, in an upset, 14-6, in the first game of the Little Three series.

Gophers Show Power

Minnesota turned loose all its power and trampled Iowa, 34-6, before 63,000 as George Franck scored four touchdowns. Northwestern, with Bill De Correvont on the sidelines because of an ankle sprain, had to come from behind to stop Indiana, 20-7. Wisconsin pulled a surprise by beating Purdue, 14-13, in a lively duel that saw all four touchdowns scored in the final quarter.

Michigan State and Santa Clara played to a scoreless draw but Texas Tech outpointed Marquette, 20-13.

Form held fast in the Big Six where Nebraska was too powerful for Missouri and won, 20-7; Oklahoma subdued Iowa Satte, 20-7, and Kansas State tripped Kansas, 20-0.

The Texas Aggies needed to call on every resource at their command to turn back Baylor's Bears, 14-7, and remain unbeaten through their 16th successive game. Texas Christian dropped a surprise 7-0 decision to Tulsa.

Tennessee had to shake Bill Nowling and Buist Warren loose for two long runs to defeat Florida, 14-0. Georgia Tech came a cropper against Auburn's fine team, 16-7 in another Southeastern Conference fray.

Al Rodney's 45-yaard touchdown run after a blocked kick and the ensuing extra point gave Tulane a 14-13 decision over North Carolina.

Duke's Southearn Conference hopefuls walloped Wake Forest, 23-0, but upsets were general in that sector otherwise. Richmond toopped Virginia Military, 9-7, and Virginia Tech trounched Washington and Lee 21-0. Furman ran up a 40-7 count on Davidson. William and Mary surprised with a 13-6 decision over non-conference Virginia.

Standford's amazing Indians pushed over two touchdowns in the final quarter and walloped Southern California, 21-7, to remain the lone unbeaten, untied team in the Far West. It was Southern California's first defeat although the Trojans had been tied twice.

Washington had to come from behind to nip fighting California' 7-6; Oregon State gave U.C.L.A. another beating, 7-0; and Oregon surprised by holding Washington State to a 6-6 draw.

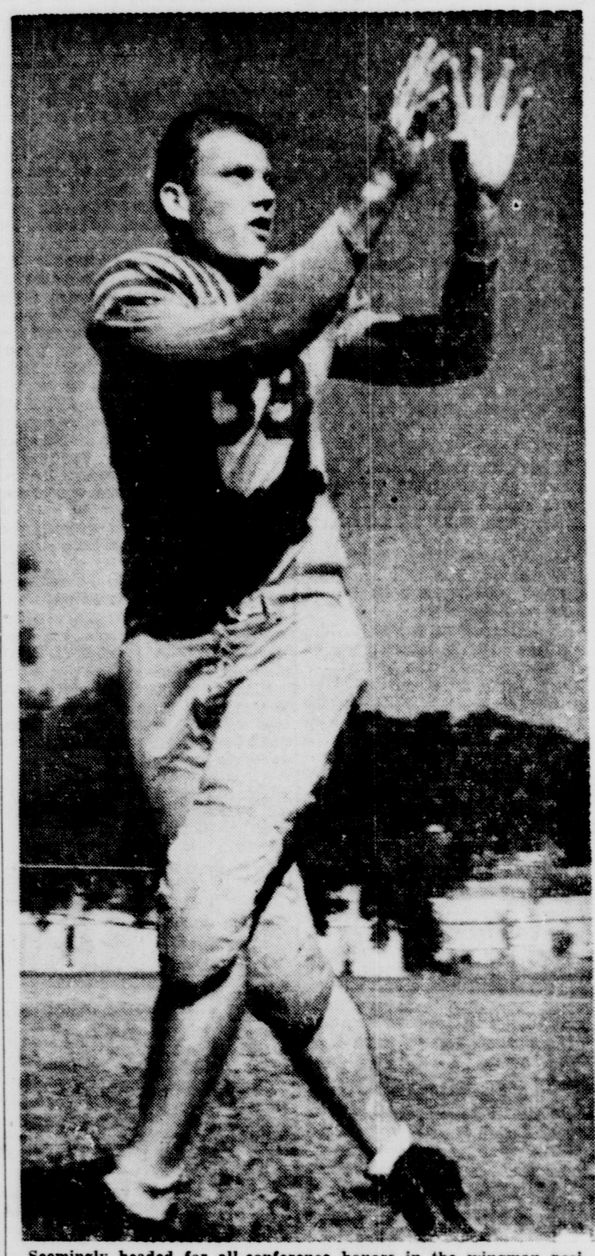
Utah threw the Rocky Mountain Big Seven into an uproar with a 25-14 defeat of Denver. Colorado romped over Wyoming 62-0.

BROWN 9; HOLY CROSS 6

PROVIDENCE, R. I.—(AP)—Brown defeated Holy Cross here Saturday afternoon, 9 to 6. A first period field goal by Ernie Savignano and a fourth period touchdown by Andy High, climaxing a 67-yard march brought Brown's scores. Holy Cross scored on the last play of the first half on a Natawich to Roberts pass that traveled 60 yards.

There are more than 190,000 railway bridges in the United States.

Bobcat Captain



Seemingly headed for all-conference honors in the wingman position is powerful Woodrow (Truck) Isham of Weslaco, captain of the 1940 Bobcat squad. Besides figuring heavily in the Bobcat pass offensive with his capable pass-snagging, Isham has consistently played a rugged, almost impregnable defensive game for the Bobcats for the past three years.

Sooners Post 20-7 Win Over Fighting Cyclones

By L. E. SKELLEY

AMES, Ia. — (AP) — Oklahoma's Sooners, big strapping fellows from the Southwest, had to use all their power here Saturday to pull through a 20-to-7 victory over a hard-fighting band of Iowa State Cyclones.

The gallant Cyclones, battling to please a home-coming crowd of 14,000 fans who sat in an uncomfortably warm October sun, fought on almost even terms with Oklahoma until late in the fourth period when rip-roaring Johnny Martin broke their hearts with a 53-yard touchdown dash.

Martin's scoot through the left side of the Iowa State line and down through the secondary provided the Sooners with their second straight Big Six triumph.

Until then, however, Big Hank Wilder and Company had the Sooners hustling all the way and it might have been an entirely different story if Big Hank hadn't lost an apparent touchdown with the score tied in the third period.

Wilder grabbed a flat pass on the Iowa State 48 and dodged his way through the entire Oklahoma team for a 52-yard sprint. Iowa State homecomers moaned, however, when the play was called back because of a clipping penalty.

The cyclones threatened on various occasions and once had a rally choked off by the big Sooners on the one-yard line.

Oklahoma, with slippery Jack Jacobs, the triple-threat Indian flash, and Martin providing the spark, drove 65 yards for a touchdown in the first quarter, Martin finishing the powerhouse attack with a one-yard plunge. Jack Haberlein came off the bench to kick the extra point and Oklahoma led, 7 to 0.

The Sooners didn't hold that advantage long, the Cyclones coming right back to knot the count.

Wilder, an in-an-outer who definitely was "in" Saturday, grabbed a toss from Larry Owens and rambled 32 yards for the touchdown. Paul Darling kicked the extra point to tie the score.

There were several scoring threats by both teams before Oklahoma finally cracked the deadlock late in the third quarter with another long drive. The Sooners, mixing passes with power, ripped 64 yards for a touchdown, Jacobs taking the ball over on a plunge from the 4-yard mark. Harberlein again did his extra point kicking stunt and Oklahoma led, 14 to 7.

Bill Jennings set up the final Oklahoma touchdown by intercepting a pass to give the Sooners the ball on their 43. They picked up four more yards and then Martin dashed off with his game-clinching run.

The lineups:

Oklahoma	Pos.	Iowa State
Jennings	LE	McCraw
Eason	LT	Happe
Harris	LG	Smith

Franck Scores Four Touchdowns

MINNEAPOLIS — (AP) — Scoring four touchdowns, George Franck helped Minnesota's Golden Gophers to a 34 to 6 victory Saturday over Iowa before 63,000 homecoming fans.

The sturdy Huskies from the corn state put up a great fight, but the Minnesota crusher got them. It got them along with two second period touchdawns that found the speedy Franck snatching long passes from Bruce Smith.

Iowa got into Minnesota's territory only once. A fumble was recovered by Iowa on the Minnesota 33 in the first period. Bender passed 12 yards to Gilleard. Bill Green lost six trying to pass. With the Minnesota defense scattered for another flip, Green darted through a big hole at center, cut to his left, hit the sidelines and ran 27 yards for a touchdown.

Tarpon Strikin'

DEL MAR—Fishing in the surf and from the South jetties perked up quite a bit here the past few days with tarpon, shark and croakers getting the attention of anglers.

Harry A. Wagner and daughter, Martha Louise, of Sherman landed two silver kings from the jetties, one Friday and the other Saturday The daughter outfished her father by landing a seven-foot shark.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Duemler of Dallas have been trying their hands at tarpon and Mrs. Duemler, a former Valley Fishing Rodeo champion, lost one Saturday after quite a battle using light tackle.

Water and weather conditions were expected to be good Sunday.

WILCATS 20; HOOSIERS 7

EVANSTON, Ill.—(AP)—A fourth period surge of two touchdowns gave undefeated Northwestern a 20 to 7 victory over Indiana Saturday before 40,000 spectators.

Out O' Doors

Wildlife As A Crop

AUSTIN — Wildlife on farms in the wooded areas of East Texas is worth $140.81 in food for the farmer, his family and part of his stock, a survey, one of several to be made by the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission, discloses, according to the executive secretary In addition, insectivorous birds do far more good in capturing insects which destroy crops.

Squirrels rank fire in importance in many sections of East Texas. The survey, made in Wood County, shows. Families kill on an average of 154 squirrels per year. At 35 cents per squirrel this totals $53 a year. Each family catches an average of 153 pounds of fish, which, at 20 cents is worth $30. Of families questioned, 31.5 per cent trap furbearers, earning $30 a year.

Rabbits, opossums, ducks, quail, doves and various fruits made into preserves, make up the remainder of the natural reources used by the average farm family. The total of $140.81 does not take into consideration that 36.7 per cent of the farmers own an average of 18.47 hogs that feed on acron meat, nor of timber used on the farm.

Various other methods of turning natural resources into income were found in the survey. The evergreen spineless greenbriar with red fruit from Wood county was used to fill a $1,000 contract for the decoration of buildings at the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show.

One farmer, with a six-acre lake near Gilmer earned from $17 to $25 an acre each of the four years since the lake was constructed. He charges 50 cents per day. None of the other acres on his farm yield as much easy cash.

More Ducks This Year

Texans will have an opportunity to shoot at from 20 to 30 percent more ducks this year than last, according to surveys by state and federal biologists. The U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service biologists who travel the flyways from far north to as far south as Cuba estimate there will be from 20 to 30 percent more migratory waterfowl in the Lone Star State this year.

There were a large number of ducks and geese in Texas, especially on the coast, last year, but poor hunting weather held down the total kill. Sportsmen are fervently hoping for colder weather this year.

Into The Stomach Of the Whale

Many peculiarities are found among animals, reptiles and insects, although few are witnessed except by persons interested in nature study. When spiders bite each other's legs off, new legs grow back. The black widow spider eats her mate and makes herself a widow. A snake recently ate another one, but the "victim" didn't die, as was witnessed by a group of Texans, according to the Fredericksburg Standard.

Emil Petsch, Pete Weber and Harold Puhl came upon a coach whip and another snake fighting viciously. One snake measured about five feet in length and the other about three feet. The large snake finally started swallowing the other. The smaller snake was eaten head first, but when two-thirds of it had been consumed the men used rocks to kill the larger snake. They thought they had also killed the smaller one, but were amazed when the three-footer crawled all the way into the large snake, turned around and emerged head first, unharmed.

Waterfowl Food Varies

Ducks eat a large variety of food, as is attested by the fact that thirty different kinds of food were found in the crops of 101 ducks taken last winter from four lakes in northeast Texas, according to a biologist's report to the executive secretary of the Texas Game Department. The plant menu is typical of practically every county in East Texas. All the plants can be transplanted and the practice is recommended to persons desiring to improve lakes for waterfowl.

Acorns head the list of food eaten by ducks in northeast Texas. Corms, chiefly sagittaria, is second and watershield is third. Among the other foods are snails, insects, curstacea and pondwood.

Plans furnishing cover as well as food are sedges, butterwillow, and various smartweeds.

Rattler Eats Squirrels

That rattlesnakes do considerable damage to the wildlife of Texas, as well as aiding farmers by eating rodents, is evidenced by the fact that a six-foot rattler was killed recently in Tyler County contained a full-grown squirrel freshly killed and another squirrel partly digested.

New Mexico Normal Beats Wayland 18-7

SANTA FE, N. M.—(AP)—Coach Stu Clark's New Mexico Normal University Cowboys chalked up their second win of the season here Saturday, trouncing the Wayland College Jackrabbits of Plainview, Tex., 18-7.

The game played on a neutral field, was a feature of the New Mexico Educational Association convention.

The Cowboys got their first touchdown in the opening moment of play, when they recovered a fumble by Milford Dendy, Wayland back, on the eight yard line and scored on a pass from Halfback George Clark to Quarterback Madison.

Late in the same period, O. Robinson, sub halfback, plunged four yards for the second Normal score.

Wayland's score came in the second quarter, on a short pass to Leon Tate, who completed another pass for the extra point.

Little All-American

"Anybody who can stay in a game against the Texas Aggies for 60 minutes is good enough for All-American," one sports authority commented recently. Anybody who, in a game with the Texas Aggies, can share the spotlight with "Jarrin' Jahn Kimbrough" while staying his 60 minutes is certainly worthy of that honor. Big Stuart Clarkson, little Texas A. & I.'s greatest contribution to football, was mentioned in every dispatch going out from the A. & I.-A. & M. game September 26. And when the center on any squad can consistently make the news, he must be spectacular.

But the A. & M. game was not Clarkson's initial bow into football fame. After he and his teammates had dumped the favored San Jose Spartans the week before, Spartan coach veteran Pop Warner had called Clarkson good enough to make any team in the country. And last year, as a sophomore, Clarkson had go into the headlines on several occasions one of which was when he almost single handed stopped the vaunted aerial of the Canyon Buffaloes to secure for his team a tie for the Alamo Conference crown. Clarkson personally broke up 21 passes that afternoon, and was in on most of the rest of the 57 thrown by by Buffaloes' famous Flippin' Foster Watkins.

Clarkson was about the only Javelina who could stop Kimbrough cold, as he did several time. And he is one of the few Aggie opponents of the season who have been able to hit Kimbrough and be the first on his feet after the impact.

Clarkson is big and fast and tough, and was a 60 minute man in every game last season. At the close of the year he received almost all of the 60 votes cast for all-Alamo Conference center. Co-captain this year of the A. & I. Javelinas, Clarkson has been a major factor in the Hogs' record of this year, stopping three teams with undefeated records: San Jose with a 13 game winning streak, and San Marcos and Sam Houston with three wins and no defeats each.

He weighs 200 pounds, is 6 feet 2 inches tall, and never considers himself out of any play until the ball is dead. He is 20 years old. The last part of the whole picture, from the standpoint of Coach A. Y. McCallum is that he has another year of eligibility.

Harmon Paces Wolverines To 14-0 Win Over Penn

By GAYLE TALBOT

ANN HARBOR, Mich. — (AP) — Michigan's great Tommy Harmon raced 19 yards to one touchdown and passed 15 to a teammate for another to lead the Wolverines to a 14 to 0 victory over Pennsylvania before 60,000 impressed fans Saturday.

Any doubts the Michigan star would retain the All-America laurels accorded him last season were erased as he turned in one of the most brilliant performances of his career against the previously undefeated Quakers. By scoring a touchdown and kicking two extra points, Harmon ran his tital points for five games to 87 and left his most prominent rival, Frank Reagan of Penn, far in the rear.

The heralded duel between Reagan and Harmon never did develop. The diminutive Penn ace neither could pass nor run to advantage against the stout Michigan defense, and he was jerked from the game by Coach George Munger early in the final period.

The best Reagan could do was toss a couple of 11-yard passes, and his longest run from scrimmage was seven yards. Harmon, in addition to his two scoring plays, streaked through and around the Penn line for gains of 23, 17, 14, 14 and 12 yards, and completed two other long passes of 24 and 14 yards. In addition, his kicking was splendid. He was, in a word, terrific.

Michigan scored its touchdowns in the first and third periods. Penn lumbered down as far as Michigan's two-yard line at the start of the final quarter, but couldn't score through the bunched Wolverine defense.

Nebraska Huskers Hand Missouri 20-7 Drubbing

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

LINCOLN, Neb. —(AP)— Introducing Mr. Harry Hopp, father of a 10-day old son and work horse of the University of Nebraska football team in Saturday's 20 to 7 Big Six victory over Missouri.

You won't find the name of this stolid, black-haired Husker halfback in the scoring summary but he did everything else. He blasted through the Missouri line, twisted around the Tiger ends, passed for a touchdown and punted.

The reason the 21 year old junior didn't score in this battle of the bandages that attracted more than 38,000 homecoming fans—largest outpouring ever to see a Big Six contest—was that Roy Petsch forsook his old job of blocking to gambol 53 yards for the first Husker tally. It was a double reverse, Vike Francis to Walt Luther to Petsch, that brought the touchdown.

Then Herman Rohrig shook off the arnica and doctor's wrapping long enough to hoist two consecutive passes to Luther for a total of 48 yards and a second marker. In the final period Hopp tossed to Luther for the third touchdown.

For 58 minutes Paul Christman and his Missouri mates were stymied by the tough Huskers, who were determined that there would be no third consecutive victory for the Tigers.

Missouri got some consolation—in the first conference defeat for them since late in 1938—when Ted Leibig, sub guard, added the extra point. It was the first successful try in 11 attempts for the Tigers.

The starting lineup:

Missouri	Pos.	Nebraska
Lister	LE	Preston
Wakeman	LT	R. Kahler
Schultz	LG	Schwartzkopf
Jenkins	C	Burrus
Ellis	RG	Alfson
Landers	RT	Behm

Score by periods:

Missouri	0	0	0	7— 7
Nebraska	7	7	0	6—20

Nebraska scoring: Touchdowns, Petsch, Luther 2. Points from try after touchdown Francis 2 (placements).

Cornell Wallops Ohio State 21-7

ITHACA, N. Y. — (AP) — Cornell's fine football team had to come from behind Saturday to keep its record intact, but was tremendously impressive in doing so as it walloped Ohio State 21-7, in the Big Red's first and only intersectional game of the year.

In its first three games this season, Cornell was able to get off in front and keep rolling. But Saturday afternoon, before a capacity crowd of 34,500 in Schoellkopf Stadium, the Ithacans were rocked back on their heels by the Buckeyes' powerful opening drive, yet had poise, power and all-around proficiency enough to make it a runaway in the second half.

Almost any other team might have been thrown completely off stride by the 89-yard scoring march Ohio State put on the first time it got the ball.

But not this team, now unbeaten in 16 straight games. Cornell came back to go 47 yards for the tying touchdown in the second quarter, and in the second half not only throttled the Ohio State attack down to 44 yards but drove 61 yards once, to go out in front and capitalized on a break for the final score.

North Texas Wins Over Sam Houston

HUNTSVILLE—(AP)—Three quick passes by the injured Johnny Riola and a placekick by Nace Formagus Saturday gave North Texas Teachers a 7-6 victory over Sam Houston State Teachers.

Riola, benched because of a leg injury, was rushed into the game in the third period when North Texas recovered a fumble on the Sam Houston 23. He flipped an 8-yard pass to Riggs, then a five yard pass, and then a 10-yarder that left end Covin snared in the end zone. Place kicker Formagus was rushed into the game and converted the extra point.

TARTANS 14; CASE 0

PITTSBURGH—(AP)—Crippled and twice beaten, Carnegie's Tech's once mighty Tartans won their second football game of the season Saturday by shutting out Case School of Applied Science of Cleveland 14-0 before a slim crowd of 5,000 in Pitt Stadium.

AUBURN 16; GEORGIA TECH 7

ATLANTA—(AP)— A hard-smacking Auburn team slapped down Georgia Tech's Southeastern Conference title hopes Saturday by walloping the Engineers, 16-7, before 25,000 fans.

OREGON STATE WINS

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Oregon State defeated the University of California at Los Angeles on a soggy field, 7-0, in a Pacific Coast Conference football game Saturday. Attendance was 25,000.

Furious British Counter-Offensive Pounds French Coastal Areas

NAZI SHIPPING ATTACKED ON WIDE SECTION

New Long Range Gun Is Bombed

By The Associated Press

LONDON — The Channel area resounded Saturday with a furious British counter-offensive and great columns of smoke rose in the clear, bleak air above the Nazi-held French coast from areas set aflame by British bombs.

Nazi shipping was attacked within sight of watchers on the English shore—a German convoy was heavily bombed by RAF squadrons and it appeared that at least one vessel had been hard hit—and English coastal batteries bombarded a covey of eight German torpedo boats which maneuvered along the French shore.

New Gun Raided

Across the Dover Strait, British pilots went into heavy action against a new long range gun brought up by the Nazis alongside their sixth battery near Cap Gris Nez.

All this—a visual evidence to the people of coastal England of the heightening tempo of the British counter-attack — followed assaults in which the RAF had winged afar over Nazi territory, spreading bombs inland in Germany and over hundreds of miles of the Nazi front.

One of the most important objectives thus attacked, in raids of Friday night and early Saturday morning, was the vital German naval base at Kiel, where shipbuilding yards were declared to have been left in flames.

Nazi Ports Fired

Fires were set off, too, the air ministry reported, in the docks at the ports of Bremen and Cuxhaven; Hamburg again was "heavily bombed."

The aerial bombardment of Kiel —one of the high spots in raids extended from the Baltic to the Channel coast of France and inland to the German industrial Ruhr district—were declared by the ministry to have lasted nearly two hours and "widespread damage" to docks, warehouses, and shipping as well was claimed.

Boulogne, among the other Nazi-held ports assaulted, still was overhung by smoke Saturday afternoon as was Cap Gris Nez, site of heavy German artillery. Bombed, too, as they had been so often before, the ministry said, were the Dutch harbors of Amsterdam and Den Helder—the latter an old Dutch naval base—and the Belgian ports of Ostend and Antwerp.

Hundreds Play At Hallowe'en Carnival Saturday

7 Jockeys Testify To Pulling Horses

SAN MATEO, Calif.—(AP)—California's biggest horse race scandal in years came to light Saturday with testimony of seven jockeys before the state racing board that they had accepted money from a San Francisco gambler for "pulling" horses at four major tracks.

The jockeys, appearing before the board as sworn witnesses, were named by Board Chairman Jerry Giesler as Leonard Scott of Sabinal, Tex., Steve Packer of Sparks, Nev., Thomas Mansor of Lawrence, Mass., Ellis Gray of Thatcher, Ida., Gus Dye of Boise, Ida., W. F. Ward of Wichita, Kas., and Freddie Miller of Salt Lake City.

All seven were suspended after sensational testimony that Bernard Mooney, identified as a bookmaker and gambler, paid them off with bribes of $100 and $200, depending on the race odds, for holding their horses back.

"I don't blame these boys," Giesler declared, "Mooney is the real culprit. He is not the type wanted around California tracks."

Geisler, an attorney from Los Angeles, recommended that Mooney, alias Einstoss of Los Angeles, be prosecuted on charges of conspiracy to commit theft, actual theft, and contributing to the delinquency of minors. Many of the jockeys are under legal age.

Hundreds Of German Fliers Wage Bomber Attack On Britain

BERLIN (Sunday)—(AP)—Several hundred German fighters and bombers, a force described by informed sources as "unusually strong," attacked England Saturday night and early today, it was reported here. They were said to have taken off from bases ranging from France to Norway and carried bombs weighing up to two tons.

Informed sources said six British planes were shot down and two German planes were missing after an "uninterrupted series of attacks on England and her capital" Saturday. These circles claimed effective hits were scored.

Chinese Deny Bombs Stop Burma Traffic

SHANGHAI (Sunday)—(AP)—Dispatches from Chungking said today that traffic still is flowing over the recently reopened Burma Road despite Japanese claims of having destroyed bridges.

Reports from Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's capital said that even if bridges were damaged Chinese authorities already had prepared for such emergencies by placing extra ferries and bridge replacement material at all important river crossings along the vital road from British Burma.

WILLKIE RAPS HATE POLICY

List Credits For New Deal 'Rule'

NEW YORK — (AP) — Republican Presidential Nominee Wendell L. Willkie charged Saturday night the doctrine of the New Deal was "divide and rule."

"Our doctrine is the doctrine of unite and serve," he said in an address at a rally at Jamaica high school, Long Island.

Asserting that there had been formed in recent years "groups with special hatreds — racial, religious and political hatreds," Willkie accused the New Deal of undertaking to "govern America by playing off each of these groups against the other."

Labor vs. Capital

"It has encouraged labor to fight capital and encouraged capital to attack labor," the candidate said. "It has even encouraged labor to fight labor.

"It has created the farm problem as a separate problem, as if the farmers were somewhere on an island by themselves.

Communist Dupes

"It has kept in Washington, on our payroll, men who do not believe in our form of government—Communists and near-Communists and neo-Communists and pseudo-Communists and their dupes.

"It has divided our youth from us by preaching the doctrine that America can no longer grow."

That, said Willkie, was "the issue between the New Deal and the cause I represent."

Visits Fair

The nominee spent a busy day in New York, where he arrived shortly after noon. He went to the New York World's Fair, where his open car moved at a five-mile-an-hour pace between crowds lining the roadways.

After speaking there and later driving through lanes of applauding spectators in Times Square, he attended the Fordham-St. Mary's football game at the Polo Grounds. He scheduled two talks Saturday night on Long Island and two in Brooklyn.

Raids On London Increased By Nazi Bombers Saturday

By The Associated Press

LONDON (Sunday)—Fire bombs and high explosives, falling from as many as four and five bombers at a time, splattered over wide areas of London early today as Nazi raiders stepped up the pace of their 50th successive night of air attack.

The raiders' return at dusk after seven daylight stabs yesterday put the capital under eight air raid alarms during the day—a number never exceeded in a like period and only twice equalled since the start of the aerial siege.

Although London apparently still bore the brunt of the German bombardment, Liverpool reported night raiders attempting vainly to break throug' its ring of anti-aircraft fire and southwest Scotland had a second straight night of air attack. The Midlands also were raided.

One brief lull in the attack on London ended when raiders slipped past the capital's outer barrage and dropped incendiaries and earthshake explosives. The missiles fell in groups of eight and ten at one time.

Fire engines raced through the streets to fires which were rapidly extinguished.

A movie audience in the southeast town was watching news reel shots of Captain Robert Davies, who became a hero in removing a time bomb from the vicinity of St. Paul's Cathedral in London.

"There's no need for me to talk to you about bombs," the reflection was saying on the screen when bombs fell outside the theatre. The audience laughed.

STATE JOBS GAIN SHOWN

Non - Farm Laborers Increased 16,000

WASHINGTON —(AP)— A report prepared by the Labor Department showed 979,000 persons were employed in non-agricultural establishments in Texas last September, an increase of 16,000 over the preceding month and a gain of 7,000 or .8 per cent over September, 1939.

Nearly all states, the report said, shared in a total increase of 600,000 jobs in non-agricultural industries between August and September, bringing the total employed in non-agricultural industries in September to 36,000,000.

The report showed the employment gains were fairly well distributed over the major geographic areas, although the east north central and south Atlantic regions showed the largest increases.

The figures for Texas are for employes only, and do not cover properties, self-employed persons, domestic servants, persons employed on WPA or NYA projects, or CCC enrollees.

McALLEN—Four pledges, Laura Lee Peavey, Eleaine Womack, Jerry Posey and Madelyn, were initiated into the Beta Chapter of Nu Phi Mu Sorority Thursday night when the members gave a formal dinner at the Casa de Palmas Hotel.

This 'n That

PLANTING fever is still spreading among Valley citizens and the majority are having a second or third attack.

Not only is interest in both permanent plantings and in flower seed more widespread that the Valley has ever witnessed, but the urge to get things growing seems to have come earlier this season.

It's all probably the result of the missionary work the garden club women and their friends have been carrying out ever since they landed the state garden club convention for the Valley next March.

FOLKS interested in the California type of bougainvillea, Brazilensis, may see some of the blossoms now on West Pierce street.

The flowers are larger and more vivid that the purple variety that is so widely planted in the Valley, and some folks are predicting the Brazilensis will some day outdistance all the others in popularity.

HOW to name the colorful orange-yellow flowers so gorgeous now and so appropriate to Hallowe'en has us a bit puzzled, but Mrs. G. W. Johnson, beloved in a dozen circles for as many reasons, has offered us a miscellany of names and we've about decided upon the spelling "tabachin."

It is variously written as "tavasheen," "bird of paradise," and "poinciana" in descriptions of decorations in the society section. Otnernames sometimes used are Barbados-pride, and peacock flower.

Of course, as Mrs. Johnson pointed out, the real bird of paradise is Strelitzia Reginaea, an extraordinary appearing blossom in orange and blue, still rare in the Valley but to be found in the gardens of some of the experts.

It's our information that this plant with the regal name will not grow farther from the coastline than 20 miles.

MRS. Johnson gives the correct botanical name for the common tabachin, with the peculiarly pungent foliage, as "Caesalpinia Pulcherima."

Flor de Camaron, tabaquin, chacasuchit, chamalxochitl, chacamalxochitl, flor de San Francisco, chamol (Guerrero), flor de guacamaya (Oaxaca and Chiapas): and chacsinkin (Yucatan).

In Tampico, she adds, it is known as pajaro paraiso, which probably is the reason this (bird of paradise) is the name most generally used in the Valley.

MEXICANS have a peculiarly apt way of naming flowers, giving delightful recognition to some peculiarity of blossom or leaf.

At the same time the names of the variols herbs, shrubs, and plants follow the botanical title much more closely than the common English names.

This is explained by the fact that the Indians had a vast lore involving the use of medicinal herbs and plants and in learning the curative plants and methods from the natives, the missionary priests in turn taught them the botanical names.

For example, "malva rosa" is a more accurate designation than hollyhock for the big-leafed mallows that excite our envy each spring when we travel the Old Military Road.

AS A matter of information we'd like to know the name for the shrub that most folks refer to as the "Oklahoma weed."

It is especially lovely in the early fall and prized for decorations, but no hostess wants to read that her home was adorned with ""Oklahoma weed."

There is a great quantity of the plant growing as tall as a man's shoulder in the brushy thicket on the T. J. Baird farm south of San Benito.

Most of the pretty clumps in San Benito yards came from this patch.

IF YOUR cassia shrubs aren't in blossom now, pour the water to them.

Rather heavy watering during September is pretty good insurance of a wealth of the yellow flowers from mid-October into November.

DIGGING into library books has not satisfied our curiosity as to whether there's any connection between the Molly Pitcher of Revolutionary fame and the "molly pichers" kids used to make at Hallowe'en.

The Hallowe'en "molly pichers" were ghosts created according to a definitely set idea that looked like nothing so much as a spook with a head covered by dough with holes for facial features.

The Revolutionary Molly Pitcher was really Mary Heys or Heis and was so called because she carried a pitcher of water to the patriot soldiers.

How she came to be a Hallowe'en spook, if "molly picher" is the ghost of somebody else, is a question that probably will never be settled to our satisfaction.

Bride's Father Performs Pretty Garden Wedding At City Of Palms' Home

McALLEN—The W. U. Coughran garden was the scene of the wedding of a well known Valley couple last night when the Coughrans' daughter, Eddie Grace, became the bride of William Rae Alston, older son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Toland, of McAllen.

The ceremony was performed by the bride's father under a garden arbor decorated with roses and fern.

For her wedding Mrs. Alston wore a royal blue crepe street dress, made with box pleats falling from the shoulders. Her accessories were black and she carried an arm bouquet of chrysanthemums.

She was attended by Miss Opal Johnson of Corpus Christi, wearing black velvet, brightened with white collar and cuffs. She also carried an arm bouquet of chrysanthemums.

Chester Martin of McAllen attended the groom as best man.

The bride's mother wore a blue frock, topped with a bright corsage and the groom's mother, black lace.

The 75 guests who attended the wedding were later entertained at a reception at the McAllen Country Club ballroom. Here the large tiered cake graced a table. The refreshment table was centered with a large red punch bowl, matching the tones of the red roses predominating in the floral decoration.

Mrs. Alston graduated from the McAllen Senior High School in 1940. She has lived here with her parents for the past 12 years. The groom graduated from Highland Park High School, Dallas, in June. He will be associated with his father in business at Sunland Creamery.

Valleyites Are Active At A. & I.

By CARL CHILTON, JR.

KINGSVILLE — Six Valley students have been selected by Professor Paul Riley and either regular singers or alternates in the A. and I. A Cappella Choir, which is possibly the most widely known organization on the Texas A. and I. campus. The A Cappella Choir, besides singing numerous times over the radio during the year, also travels extensively. Each year at Christmas time the choir presents Handel's "The Messiah" at the college. It is recognized as one of the outstanding musical organizations in the United States and the Valley should be justly proud to have furnished some of its members.

Valley students chosen for the choir were Rose Parten, Alamo, first soprano; Ava Sue Martin, Harlingen, second soprano; Betsy Lee Kidder, Mercedes, alternate second soprano; Vernon Schliska, Pharr, first tenor; Clinton Schmeling, Brownsville, baritone; and George Shimek, Santa Rosa, alternate bass.

Richard Rowe, a transfer to A. and I. from Edinburg Junior College, has become a leading campus figure in his first year on the A. and I. campus. He has been elected reporter of the sophomore class, president of the Press Club, and has been pledged to the Delta Sigma Chi fraternity. His more recent achievements include appointment as business manager of El Rancho, the college annual, and election as reporter of the pledges of Delta Sigma Chi.

This years pledges to Kappa Omicron Phi, national home economics sorority, include Mary Ellen Osborne and Nina Ruth Higdon of Harlingen.

Among the pledges of Alpha Chi, national honorary society, is Julia Guerra, of Roma. This society is very exclusive, accepting membership of only outstanding pupils. The members must have maintained a "B" scholastic average for four semesters of college work and must be outstanding in campus activities.

The Javelinas of A. and I. have a very enviable record in football competition. They are attempting a schedule this year which is as ambitious as that of any small college in the country. In the first game of the season the Javelinas beat last years' national scoring champions, the San Jose (Calif.) Spartans, and followed that tip with a game against Texas A. and M., who has the best team in the contry last year. Still on the schedule is contest with Rice Institute, another Southwest Conference school. So far this season the Javelinas have won three and lost one, bowing only to A. and M.

The 55 piece A. and I. band, one of the outstanding college bands in the state, has among its membership ten pupils from the Rio Grande Valley. Of this ten, five are previously been members of the band, while the remaining five are playing their first year in the organization.

Valley-bred members of the band are Harvey Pritchard, Donna, saxophone; Clayton Dodd and Frank Dodd, Raymondville, Hazel Jackson, Sebastian, and Carl Chilton, Port Isabel, clarinets; Betty Platt, Alamo, and Betsy Lee Kidder, Mercedes, flutes; Dora Hager, Mercedes, trombone; and Babbette Rhinehart and Ella Melton, both of Pharr, drums.

Aside from this regular membership, Lorraine Vollmer of Mission and Ann Dunn of McAllen are members of the four piece color guard of the marching band.

Approximately fifty of Mr. Roney's paintings, ranging from very small canvas to several of massive proportions, are displayed about the club room and received the appreciative interest of a large number of guests. All of the subjects are landscapes and all are notable for the wonderfully effective treatment of skies. Clouds are expertly handled and one scene depicting a storm cloud drew particular praise. Trees and clouds and mountains predominate in the canvases which present many scenes around Kerrville and snow and autumn scenes of that vicinity and the artist's native Pennsylvania.

Guests were served from a tea table laid with lace which had a silver bowl of experanza and lupine for centerpiece. Mrs. W. H. Lemmon and Mrs. A. J. Alderdice alternated at the punch bowl.

Adding floral interest to the room were arrangements of fern with red verbena and with cosmos.

The exhibit will remain open to interested visitors at the Woman's Building, 301 E. Madison, all next week except Saturday.

HARLINGEN — The Garden Lovers Club's principal project, the improvement of Travis Park, is well under way this week and co-operation of business men and residents of the vicinity has been enlisted. Mrs. J. William Bones is president of the club which was recently organized.

Draining of the unsightly fountain in the park has started and the fountain is to be converted into a fish pond. Civic minded citizens near the park and homeowners have begun giving donations for the beautification work.

Candid camera pictures are to be made of the park before and after the work of improvement has been carried out.

The club is especially interested in obtaining a sufficient amount of carpet grass to cover the entire park. Any persons wishing to donate money or grass for this particular phase of beautification is asked to call Mrs. Wm. Trammell.

Southwest Emphasized In Program

HARLINGEN — Further expanding the development of the theme of the "Southwest," the program for the regular meeting of the Harlingen Study Club Thursday introduced a considerable amount of well-correlated information gleaned from authoritative commentaries.

Mrs. Polk Hornaday presented the last part of "Our Southwest" written by Erna Fergusson. She took her listeners on an imaginary 2,000-mile journey through the area designated as the Southwest. Of particular interest was her statement that the Indians in this territory represent the only tribes having increased in population since colonial days; and her tribute to the lowly burro.

Especially delightful was Miss Alma Rabb's review of "Rio Grande" written by Harry Fergusson, brother of the author of "Our Southwest." She brought out much of the romance connected with the historic boundary stream and stated the personality given the Rio Grande by Fergusson is said to have furnished Emil Ludwig with the idea for his "The Nile."

Mrs. M. H. Connelly sang, "My Heart is a Silent Violin." Mrs. James Koonce served as accompanist.

Hostess for the meeting was Mrs. R. M. Loving.

BROWNSVILLE — The Brownsville Federation of Women's clubs met in the first session of the current year Thursday afternoon at the First Presbyterian church with Mrs. John F. Barron, new leader, presiding.

The Salt Of The Earth

You often hear this expression used—meaning what? Simply this: Everything we use in some way comes from the earth. When you pause for just a moment's thought, how essential is the land on which we work each day. Doesn't it make you want to own part of it. Never before, since the Valley was discovered and began its life of civilization, have you had such opportunities to buy land at such low prices.

20 Acres of the finest black sandy loam soil to be found in the Valley on a paved road about six miles from Harlingen with a good new $2,500 house. Now listen, the land is worth $2,500 and the house $2,500. We offer all for only $2,500.

280 acres of the finest land. Now irrigated. Low taxes. All in cultivation in Willacy county. Two good wells and tenant house. Long-term Federal Bank loan. This piece is only $50 per acre. It's a steal.

100 acres good irrigated land near pavement. Only $35 per acre.

10 acres close in on pavement. Only $850, $15 cash, $15 per month. Or will sell five acres on same terms.

5 acres, with good, modern 5-room house close in. A bargain, only $2,500. On paved road. Three blocks from North Ward school.

CHICAGO GRAINS

CHICAGO—(AP)—Wheat prices tumbled almost three cents a bushel Saturday after an early fractional advance in a wave of liquidation touched off by uneasiness regarding the recent sharp upturn and eagerness to take accumulated profits.

Selling out of professionally held lines of futures contracts occurred at the first signs of weakness after the market had staged an opening upturn of about ½ cent. Stop loss orders added to the market's burden. Some selling was attributed to hedging operations against actual wheat redeemed from government loans although trade reports indicated redemptions were small and scattered, with no signs of any definite change in the producer holding policy.

Some traders put stock in renewed peace talk coming from Europe but this only served to emphasize the uncertainty of the domestic and foreign political situation.

Despite scattered mill support and short covering attracted by the price break, wheat closed 1⅞-2¼ lower than Friday. December 84½-⅜, May 83⅜-83; corn 1 to 2 lower, December 60⅝-¾, May 61¾; oats ¾-⅞ down.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE

NEW YORK—(AP)—The free Argentine peso dropped 1-5 cent to 23.35 cents Saturday in continuation of the week's losing streak in relation to the dollar.

The decline, foreign exchange dealers said, hinged on the inability—or possibly unwillingness—of Argentine to supply dollar exchange to buy U. S. goods.

Rates follow (Great Britain in dollars, others in cents):

Official Canadian Control Board rates U.S. dollars: Buying 10 percent premium, selling 11 percent premium, equivalent to discounts on Canadian dollars in New York of buying 9.91 percent, selling 9.09 percent.

NE WYORK—(AP)—Stocks ended the week on the advancing side in Saturday's market, with steels and industrial specialties out in front for gains running to a point or so.

Brokers attributed the day's rallying tendencies partly to a slight revival of political optimism in Wall Street following last night's election campaign oratorical barrage.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up .4 of a point at 45, making net improvement for the week .3. It was the second week's rise for this composite. A month ago it stood at 44.3 and a year ago at 53.1.

Transfers for the two hours totaled 418,070 shares against 216,440 a week ago and was the best for a two-hour day since June 15.

Prominent share performers included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet, Wheeling Steel, Republic Steel, American Telephone, American Smelting, Consolidated Edison, Dow Chemical, American Can, Texas Corp., Du Pont, Union Carbide and Allied Chemical.

General Motors and Chrysler were up only ⅜ of a point each despite forecasts of heavy sales ad output and the announcement of Defense Commissioner Knudsen that the government orders of around $500,000,000 for aircraft parts would go to automotive concerns.

In the curb modest improvement was shown for Jones & Laughlin, American Syanamid "B", American Gas, F. W. Eliss, Gulf Oil and Electric Bond & Share. The turnover here was around 86,000 shares compared with 38,000 last Saturday.

Bonds were steady and commodities mixed.

Current Films

JAMES STEWART and Rosalind Russell share co-starring roles in the screen's gaily sophisticated comedy-romance "No Time for Comedy," which is scheduled for current showing Sunday and Monday at the Capitol Theatre in Brownsville and at the Rivoli Theatre in San Benito, Friday and Saturday.

A lightning fast comedy the story concerns a young newspaperman who writes hilarious plays about Manhattan's penthouse set, scores a smash hit of Broadway and marries the star of his plays.

His plays a success, the young playwright begins to find more amusement in hob-nobbing with the smart set than writing about them. At one of the parties he meets the lovely blonde wife of a millionaire, who convinces him that he is throwing away his genius on writing such frivolous plays and under her influence he begins writing a play with a "message."

On the opening night of his dramatic play, the audience laugh, just as they have always laughed at his plays. But this time no laughs were intended. By the time the play is ended the entire audience has left the theatre, including the playwright's blonde "inspiration."

'BRIGHAM YOUNG' IS PIONEER DRAMA

WRITTEN FOR THE SCREEN by Louis Bromfield "Brigham Young—Frontiersman," starring Tyrone Power and Linda Darnell is one of the most impressive love stories the screen has ever told.

Tyrone Power portrays the role of Jonathan Kent, Mormon scout, while Miss Darnell is cast as Zina Webb, a young girl who, although not of Mormon faith, flees with Power's family after her father is killed in the massacre at Nauvoo, Illinois, when masked raiders pillaged the city and struck down defenseless hundreds.

The featured supporting cast in "Brigham Young—Frontiersman" which is scheduled for current showing Sunday and Monday at the Arcadia Theater in Harlingen, Tuesday and Wednesday at the Ritz Theatre in Weslaco and at the State Theatre in Mercedes, Thursday and Friday includes Dean Jagger as Brigham Young, Brian Donlevy, Jane Darwell, John Carradine and Mary Astor.

DEANNA DURBIN IN 'SPRING PARADE'

DEANNA DURBIN in her fifth starring picture "Spring Parade" showing Sunday and Monday at both the Rivoli Theatre in San Benito and the Palace Theatre in McAllen, is seen in her first grown-up role.

"Spring Parade" presents Miss Durbin as a young village girl who goes to the city. In the metropolis, she meets and falls in love with Robert Cummings, a young blade, and the picture tells the progress of their love affair over a bumpy—and highly laugh-filled—road of complications.

Deanna sings (more beautifully than ever) four numbers—three of them from the pen of Robert Stolz, famous Viennese musician who composed, among others, the beautiful "Two Hearts in Three-Quarter Time." The fourth is "Blue Danube Dream." All four carry words by Gus Kahn, dean of American lyric writers.

In the large supporting cast are Mischa Auer, Henry Stephenson, Butch and Buddy, Anne Gwynne, Walter Catlett, S. Z. Sakall, Samuel S. Hinds, Allyn Joslyn, Reginald Denny, Franklin Pangborn, Peggy Moran and others.

PAT O'BRIEN SEEN AS KNUTE ROCKNE

THE GREATEST MAN in history of a great sport was "Knute Rockne—All American," whose life has been filmed with Pat O'Brien contributing his finest screen performance in tribute to the famous Rockne.

Based on the most important incidents in the life of the famous player and coach who raised American football to its present high level of sportsmanship, the story also deals with the most important people in Rockne's life.

"Knute Rockne—All American" is booked for current showing Sunday and Monday at the Ritz Theatre in Weslaco and at the Palace Theatre in McAllen, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Tyrone Power and Linda Darnell co-starred in the colorful and exciting screen epic "Brigham Young, Frontiersman," booked for current showing Sunday and Monday at the Arcadia Theatre in Harlingen; Tuesday and Wednesday at the Ritz Theatre in Weslaco and at the State Theatre in Mercedes, Thursday and Friday. The featured supporting cast in the picture includes Dean Jagger as Brigham Young, Brian Donlevy, John Carradine, Jane Darwell and Mary Astor.

'The Ramparts We Watch' Is Feature Length Film

Picture Heralded As Screen's Greatest

When a motion picture is acclaimed by critics, government officials, and news commentators alike as "America's most important feature picture," it rates universal attention. When that same movie is afterwards super-charged by the addition of breath-taking sequences from the notorious Nazi propaganda film, "Baptism of Fire," it becomes an event of unique importance to American theatre goers.

The picture is "The Ramparts We Watch," which is scheduled for premier Valley showings Thursday, Friday and Saturday at both the Arcadia Theatre in Harlingen and the Capitol Theatre in Brownsville.

An absolutely new kind of picture, "The Ramparts We Watch," was inspired by the disastrous trend of world events. Recreating the story of America in the great crisis of World War I, it also was designed to reveal the forces of aggression which were plunging the world once more into war.

After tremendous difficulties the March of Time has finally brought to the American screen "The Ramparts We Watch" as it was originally planned—a thrilling re-creation of the sweep of world history from 1914 to 1940 and what it means to Americans and to America's future.

GREEKS, ITALIANS CLASH IN ALBANIA

Solons Say Rails Seek To Block Canal Plans

Canadian Flagship Liner Which Carried Royalty Home In 1939 Is Bombed

BERLIN—(AP)—The Empress of Britain, majestic Canadian flagship liner which carried King George VI and Queen Elizabeth home to Britain from their North American trip in 1939, was reported in informed German quarters to have been bombed and left in a sinking condition north of Ireland Saturday.

"German combat planes" attacked the liner in the waters which Germany has proclaimed as the scene of total blockade, these sources asserted. By forenoon, it was stated, the crew had abandoned the ship and she was foundering.

(The British admiralty declined comment.)

The German high command made no mention of the Empress of Britain.

Air Raids Heavy

Both German and Italian planes raided London overnight in "rolling" attacks, other German sources said ,and the high command itself recounted "numerous hits" on rail and industrial districts east of Battersea Park, on the south bank of the Thames in London, where the great Battersea power station is located. The Germans resumed the raids Saturday.

Nazi sources said a German bomber in a surprise attack Saturday afternoon had dropped several bombs on a chemical works near Birmingham; that there were resulting explosions and fires, and that factories in a number of British centers were

Pontoon Is Dislodged By Tree Trunk

McALLEN—Twenty or more residents of the Valley were marooned at Reynosa, Mexico, for several hours early Saturday morning when the pontoon bridge between that city and Hidalgo was closed after a pontoon became dislodged.

Manager Ray Stubbs of the Valley Bridge Company said the pontoon boat was struck by a big tree trunk being carried down the Rio Grande on a 16-foot rise caused by heavy rains on the Mexican watershed, which were carried into the international stream by the San Juan.

Reopened Later

The bridge was reopened Saturday afternoon when a new boat was put in place. Extra pontoons are kept on hand for such emergencies. Repair work was hindered Saturday morning when one of the replacement boats slipped from its moorings and floated downstream with the swift current.

The river stood at 16 feet at Hidalgo at noon Saturday as the crest from the San Juan passed. Another crest caused by rains in the Laredo area was expected later, and bridge officials were preparing for a peak of 18 feet. The water was not expected to get high enough to enter the floodways.

Many Walk Across

Many of the persons caught in Reynosa Friday night walked across the bridge, leaving their cars on the Mexican side, until the gap in the structure became too wide.

Travelers returning from Monterrey said they were delayed five hours at one place near China, where the water was too high in one of the numerous small ravines to permit passage.

King George Sends Sympathy To French

LONDON—(AP)—King George VI has sent a message of sympathy and encouragement for the French people to Marshal Philippe Petain in what informed circles described as a government attempt to establish a 3-point program to "help both Britain and France."

Authoritative sources said the king expressed confidence in an ultimate British victory and hope that the French would join one day in the benefits.

George Smith Ill

Prominent Dairyman In Heart Attack

BROWNSVILLE—George Smith, well known Brownsville dairyman, was in Mercy Hospital Saturday night following a heart attack, and his condition was termed serious. Placed in the hospital Saturday morning, Mr. Smith was being given oxygen tent treatment. He has a fair chance of recovering, according to the attending physician.

Mr. Smith's car overturned on a slippery highway near here Wednesday noon and he escaped with minor bruises and shock. There was no connection between the accident and the heart attack, the attending physician said. Meanwhile, Mrs. H D. Kirk, a neighbor, who was an occupant of the Smith car, is under treatment for a fractured neck vertebra as a result of the accident. Her injury was thought only superficial at first but X-rays revealed the fracture. She is under treatment of Dr. J. L. Rentfro at the Lula George home on the San Benito highway. Her injury is reported painful but not dangerous.

War Secretary Calls Parliament Meet To Study French Moves

LONDON—(AP)—Leslie Hore-Belisha, former British secretary of war, demanded Saturday night that Parliament be called into session at once because of the Hitler-Petain agreement.

In a statement given to the semi-official press association, Hore- Belisha called for an immediate session "to consider the policy of the government toward the Vichy government, the French empire and French navy and the implications of the agreement reached in principle between Hitler and Marshal Petain."

MANSFIELD IS OUTSPOKEN IN RAIL ATTACK

By HARRY FOEHNER

HARLINGEN—The railroads were accused of attempting to block extension of the Intracoastal canal from Corpus Christi to the Valley at a meeting of the Intracoastal Canal Association of Louisiana and Texas here Saturday which learned that the extension may come before Congress at its next session.

Rep. J. J. Mansfield of Columbus, chairman of the House rivers and harbors committee; Col. C.S.E. Holland of Houston, president of the association; and Roy Miller of Corpus Christi, vice president, were among those who took occasion to criticize the railroads which appeared here Friday at a hearing on the proposed canal extension and asked for time to file a brief.

Mansfield Raps Rails

It was Mansfield who said that the proposed extension probably would come before the next Congress. He lashed out at the railroads which he said "used to secretly and covertly fight waterways but are now in the open." He said that now unions frequently join with railroad executives in fighting waterways.

The Congressman explained provisions of the Lee-Wheeler bill which authorize the Interstate Commerce Commission to regulate rates charged by steamship and barge lines.

"We must wait and see what their policy is going to be," he said. "One of the members has said that money spent on waterways should have

CHICAGO, Ill.—(AP)—Alfred E. Smith declared Saturday night that when he took his famous "walk" in 1936 he was "about four years ahead of the parade."

'I'm Not Insane' Chon Martinez Tells Court Saturday And Begins Last Long Walk On Road To Death For Notorious Donna Murders

By MYNATT SMITH

EDINBURG — Ascension (Chon) Martinez, the Donna man whom the state says joined five others in the brutal murders of an unidentified man and his wife on the banks of the Rio Grande in 1935, started his long walk down the road to death Saturday.

"I'm not insane," Martinez through an interpreter told Criminal District Judge Bryce Ferguson, who summoned the Donna man before the bar to hear pronouncement of his sentence to the electric chair.

There was only a scattered crowd of spectators on hand when "Chon," a handkerchief wrapped around his head to hold back his bushy hair, walked into the courtroom. Deputy Sheriff George Ingram took a pair of handcuffs off Martinez and they clanked loudly as he laid them in a nearby chair.

The defendant sat down and nervously picked his teeth with a match stick.

The court of criminal appeals at Austin a few days ago issued a mandate ordering Martinez's electrocution, having earlier affirmed the death sentence meted out in Judge Ferguson's court here. But the high court noted that Martinez had refused to sign papers appealing the penalty, adding the statement that the man might be insane.

"Chon" stepped up to the little witness stand in front of Judge Ferguson's desk.

Did he have anything to say before sentence was pronounced, the judge inquired.

"My wife has letters from the governor," the interpreter quoted Martinez. "She has evidence."

The judge had asked that Martinez present any evidence he might have relating either to clemency from the governor or affidavits from two physicians as to his insanity—the only legal loopholes left for him. Martinez evidently did not understand the technicalities involved, for he told the interpreter that "doctors at San Antonio" had said he was sane.

"That's the truth," Martinez added.

But he lacked any visible evidence of documents to which the judge had referred.

NORSE BEGIN SABOTAGE OF GERMAN FOOD

Uprisings In Norway Face Nazis

STOCKHOLM —(AP)— The newspaper Dagens Nyheter reported from Oslo Saturday night that a limited state of emergency has been proclaimed at Bergen because of demonstrations and sabotage in that city of Nazi-held Norway against the National Samling, pro-Nazi Major Vidkun Quickling's party.

Bergen citizens, it said, have been forbidden on the streets after darkness which descends now in the late afternoon.

Two persons were said to have been killed and several injured last week at a meeting of the Samling (National Union) which has been made the only legal political movement in Norway.

Fish exports to Germany, this report said, have been spoiled by saboteurs on several occasions and long prison terms have been imposed on several persons convicted of espionage.

Two Bergen newspapers have been banned in recent days, it added.

The Political Roundup

Demos Answer Lewis

Early Says Many CIO Unions Repudiate His Stand; Willkie In New York

By The Associated Press)

The Roosevelt administration struck back Saturday at John L. Lewis' denunciation of the New Deal and support of Wendell Willkie while evidence piled up that a deep political schism had developed in the CIO itself.

Stephen Early, presidential secretary, said Lewis had "chosen to go down the lonely road." Many CIO leaders, Early declared, had "repudiated" Lewis' stand in messages to President Roosevelt.

Secretary of State Hull said that Lewis was "100 per cent wrong in his effort to prejudice the American people by the baseless charge that President Roosevelt is seeking to get this nation into war."

Otherwise, the day brought such developments as these:

President Roosevelt decided definitely to make a political address in Boston next Wednesday in addition to one Monday night at New York, then began a weekend of speech-writing in the seclusion of the White House.

Willkie Confident

Willkie campaigned again into the New York City area, telling crowds that "we are on the march—we are going to win. I promise you we can't lose." Republican headquarters announced that the nominee had cancelled a radio broadcast scheduled for Saturday night because of the "complicated nature" of his tour through New York City boroughs.

Willkie had expressed pleasure Friday night at receiving Lewis' support.

The Lewis expression brought comment, too, from William Green,

NAVY LAUDED AS AMERICA'S 'FRONT LINE'

FD In Navy Day Note Opens Observance

WASHINGTON —(AP)— President Roosevelt told the American fleet Saturday night on the eve of the 19th annual Navy Day that it was "a deterrent to those nations who would plant the heel of dictatorship across this hemisphere."

"I pray," he said in a letter to Secretar Knox, "that it will continue to emphasize, by its strength, our determination to remain a free people, marching steadily along the open road that holds peace of the spirit as well as a full and worthy material life."

Observance Restricted

The chief executive's letter was published along with an exchange of greeting between the army and navy on the eve of a Navy Day observance which is to be restricted "in the interest of national security."

Progress toward realization of the ultimate goal of a two-ocean navy was disclosed, meanwhile, by an official compilation showing that six new fighting ships were added to the fleet last month, four others were launched and keels of four more laid.

New Ships Rushed

With the start of work on the 45,000 ton battleship New Jersey, six new dreadnaughts are on the ways, and two others have been launched and are nearing completion.

Mr. Knox, Assistant Secretary Lewis Compton, and Admiral Harold R. Stark are to speak Saturday on a world-wide radio broadcast, but there will be no general visiting of ships of the fleet or shore stations. Vessels assigned to training reservists will receive visitors and drills and demonstration are scheduled at many cities.

NAVY DAY ADDRESS PLANNED BY KELLEY

Piggott's talk, on the life of John Paul Jones, "Father of the American Navy," will be dedicated to the Navy Mothers of America.

Appeal Prior To Nazi Pact Revealed

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The United States' deep concern over the German-French negotiations was evidenced Saturday by disclosure that President Roosevelt had sent a message to Marshal Henri Phillippe Petain, chief of the French state.

The communication was delivered to Gaston Henry-Haye, the French ambassador, last Thursday by Sumner Welles, undersecretary of state. The fact of its dispatch was a closely-held secret until Saturday.

Secretary Hull, in disclosing that Mr. Roosevelt had communicated with the 84-year old World War hero who now heads the Vichy government, declined to reveal the nature of the message. No reply, he said, had been received.

Although lacking official confirmation, it was reported that the president's message had been timed —and perhaps contained an appeal —designed to influence Petain against signing any "collaboration" pact with Germany which would imperil France's future as a free nation and possibly bring about a clash between French and American interests, especially in the western hemisphere.

Italian Sub Sinks Portuguese Vessel

LISBON, Portugal—(AP)—An Italian submarine rescued 27 officers and men of the Belgian freighter Kabalo after sinking her about 600 miles off Madeira October 15 and landed them safely on Santa Maria Island, in the Azores, the Kabalo's captain reported to Portuguese authorities Saturday.

AIR SERVICE IS SUSPENDED INTO GREECE

By The Associated Press

With France under the Axis belt, the Rome radio Saturday night broadcast a report of a clash between Greek troops and Italian-ruled Albanians—an event some believed a prelude to wider action against pro-British Greece.

Six Greek soldiers were said to have been captured and two Albanians killed and three wounded in a fight between Koriza and Porta Edda inside Albanian territory.

Air Service Halted

Italy previously suspended air service to Greece until November 4 under circumstances suggesting increased pressure on that country, and the Greek fleet was ready to hold day and night maneuvers from October 28 to January 1 near Salonika.

An Italian government communique later told of the clash and said the Greeks were armed with rifles and grenades.

The communique asserted "Greek or English agents" were being sought for a bomb attack near the Porto Edda headquarters of the Italian lieutenant-generalship.

Three bombs exploded slightly wounding two persons, the communique said.

France bowed to the will of Adolf Hitler in his desire to fit the conquered nation in his own way into the Nazi scheme for "a new European order."

Parley Is Reported

Marshal Philippe Petain, chief of state of France, and his vice premier, Pierre Laval, met the French cabinet at Vichy and reported on their conversations with Hitler and his foreign minister, Joachim Von Ribbentrop.

Then came a brief announcement: The cabinet had approved the Petain-Laval decision. Hitler and Petain would collaborate in restoring peace to Europe. What kind of peace and the manner of its restoration were not made clear.

British reaction was not immediately forthcoming, but officials of the "free" French government in

Neutrals Speculating On Concessions

BERN, Switzerland—(AP)—Diplomatic onlookers Saturday night said they believed France would pay for Axis concessions by "loaning" to Germany and Italy her Mediterranean air and sea bases near East Africa, and under much the same conditions as Britain now holds Egyptian bases.

PETAIN

The government of old Marshal Petain is expected to get more "unoccupied" territory under her deal with Hitler: use of Paris for its capital and gradual release of French prisoners of war.

So far, in view of most diplomatic observers, the Vichy government has given the Axis ammunition only for its propaganda guns and is withholding disclosure of more tangible aid until later.

One informed source said the point on which Petain still balked was the extent to which France's army air force and navy should be called on to protect Axis-used French bases against British attack.

French "collaboration" with the Axis, one report said, will be divided into two spheres:

1. The Atlantic, where both Spain and France will remain non-belligerent in order not to excite the United States but will afford "all possible aid" in Axis attempts to cut Britain's South Atlantic trade and the "Cape route" to India;

2. The Mediterranean, where Italian and German sea and air forces will get full use of Tunisian and Syrian bases in an offensive aimed at breaking Britain's hold on the eastern Mediterranean.

Dictators Seek To Make Slaves Of Other Nations Warns Sec. Hull; Terms This Decade Among Saddest In History

CONTROL OF PRICES SEEN

Business Boom May Set Record

By FRANK MacMILLEN

NEW YORK —(AP)— With industry booming at levels of fabulous 1929, business men this week looked forward to a record $85,000,000,000 national income in 1941 and laid lines to hold war-pushed prices to reasonable levels.

Creation of a "priorities board" at Washington to assure a steady flow of critical materials to the war plants—if necessary by denying or delaying them to civilian industry—threw into sharp focus the problem of possible runaway prices later on in the defense drive.

Inflation Denied

Economists have long agreed the basic factors of an upward spiral of prices—some call it inflation—is an increase in the supply of spending money in the hands of the public, combined with a decrease in the supply of things for which the public can spend.

Thus they watched closely, took precautionary steps, to see that as profits and payrolls which comprise the national income climb toward a probable new high in the history of the country in coming months, prices shall not rise out of proportion.

Prominent was the warning of Tom M. Girdler, Cleveland steel maker, against "speculative buying" in that defense metal.

Increase Next Year

The business records of the week lent point to calculations of many observers that some time next year, with defense production at flood, and with the country's spendable income ahead even of the boom years of the 'twenties, would be the

Would-Be 'Masters' Of World Threaten All, But Safety Lies In Strong Defenses

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Secretary Hull described the rulers of Germany, Italy and Japan Saturday night as "would-be conquerors" engaged in a relentless attempt to reduce mankind to "a master-and-slave relationship among nations and individuals, maintained by brute force."

Speaking before the National Press Club over a nation-wide radio hook-up, (NBC), the secretary of state listed efforts by these nations "to take by force what they say they need or want" as he reviewed what he called "the whirlwind developments of one of the saddest and most crucial decades in the history of mankind—that of the nineteen-thirties."

"The rulers of these nations," the secretary continued, "have repudiated and violated in every essential respect the long-accepted principles of peaceful and orderly international relations.

"Merciless, Unrestrained"

"Merciless armed attack; unrestrained terrorization through slaughter of non-combatant men, women and children; deceit, fraud and guile; forced labor; confiscation of property; imposed starvation and deprivations of every sort —all these are weapons constantly used by the conquerors for the invasion and subjugation of other nations."

These same nations, Hull declared—presumably in reference to Germany's reported efforts to secure the French fleet and Japan's warship building program—have as

MEXICO CITY —(AP) —A government spokesman said Saturday night Dr. Francisco Castillo Najera, Mexico's ambassador to the United States, would take a plane to Washington Sunday carrying with him the results of a three-weeks' survey of Mexican-American relations with President Cardenas.

The ambassador was scheduled to leave at mid-day and arrive in Washington early Monday.

British Watch Election

Highly Interested, But Don't Take Sides

LONDON—(AP)—The British are following the United States presidential race with a more avid interest than they have paid to any political campaign outside the British isles in many years.

The national press carries campaign stories day and night, illustrated with photographs of vigorous electioneering incidents far removed from the sedate English trend.

As a whole, the newspapers have taken no sides. They have told their readers that both President Roosevelt and Wendell Willkie are committed to a continuation of aid for Britain.

"From the British point of view it is enough to know that both candidates have the strongest admiration for our fight and are pledged to help us by all means 'short of war,'" said The Manchester Guardian.

been given to the railroads as a bonus."

He said further that "one of the members is as railroad-minded as hell itself."

"Valley In A Sack"

Colonel Holland also criticized the railroads declaring that they had "the Rio Grande Valley in a sack; in a sack tied at the top with a ribbon called the Robstown differential."

The rail carriers were charged with responsibility for the load limit on trucks in Texas. He said that this was the first time in 35 years that he had ever criticized the railroads, "but when they come to us in this unfair way and get our report to examine it at their leisure in their swivel chairs I am not going to be mealy mouthed about it."

Holland's reference was to the fact that Eugene S. Coghill, Jr. of Houston, representing the Association of American railroads, had appeared at the public hearing Friday and requested 90 days in which to examine the report supporting the proposed extension filed by Brigadier General G. A. Youngberg and to file a brief if desired. Col. F. S. Besson of Galveston, U. S. Army district engineer conducting the hearing, granted the railroad organization 45 days.

Canals Aid Railroads

Miller said that it had never been the policy of the rail association to oppose the railroads and pointed out that there had never been a worthy water project which has not increased business for the railroads. He said the railroads were given land equivalent to the area of New England to build transcontinental lines and one-fifth the area of Texas to build lines in this state.

"Every foot of the line from Algoa to Brownsville and Rio Grande City was more than paid for by land donations," he said, quoting a former publicity man of the railroads without giving his name.

"This probably will be the last hearing we will ever have to hold to assure completion of this project," said Miller in describing the Youngberg report submitted at Friday's hearing as "conclusive."

He brought out the fact that construction of waterways with a 12-foot depth and 125-foot bottom width was practically an adopted policy.

Bailey T. DeBardeleben of Houston, representing the Coyle barge lines, declared that barge operators would fight any efforts on the part of the Interstate Commerce Commission to raise barge rates under its new authority under the Lee-Wheeler Act.

J. E. Bell, manager of the Corpus Christi Chamber of Commerce and formerly at San Benito, issued an invitation to attend the international celebration which will be held in Corpus Christi when the canal is completed to that city probably early next summer.

Bowie Urges Reduction

James C. Bowie, director of the Port Isabel harbor, declared that if cost of handling fruit could be reduced 10 cents a box to the producer that it would mean the difference between easy living and in many cases today inevitable bankruptcy."

The association authorized another three-year program of activity beginning January 1, 1941 when the current program expires.

Saturday's convention of the canal association followed a hearing on the proposed extension held by the U. S. Army district engineer Friday. Delegates to the hearing were taken on a tour of Port Isabel, the Port of Brownsville and Matamoros Friday afternoon and had dinner in Matamoros Friday night.

McAllen Stolen Car Regained In Mexico By City Patrolman

McALLEN—The automobile owned by A. A. Vohs, allegedly stolen here Friday night, was recovered Saturday night at Reynosa and a man arrested in the car was jailed.

It was the third car Bales has recovered in six weeks. Auto owned by O. E. Gomez was recovered at Reynosa and one owned by W. H. Wickline was recovered at Falfurrias.

American Business Throwing Away Red Ink As Sales Show Steady Gains; Defense Should Boost 1940 Totals

By ROGER W. BABSON

BABSON Park, Mass.—I have said in recent articles that business is getting better. As long as the defense program continues to broaden there will be no lessening of activity. Yearend reports will show more plus than minus signs. Manufacturers and other business men are throwing away the red ink bottles and stocking up on black. It takes time for war production to get under way. The country is still in the inertia stage. Once the initial problems of planning, financing, and production are overcome, things should move fast.

Don't Be Impatient

With machine tool companies working day and night to provide the necessary equipment, there is a scarcity of skilled labor. Men must be trained for many important and technically-skilled jobs. Blueprints must be drawn, sources of supplies arranged, transportation schedules by rail and highway checked. Lawyers must study contracts, prices be determined, and bank loans negotiated. Our industrial areas are coming to a state of intense activity.

The great agricultural sections of the country have not yet felt the increased tempo of our industrial cities. However, as movement of the business cycle swings from East to West, all sections of our land will ultimately be caught up in this rush to arm. Young and old, rich and poor, will all take more of a part in whatever the future holds.

Business Will Improve

War prosperity for some few people is a delightful state to contemplate. Unfortunately, such people do not come into contact with the actualities of war. These are far more cruel than those of the last conflict. My business associates know that I never side-step a scrap.

I thrive on trouble. Give me some new upset to face each day and I am a happy man. I am no pacifist in busines, religion, or war; and I am all set for any actual participation in the current fight abroad. But I also know that when our enemies suffer we also suffer in the end.

Dividends may increase, but total incomes of business men and investors will be drastically reduced by taxes. Even war talk and a feeling that the right side is winning brings increased activity in the stock market. The demand for labor will put more money into the pockets of the man on Main Street and into the tills of stores. Only unbiased historians years hence will be able to judge whether or not wars ever provide lasting economic values. Surely, real prosperity can come from our present situation only as it strengthens our character and teaches us needed lessons.

Let's Remember 1929

Unfortunately we have not yet recovered from the effects of the last war. Furthermore, fundamentally, we profited little from it, either financially or spiritually. We had a slump in business after the armistice, followed by several years of rising values. Then came the swift kick in the pants so many of us remember. Now, we are on the eve of another great outbreak. God grant that it will not come before we are prepared.

Our country is like a sick child who before recovering from an ear abcess breaks out with chicken pox. We are not yet out of the depression starting in 1929. Temporarily, the economic situation will ease up, bringing us to a false sense of security and prosperity. Geographically our country is so large, and our numbers and resources so great, that many have the impression we cannot be licked. However, in Hitler's eyes we are already tottering from internal labor troubles and Congressional fights. And the thought may not be far fetched

Germany now has the great bulk of the resources of the Continent, let alone the Scandinavian countries. With this backing, anything can happen to us economically. One saving grace is that in all history no man has yet conquered the world. If I have learned anything in the last forty years, it concerns man's frailty. Some day a leader will rise in some other country who will be Hitler's match. Until then, we must keep prepared economically as well as militarily for whichever way the tide turns.

I may sound like an alarmist. If so, forgive me. I am anxious only that we Americans are not caught sleeping, economically, at the switch. I am hopeful, too, that all will realize the price our young people must some day pay for the present expenditures and brief respite from unemployment. Hitler has no idea of invading the United States as long as our people are prosperous. He, however, believes, that through labor and political dissensions, unemployment will be so great and our people so divided that we will turn to Fascism as a remedy.

As my grandchildren constanly remind me, times have changed. Our conception of money and wealth will change. It no longer takes money, as we know it, to finance Germany. If it were of any real value, the gold which we have buried at Fort Knox would guarantee our own and England's salvation. No, money is today of little real value. We must have tangible resources, the courage to sacrifice, and the character to keep our heads.

Chon Martinez Tells Court Saturday, 'I'm Not Insane'

have to say before sentence is passed?" asked the court.

"There is," said "Chon." "They have discredited my family." Whom he meant by "they" was not explained.

He added quickly:

"I'm not insane!" He shifted his feet slightly.

"I know the governor is representing me."

He chatted a moment with the interpreter, who then quoted him:

"I mailed a letter to the president—President Roosevelt. I didn't write the governor. I haven't received a letter from him."

Judge Gives Sentence

The judge conferred briefly with District Attorney Tom Hartley and his assistant, Jack Ross.

In a moment he intoned:

"You . . . shall on the fourth day of December, 1941, be electrocuted . . ."

The handcuffs rattled again as Ingram picked them up.

Martinez remained on the witness stand.

Ramon Longoria, court-appointed attorney for Martinez, whose chief counsel, Kenedy Smith of Raymondville, was not present at the session, asked Judge Ferguson to allow Martinez to remain in the county jail here through Monday, thus giving the man's family time to have him examined by two physicians, ostensibly regarding his sanity.

Martinez may still present evidence of such physicians' findings to the court and ask for a sanity hearing.

Otherwise, Sheriff R. T. (Bob) Daniel, who had made preparations to leave with Martinez Saturday for Huntsville, will start with him Tuesday morning for the death cell at the state prison.

District Attorney Hartley, who on October 12 had worked exactly four years on the "Donna river murder case" as a public prosecutor, walked from the courtroom to his office and smoked a cigaret.

"Four Long Years"

"That is the last of them," he commented quietly. "These have been four long years."

Of six men originally indicted for the slaying of the unknown man and woman after each had attacked the woman, only one faces any prospects for freedom.

Placido Handy, given the death term in court here, was electrocuted at Huntsville several months ago.

Now Martinez faces the electric chair.

Three others, Braulio Yanez, Emiliano Martinez and Bonifacio Martinez, were given life sentences a few months ago when they were tried in district court of Bexar county at San Antonio. They accepted the sentences.

The sixth man, Jose Rodriguez, who turned state's evidence and testified against the other five under an agreement that he would be granted immunity, remains in the county jail here, where he too has been for four years.

When the Martinez sentence is finally disposed of, the charges against Rodriguez will be dismissed and he will go free.

AIR SERVICE IS SUSPENDED

London repudiated any agreement between Hitler and the aged Petain, terming "any association, direct or indirect, between France and her mortal enemy" a "sacrilege."

King Wiresh Petain

Earlier in the day informed circles in London had disclosed that King George had messaged Petain, extending courage and sympathy to the French people, and expressing the conviction of an ultimate British victory. Vichy dispatches did not mention the communication.

President Roosevelt also had sent a communication to the French government, Secretary of State Cordell Hull, revealed. That message went across seas Thursday while Petain was seeing Hitler somewhere in occupied France.

While the diplomatic moves went forward on the continent, the military phases of the war continued at increased speed. London had seven daylight air raid alarms and an eighth shortly after nightfall with an untold number of casualties and considerable property damage to private homes and apartments.

Activity In Channel

There was considerable activity in the Channel area. Within sight of watchers on on the English shore RAF squadrons bombed a German convoy and English coastal batteries shelled a small fleet of German torpedo boats maneuvering along the French coast.

British pilots also resumed their attack on the German long-range guns near Cap Gris Nez.

The Germans, intensifying the war at sea, claimed to have hit the 42,348-ton liner Empress of Britain with aerial bombs off North Ireland and to have left her sinking. The ship was used on the return trip of King George and Queen Elizabeth from North America in the summer of 1939.

The British admiralty declined comment.

RAF Over Germany

The British air ministry announced the usual RAF flights over Germany and German-occupied territory again took place with bombs dropping on the naval base at Kiel, on Bremen and Cuxhaven and the Channel invasion bases.

Various industrial centers likewise were attacked, the ministry said.

In the Mediterranean area, Italy was reported to have suspended air service to Greece until November 4, and many believed some action against the Greeks was imminent.

The official Rome radio also announced that the long expected Italian offensive in Egypt was about to begin.

Greasy Burglar

Miami Prowler Gives Police Headache

MIAMI, Fla. —(AP)— A grease-smeared burglar dressed only in trunks is giving police here new problems in crime detection.

On at least one occasion citizens gabbed at the elusive thief and got only handfuls of grease.

Officers can't decide whether he is a white man or a negro. They think he may be white, though; because there appeared to be charcoal dust mixed with the lard left on one citizen's hands.

The Democratic national committee said it received $642,320 and disbursed $603,742 in the period from September 1 to October 22.

The Associated Willkie Clubs of America listed receipts aggregating $624,605 and expenditures totalling $464,376 from September 1 to October 20.

The Democrats-For-Willkie organization, New York, reported $148,720 in contributions and expenditure of $117,001 from September 10-October 20.

The national committee of independent voters, which is working for re-election of President Roosevelt, reported $112,266 received and $50,088 spent from September 20 to October 22.

Contributions reported by the Democratic national committee included:

John R. Brinkley, Del Rio, Tex., $1,000; Amon G. Carter, Fort Worth, $5,000; Mrs. William L. Clayton, Houston, $5,000; Col. W. P. Knight, Wichita Falls, Tex., $1,000; P. D. Bowlen, Tyler, Tex., $1,000; Gus F. Taylor, Tyler, Tex., $1,000; A. S. Underwood Athens, Tex., $5,000.

"They threaten peaceful nations with the direst consequences if those nations do not remain acquiescent, while the conquerors are seizing the other continents and most of the seven seas of the earth."

"We are in the presence not of local or regional wars, but of an organized and determined movement for steadily expanding conquest. NEW BUSINESS SCHOOL OPENS

Durham Institute Is To Locate Here

HARLINGEN — President G. D. Durham of the Durham Business Institute, Austin, and other officials of the school visited in the Valley during the past week, deciding to open a branch school in Harlingen.

Durham said a lease has been taken on a home for the new enterprise in the Embee building, and that complete equipment and office machinery is being installed for opening of the Harlingen branch.

critical point in the fight to hold prices down.

Steel mills operated at about the highest percentage of capacity in history, around 95, with actual amount of steel turned out undoubtedly the greatest on record.

Automobile production was the largest for this part of the season in three years. Orders from dealers were said to be heavy.

Retail Trade Better

In retail trade, snappy weather drove people to stores for winter clothing. Sales in steel and heavy industry towns led the pickup.

Heavy construction awards — largely for factories which will later add to swelling employment and payrolls—topped $127,000,000, nearly 100 per cent ahead of the same period last year.

Not only in steel, but in textiles, motors, electric utilities, and elsewhere expansion appeared to be in the offing. The aircraft companies, with an estimated $3,500,000,000 of orders on their books, and more likely to be added as these are filled, already is rushing millions in plant construction completion.

president of the American Federation of labor.

The CIO, he said, was "torn with dissension, divided politically because its leaders seek to compel it to support a political party." The AFL, he added, "has evolved and followed a non-partisan political policy."

Green Says CIO Split

Some officials of the United Mine Workers, foundation stone of the CIO organization, disagreed with Lewis. Hugh V. Brown, president of District 7, a Hazelton, Pa., unit and one of the big UMW locals, said the district membership would "go down the alley battling" for Roosevelt. On the other hand, Ray Edmundson, Illinois district president of the UMW, made public a resolution by 16 UMW officials pledging support of Lewis and a "vigorous campaign" against a third term for President Roosevelt.

Interpreting The War News

Italian Morale Sags

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON

Loudest predictions of a dramatic military denouncement as a result of Axis strategic moves in France and Spain come from Italy, not Germany. They picture for Italian home consumption something big about to happen to help Italy get on with her slow-motion war in Egypt and the eastern Mediterranean.

It will have to be something very big to get any place. There would be no short-war connotations in a siege of Gibraltar, an Axis lunge via the Dardanelles on a 2,000-mile march to the east or Axis acquisition of French or Spanish air and submarine operating bases. All imply long-war readjustments, and it is waning hopes of a quick victory over Britain that is troubling Messrs. Hitler and Mussolini, particularly Mussolini.

Unless the new Axis technique in France and Spain—when disclosed—holds out hope to the Italian people of early escape from Britain's choke-hold sea blockade, the effect on Italian public morale might become serious this winter. Italy is the weak spot in Axis armor by every indication.

Italian morale has had little rich substance on which to feed recently. Highly seasoned tales of Italian naval victories that would be of minor consequence even if true cannot conceal the slow progress of the Italian drive in Egypt. It has been "consolidating" at Sidi Barrani for weeks.

Conflicting Reports

Only Friday, the Rome radio announced that a new Italian offensive in Egypt was imminent, that Marshal Rodolfo Graziani's army in North Africa was "now ready and fully prepared to deal a final blow to the British in Egypt." But at about the same time, the Italian high command reported that Italian positions east of Sidi Barrani had been shelled by British warships.

The odds have shifted in Britain's favor since the push to Sidi Barrani began weeks ago. Graziani was credited with some 260,000 men against Britain's probable 150,000 when he signalled his troops forward.

Only by air can Italian or German reinforcements have been transported.

Rome Admits Trouble

Even Rome admits that both British forces ashore in Egypt and the British fleet in the eastern Mediterranean have been augmented.

The Axis fostered talk of a siege of Gibraltar always has seemed primarily designed as a diversion. That "The Rock" can be taken quickly is not conceivable to anybody who has studied its natural strength.

DRAFT QUOTAS ARE COMPUTED

State Governors To Get Data Monday

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Figures to be used in computing draft quotas for 6,175 local board areas throughout the country have been compiled by national selective service headquarters for early distribution to state governors.

Regulations require the army to notify the governors by Monday how many men each state must contribute to the first 30,000 draftees to be inducted into service November 18. The call for men will be distributed by the governors among the local boards.

The board quotas will be figured on the same basis as quotas for the states. Figures which will be used in these computation will include estimates of the class 1A (fit and available for service) manpower of each state and estimates of the quota credits for volunteers from each state.

Credit For Volunteers

A state's quota is the difference between the number of class 1A men it should contribute to the land and naval forces in existence next July 1 and the number which it already has contributed, and will contribute through regular voluntary enlistments, to those armed forces.

Class 1A manpower for the whole nation is estimated by national headquarters at 5,000,000 of the 17,000,000 young men registered. A state with 50,000 men in class 1A has 1-100th of the manpower and should, therefore, contribute 1-100th of the total forces of 1,900,000 to be in existence next July 1, or 19,000.

That number would be reduced by the total of men in service plus those expected to enlist by July 1. If that aggregated 10,000, for example, the state's actual quota of conscripts would be 9,000.

LABOR RULES OUTLINED AT VALLEY MEET

Miss Tish Checks On Violations Here

McALLEN — Texas labor laws were explained to employers of McAllen and Weslaco in meetings held Thursday and Friday by Mrs. Edith Tish of Corpus Christi, deputy labor commisisoner.

The Thursday meeting was held at the McAllen Chamber of Commerce, presided over by Chamber Manager Paul T. Vickers and the Friday session at Weslaco, presided over by Chamber Manager John Hager.

The purpose of Mrs. Tish's trip was to check up on reports of state labor law violations and to acquaint employers with the Texas regulations covering men, women and children.

She said children under the age of 15 cannot be employed in industry without permission from county judges. Such children can work only eight hours a day and may not work at night. The law does not apply to agricultural and dairy pursuits.

Boys under 17 cannot be employed in dangerous jobs and cannot be sent as messengers to places of ill repute.

Women under state law can work only 54 hours a week, or nine hours a day, except in laundry and cleaning establishments, where they may work 11 hours daily, with time and a half for overtime.

The health, comfort and morals of workers also was stressed. There must be separate rest room facilities for men and women employed in the same industry, Mrs. Tish said.

Texas laws do not cover men workers with the exception of those on public projects, who can work only eight hours daily at the prevailing wages. The national wage-hour law covers male employes.

MERCEDES—Poultry raisers will find many new ways to earn more profit from their business at the REA farm electric equipment show November 28-29 in Mercedes. The show will be staged by the Rural Electrification Administration under sponsorship of Magic Valley Electric Cooperative, Incorporated.

The show features demonstrations and discussions of the fact that electricity in poultry raising can lead to healthier birds, lowered costs, and more eggs in the season of shorter days and higher prices. Teare, show manager, include shelling, grinding, and cutting of local grain and forage crops. A small automatic mill with an overhead bin shows how a farmer can grind a day's feed by simply pushing a button.

Trailer and booth exhibits include water pumps, irrigation systems, portable motors, dairy and poultry equipment, a farm workshop, and hundreds of small appliances. WANT TO GET THE RAZZBERRY?

Try telling folks electric rates have been cut in half!

I WORK FOR Central Power and Light Company and the other night I had supper over at Jim and Edith's house. "No fooling" I told them, "you really do get about twice as much electricity today as you did ten or twenty years ago for the same money." They gave me the ha-ha. "Maybe you mean the bill is twice as high nowadays" said Jim. I said, "Your bill probably is higher, Jim. Mine is, too. But there's a good reason for it. Look here . . ."

And I took them around their house and pointed out their refrigerator and electric washer and percolator, radio, toaster, iron, and all the other electric gadgets, not to mention the big bulbs in the lamps. And I said, "Now honestly aren't you using a whale of a lot more electricity than you did ten or twelve years ago?" They said that was right.

"Our service is better, too" I said. "Look." I took three blocks that their youngest boy had been playing with and put them in a row on a table. Then I showed them how we've got two and three plants hooked on the very line that brought juice into that room, so if something went on the blink in one plant, service would go right on. Jim scratched his head and said, "Never realized that?"

Then I tossed a dime and a nickel on the table real dramatic-like and said, "And you get all this service for only about fifteen cents. Light, refrigeration, cool ironing, swell coffee—for fifteen cents a day! Edith, you're a good bargain hunter—is this a bargain or is it a bargain?" She nodded. "Never thought of it like that, but it certainly is," she said.

"And here's something else," I said. "You not only get twice as much electricity for your money, you cut your rate every time you use more. With our modern rates, the more electricity you use the more you cut your rate."

Well, I guess my little speech made an impression all right because a few days later I saw Edith looking at electric ranges. Mighty smart gal, that Edith. If I could find another one like her, I'd marry her quick.

CENTRAL POWER AND LIGHT COMPANY

Would Make Soldier Center

BROWNSVILLE—Word has been received from the National Council for Young Men's Christian Associations that funds may be collected at the council's meeting this week-end in Pittsburgh for establishment of a Y.M.C.A. recreational center for soldiers here.

C-l. W. E. Talbot, vice president and general manager of the Brownsville Chamber of Commerce, said a letter from the national council stated "there is a definite need for a Y.M.C.A. in Brownsville, and plans are being made to meet the need as soon as necessary funds can be collected."

Need Seen

Edward J. Fuller of New York City, army and navy department representative of the council, visited Brownsville recently to investigate need for a "Y" center here.

He conferred with Col. Talbot, Chaplain L. W. Cronin of Fort Brown and Frank Davis, president of the chamber of commerce.

Mr. Fuller stated at that time that local groups would have to furnish the location and utilities for a Y.M.C.A. here, and the national council would furnish the personnel and educational facilities.

Since that time, Col. Talbot has asked H. L. Stokely, chairman of the chamber's military and naval affairs committee, to form a local group for the purpose of obtaining a location and utilities for the project.

City To Cooperate

All service clubs, ex-service men's organizations, churches, women's clubs and other civic and patriotic groups will be asked to cooperate.

"This project won't take a whole lot of money, but it does demand united support of all Brownsville citizens," Col. Talbot declared.

T. A. Rymer of the national Y.M.C.A. council's army and navy department in New York City has requested E. W. Hearne of Melrose, Mass., to come to Brownsville to handle preliminary preparations for the project, a letter received by Col. Talbot said.

No acceptance had been received from Hearne up to Saturday. The letter stated that after Hearne had established the Y.M.C.A. here, the national council would provide a secretary for the center.

Fort To Be Enlarged

"The garrison at Fort Brown is due to be greatly enlarged in the near future, and soldiers at the post face many perplexing problems with very little opportunity for constructive use of leisure time," Col. Talbot said.

Mr. Rymer's letter stated that many requests for Y.M.C.A. centers have been received from many cities, but that the need for one in Brownsville seems to be greater than any other.

Mr. Rymer wrote that, with this in mind, a movement is on within the national council to take care of the need in Brownsville "more quickly than the rest."

The local group would also have to provide yearly funds for the upkeep of the center here, it was stated.

Teachers' College May Get ROTC Unit

DENTON —(AP)— President W. J. McConnell of the North Texas State Teachers College said Saturday night Col. Theodore K. Spencer had forwarded the school's application for a senior ROTC unit to Washington with the notation "approval recommended."

Col. Spencer is acting assistant adjutant general of the Eighth Corps Area, Fort Sam Houston. The school's facilities were inspected Monday by Col. E. A. Keyes of the Eighth Corps Area.

San Benito's Guard Is To Meet Tuesday

SAN BENITO—All San Benito men enlisted in the local unit of the Texas Defense Guard are urged by Harry J. Harris, captain of the unit, to meet at 8 p. m. Tuesday at the American Legion hall to watch drill session of Company M, Texas National Guard.

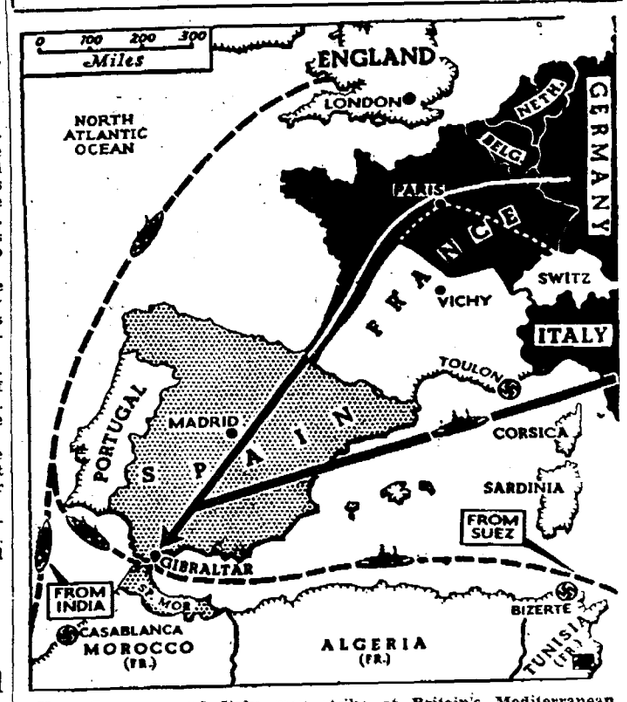
British Lifeline Next?



How Germany and Italy may strike at Britain's Mediterranean lifeline is shown in this map, based on diplomatic reports in Switzerland. A new agreement with France and Spanish co-operation would be big steps. France would yield naval bases like Toulon, Casablanca, Bizerte and Dakar (not shown). Spain would permit Axis powers to strike at Gibraltar and might enter the war against England. Arrows from Germany and Italy show possible routes of attacks on Gibraltar. Dotted line near Paris indicates possible new northern boundary of unoccupied France.

Note For Future Reference; If Ear Gets Torn Off, Save It Because It Can Be Sewed Back On Weeks Later

CHICAGO—(AP)—If an ear is torn off in an auto accident, the American College of Surgeons was advised, it should be saved because weeks or months later it can be put back on and will make a perfectly good new ear.

The report was made by Dr. H. L. D. Kirkham of Houston, Tex. The ear has to be kept in a preserative, but he said that even if it were not found until 24 hours after the accident, it still could be preserved.

Any dead person's ear, if preserved, can be used to make a good ear, he said.

The "dead" ear does not exactly live again, but its cartilage, which forms the bulk of the ear and virtually all of its contour, would be a skeleton on which a plastic surgeon could mold skin from the victim's own body to make a new ear.

HIGHWAY MEET SET

McALLEN — Valley chambers of commerce have been invited to send delegates to Stephenville Nov. 6 for a convention of Federal Highway 218 Association.

AGGIES PLAN CITRUS SHOW

Valley Fruit Features Display

BROWNSVILLE—The Valley will be well represented at the coming horticultural show at Texas A. and M. College.

Three earnest young students—Edgar L. Pewitt, Ty Kobayashi and T. J. McLeaish—are seeing to it themselves.

The boys were in Brownsville Saturday on the first lap of a trip to the Valley's major fruit exchanges and packing plants. Each firm, they said, is being asked to send a display of fruit, fruit juice or anything else they have on hand to the college's show November 25 and 26.

The concerns they already have called on promised to send exhibits, the boys said.

"All we're worried about now is how we are going to haul the fruit back to the school," they said.

The car was a 1936 model four-door sedan.

Police continued their search, meanwhile for the 1940 model auto owned by Warren Baden, stolen from in front of the Lee Auto Company where Baden is employed, Wednesday morning.

Patrolman Bales said it was his opinion that the cars were being taken across the Rio Grande to the vicinity of Reynosa.

AUSTIN —(AP)— An annual savings of $850,000 was foreseen Saturday by State Casualty Insurance Commissioner Reuben Williams as a result of new automobile liability schedules and classifications effective November 15.

Competitor Steals Nude Ned's Stuff

BROWNSVILLE—Some lowlifer is chiseling on the nude burglar.

A clothes line theft was reported to police Saturday by Claudio Oritz, 256 Jefferson, who reported the loss of two pairs of pants.

And the police say it wasn't the nude burglar's work, as badly as he is supposed to need pants.

According to Oritz he had two clothes lines about 200 feet long filled with wearing apparel of all sorts. Friday night some thief picked the line for the two pairs of pants and left all the rest of the clothes, many items of which were more valuable than the loot.

Meanwhile Piedmont, Calif., is experiencing a mild case of hysteria over a barefoot burglar whose current case history closely parallels that of the Brownsville burglaries.

At least four homes in the swank neighborhoods of wealthy and prominent Piedmonters were raided this week by the burglar who carries his shoes and enters through screens. His loot, like the Brownsville burglar's, is small. And Piedmont is excited.

In Brownsville, no burglary attempts have been reported to police during the past week.

WESLACO TO HOLD UNIQUE STYLE SHOW

Must Be Made From Valley Produce

WESLACO — An onion ensemble or a radish and broccoli bathing suit will be possibilities here Dec. 12 at the National Fruit, Vegetable and Flower Costume Style show.

Show officials Saturday announced a list of prizes for the best costumes made entirely out of Valley fruits, vegetables, flowers, or the combination of all three.

Rules covering the throwing together of these edible fashions require that the fruits or vegetables or flora used must be native to the Valley—no California or Florida citrus will be tolerated.

Models showing off these vitamin and calory conscious creations must not be over 16, but the show officials aren't worried about having to bar somebody's grandmother from the show. It will take young girl to carry around a grapefruit polo coat.

Models may be entered by any club, organization, business or individual. They may be entered in any one of the three following divisions:

1. Street and sport dresses; first prize; $35; second prize, $25.
2. Costumes representing state, nation, or famous characters, first prize, $35; second prize, $25.
3. Evening gowns; first prize, $35; second prize, $25.

Entries from out of Weslaco, if they don't win one of the regular prizes, will compete for two special awards, one for $25, the other for $15.

The style show will be one of the features of Weslaco's Twenty-first Birthday party. Mrs. C. Burt M. McKeehan is chairman.

Allowables Hike

Week's Oil Produced Up 1688 Barrels

AUSTIN—(AP)—Net allowable oil production in Texas averaged 1,416,911 barrels daily the past week, an increase of 1,688 over last week and 111,711 above the U. S. Bureau of Mines estimate, railroad commission engineers reported Saturday.

The engineers said, however, that estimated assigned but unproduced allowables amounted to 42,507 barrels a day, dropping the state's actual production over the federal bureau's figure to 69,204.

New Oil wells during the week numbered 136 and brought the year's total to 5,826. The additional wells gave the state an overall total of 94,189.

Solon Says Honest Elections Promised Cook County Areas

CHICAGO —(AP)— Senator Clyde Reed (R-Kan), member of a senate subcommittee designated to investigate complaints of election irregularities in Chicago, declared Saturday that "we are going to see that Cook county has honest and fair elections."

"There is no fooling about this inquiry," he said. "We are in earnest, determined to get at the bottom of all this.

"In all probability a federal grand jury will be convened—and if the special prosecutor, Maurice Milligan, obtains as many convictions, proportionately, as he did in the Kansas City election cases, a couple of thousand people will go to jail."

American Ship Will Become Sub Tender

JERSEY CITY, N. J.—(AP)—The American export liner Exochorda—ending her last voyage as a merchantman before entering service as a U. S. navy submarine tender—arrived from Lisbon with 186 passengers—60 of them American citizens returning from the war zone.

Among the passengers was Konrad Heiden, German-Jewish author who had been placed on the Nazi death list for writing a book criticizing Hitler. Interned in a French prison camp near Tours, he said he escaped when German planes bombed and machine-gunned the prison. During the excitement, he said, he escaped to Lisbon "with the aid of American friends."

'Arrest Us If We Race To Fires,' C-C Men Propose

McALLEN—Motorists who rush to fires, hindering firemen in their work, stand condemned by McAllen Chamber of Commerce directors.

The directors agreed they themselves should be arrested and fined if they rush to blazes and interfere with the fire fighters.

Fire Chief Alfred Myers, the volunteer fire department members and Chief of Police Noah Cannon have urged people to stay at home or get completely off streets, or pull to the curb and stop on all streets leading to a fire area. Chamber directors determined to uphold the pleas vigorously.

Insurance men said the habit of thoughtless, excited McAllen people rushing to fires is liable to cause a raise in insurance rates. The former chief, C. H. Britton, said that some day a $200 fire may go into a $50,000 fire because McAllen people get in the path of the fire fighters.

Fathers and mothers sometimes put their children in the family auto and race to a fire, thereby risking the lives of the children endangering the lives of other citizens and the fire fighters and encreasing the liability of serious property losses by hindering the fire fiughters, directors said.

Last Tuesday night when a little blaze broke out on Maple Avenue, North Main Street was so congested by the curious, fire fans, that members of the volunteer fire department could hardly reach Maple; cars were crowded into trees and on to lawns and serious crashes were avoided by a hair's breadth, chamber directors declared.

HIDALGO WILL SEEK 5,000 IN RELIEF DRIVE

County's Red Cross Needs Outlined

EDINBURG—Mobilization of man power for national defense will demand increased Red Cross services to the armed forces of America, A. M. Tarbutton of Edinburg, Hidalgo county chairman, declared Saturday. Tarbutton said he hoped the goal of 5,000 members set for Hidalgo would be exceeded.

Fortunately, Tarbutton added, these services are so well organized nationally and locally that they are capable of rapid expansion. Cost of the necessary extension of activities on behalf of service men will be met, as in the past, from membership contributions. This year the Red Cross conducts its roll call of members in Hidalgo from November 11-30, he said.

"The war service of the American Red Cross," he announced, "has representatives at 77 field offices and hospitals. In the past year more than 53,000 soldiers, sailors, marine and coast guardsmen or their families were aided in solving all kinds of problems arising from economic, illness and social causes."

Tarbutton declared the war personnel in the field could not function without the aid of 3,700 local chapters and 6,600 branches of the Red Cross. "Indeed," he emphasized, "the vast area covered by the chapter set-up is the main reason why the Red Cross today is in a position to render invaluable service to our country's defense forces."

The war service also continues to carry on its program for disabled veterans of past wars, he said. "The individual cases of 140,000 U. S. veterans or their dependents came under Red Cross care in chapters last year. In regional offices of the U. S. Veterans Administration and in government hospitals, Red Cross workers dealt with the problems of 58,000 ex-service men or their families."

He declared this entire program is "operated for the benefit of every American. It is conducted for our own sons, brothers and fathers. We can help by joining the American Red Cross or by renewing our membership from last year."

Turks Ask Rumanian. Funds Frozen In US Be Made Available

ANKARA, Turkey—(AP)—Usually reliable sources declared a recently-concluded trade agreement between Turkey and Rumania could not become effective unless the United States released at least $6,000,000 of the Rumanian funds frozen in America.

It was understood Rumania had requested that such an amount be released and earmarked for Turkey in order to purchase Turkish cotton. If the request is not granted, it was said, a new agreement may be worked out whereby Turkish copper would be exchanged for Rumanian oil.

WAGE TALLY PROVIDED BY U. S. BOARD

Records On Social Security Set Up

BROWNSVILLE—Opportunity for social security account holders to check on their old-age and survivors insurance accounts is offered by the Social Security Board in an announcement issued this week. The board says it is now ready to furnish to any account holder on request a statement of the wages credited to his particular account for 1939 and at least one quarter of 1940.

There are 50 million such accounts, according to F. E. Wilson, manager of the Brownsville Social Security Board field office.

Depends On Wages

"Social security accounts," F. E. Wilson said, "are the Social Security Board's record of each worker's wages as reported to the government by his employer. The monthly benefits payable to insured wage earners, to their wives or widows, and their children, or to their dependent parents, depend upon the amount of the worker's wages. Therefore, the board points out," it is important for the worker to check up once a year and find out for himself whether the record is correct."

Such an opportunity is provided by the board once a year beginning in July, and for the account holder's convenience, a postcard to use in asking for the statement of his wages is also provided. All the worker needs to do is fill out this card and mail it, or write a letter making the same request. In either case, he gives his name and address, his social security account number, and the date of his birth to identify his account. He will receive the reply in a sealed envelope, in accordance with the board's regulation which requires that any information about anybody's social security account shall be confidential.

Show Total Credits

The statement of wage credits will show the total of the worker's wages reported to the government by his employer or employers for the year 1939, and in addition for quarters in 1940 so far as the records have been posted. It will show also the total of all his wages as reported and processed since his social security account was started.

Employers send in the wage reports with their tax returns, every three months, to the Bureau of Internal Revenue. There the tax returns are audited. Then the wage reports are forwarded to the Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance in the Social Security Board, where the wages reported for each worker are transferred to his own particular social security account. The figures can then be furnished him on request.

1940 Cotton Staple Longer Than 1939's

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The average staple length of 1940 cotton ginned through October 17 was considerably longer but the proportions of middling and strict low middling white grades were somewhat larger than for the corresponding period last year, the Agricultural Department reported Friday.

Ginnings, which totaled 7,028,141 bales, contained only about two per cent of the spotted grades as compared with more than 15 per cent last season.

Texas' Riches Are Enough For Relief

WACO, Tex.—(AP)—H. P. Drought, state WPA administrator, told the Texas County Judges and Commissioners Association here Friday that Texas could afford the cost of an adequate state welfare program but was not carrying its share of the burden.

He advised the 500 delegates in a luncheon address there was "no possibility of the federal government's enlarging its work relief program," and said there were 60,000 Texas families needing direct relief.

Rincon Field Pipeline Highlight Of Oil News

McALLEN—Additional developments in the big Rincon field in Davis City, northeastern Starr county, included Friday the construction of a 15-mile pipeline from the field to trackside loading facilities on the Missouri Pacific Lines and construction of more than 50 new homes and buildings in the field.

The new pipeline, a 4-inch line, will lead from the big Rincon tank farm to the El Tanque field, about 11 miles to the southeast, and thence to the loading racks in Rio Grande City, another four miles. About 4,000 barrels of steel storage will be built at Rio Grande City to handle the incoming crude. The new line will not interfere with present facilities, the Valley Pipeline Company's Starr county gathering system through which a major part of the Rincon crude is transported to Port Brownsville for shipment by tanker. Rincon is now producing about 6,000 barrels daily. Estimated cost is around $30,000.

The new homes and buildings at Davis City will accommodate families of men stationed in the field as well as additional men expected to be sent to the area when the company starts construction of its anticipated gas-distillate recycling plant there. No further information as to the date for start of construction of the plant has been available.

Pipe for the Starr county pipeline begun arriving in the Valley and work will be started shortly. Company officials indicated that no additional labor is needed on the project, since the local labor supply is sufficient.

McALLEN—Two highly important Lower Rio Grande Valley wildcats were scheduled to run production tests this weekend, one in southwestern Hidalgo county and the other in eastern Willacy county. Little detailed information was available on the latter. Meanwhile, wildcats scattered through other parts of Hidalgo, Starr and Brooks counties added to the general wildcat scene in the southernmost Texas counties.

In southwestern Hidalgo, just a mile east of the prolific old Samfordyce field and almost squarely in the center of an area surrounded by dry holes from 2,000 to 5,000 feet deep, Royal Oil and Gas Co. No. A-1 Yturria Town and Improvement Co., PorCor, 43, Reynosa Jurisdiction, was almost certain to become a producer. Operators topped gas sand at 3,151 feet, which caused a blowout in the No. 1 Yturria, first well drilled on the block. Then gas sand was cored at 3,489-98 feet and oil sand at 3,498-3,502 feet. The hole was bottomed in shale at 3,535 feet and 5½ inch o.d. casing was cemented on bottom. Drill stem test of the sand recovered 1,330 feet of oil, and 90 feet of oily mud with 26 pounds pressure in 15 minutes. The oil was 28 gravity, A.P.I. Production test will be made through casing perforations in the lower part of the sand.

The 800-acre block on which the well was drilled is owned jointly by Royal Oil and Gas and by Baldridge and King, McAllen independent operators and drilling contractors. The section is known locally a sthe "Nichols area" because geology on the prospect was worked out by C. R. Nichols, McAllen geologist. The well represents the fourth location drilled in and around the Sullivan City and Samfordyce areas by Royal on what was generally regarded as questionable acrege but which has proved productive.

Northwest of Sullivan City production, Baldridge and King's No. 1 Garcia Land and Livestock Co., Por. 100, Camargo Jurisdiction, a short distance north of State Highway 4, was ready to sidetrack around 4,200 feet after the hole was ottomed at 4,228 feet with pipe stuck. The pipe was shot off at 4,200 feet and cement plug set.

In northeastern Hidalgo, Humble Oil and Refining Co. No. 1 American Life Insurance Co., Lot 1 Block 13, Mo-Tex Subd., Las Mestenas Grant, was reported coring steadily ahead at about 7,510 feet.

In eastern Willacy county, considerable attention was focused on Pan-American Production Co. No. 1 Porfiro Garcia, Share 13, San Juan de Carricitos Grant, which was reported to be running production test. The well was drilled to 9,002 feet and 7-inch o. d. oil string was reported cemented at 8,900 feet. Production tests were reported run on 7,800-foot and 8,500-foot shows but no information on the wildcat could be verified. A number of major companies and one or two independents hold all available acreage.

In eastern Starr County about five miles north of the big Rincon field, Sun Oil Co. No. 2 Mateo Saenz, Survey 80, was a semi-wildcat 1,700 feet north of the No. 1 Saenz, discovery well of another producing area lying, apparently, out on the flanks of Rincon. The No. 2 Saenz cemented 10 3-4 inch o. d. surface casing at 1,035 feet and was ready to start beneath the pipe. The Sun No. 1 Saenz was the second Vicksburg producer ever completed in the Valley.

A mile west of the discovery well of the "North Rincon" area, believed to be additional flank production of Rincon, but three miles to the north and a little west, Harvey Oil Co. No. 1 R. J. Moore, Survey 513, had cemented past 4,000 feet. Harvey No. 1 Davenport-State, Survey 514, a south offset to the North Rincon discovery, Sun No. 1 W. G. Lehr, was still making six to eight barrels daily by small heads through open tubing from sand at 4,106-19 feet.

On the east side of the Rincon field about 1,600 feet east of production, W. R. Davis, Inc., No. 1 Lucy Seyfriedt, Survey 928, was reported coring around 5,115 feet, but details on the well were not made public because of its important location. It is 1,600 feet east of the Complete Oil Well No. 1 Yzaguirre, which is 8,800 feet east of most northerly production at Rincon.

In northeastern Brooks county about six miles northeast of Falfurrias, J. M. West Production Co. No. 1 Wm. Ehlers, Sec. 12, Burton & Danforth Subd., Loma Blanca Grant, recovered 175 feet of oily mud and 210 feet of salt water with 260 pounds pressure from sand at 7,420-23 feet on 15-minute drill stem test. Operators continued making hole past 7,511 feet.

In southwestern Brooks about two miles east of the Alta Mesa field, Standard Dil Co., of Texas No. A-1 Braulia G. de Garcia, Share 1-A, Las Mestenas de Gonzalena Grant, was abandoned at total depth of 3,550 feet after the field sands at 2,600 and 2,700 feet showed oil and salt water on production tests.

McALLEN— Five South Texas proven fields added eight more wells Saturday in a very active week that saw steadily expanding activity in the producing area.

As usual, the Colorado field in western Jim Hogg County was the most active, accounting for three of the new producers, but the Sun, Boyle and Ricaby fields added one each in Starr County, while the Sullivan City field had two more in the tanks for the Hidalgo County field.

At the northwest extremity of the Colorado field, V. F. Neuhaus No. F-3 F. G. Trevino, Survey 37, cored the field san dat 2,934-45 feet and cemented 5 1-2 inch o. d. oil striking atop the sand. On production test, the well made 108 barrels daily on quarter-inch tubing choke with 220 pounds tubing working pressure and 870 pounds closed-in casing pressure.

Also in the northwest part of the field, C. Andrade III No. F-2 F. C. Trevino, Survey 37, made 212 barrels daily on quarter-inch tubing choke from sand at 2,939-50 feet after casing was cemented atop the sand. Tubing working pressure was 180 pounds and closed-in casing pressure was 800 pounds.

C. Andrade II No. F-3 F. G. Trevino, Survey 37, cored the field sand at 2,914 26 feet and it showed plenty of oil when cored. Casing was cemented at 2,914 feet for production test.

In northeastern Starr County, Sun Oil No. C-2 Geo. H. Speer, Survey 235, an inside well, was swabbing oil through casing perforations (9 shots) at 4,640-42 feet during production test. The hole was bottomed at 5,002 feet and 5 1-2 inch o. d. casing was cemented at 4,675 feet.

In the Boyle field in southern Starr, Borsodi Petroleum Co. No. 2 Juan de Dios Vela, Share 2-A, Por. 91, Camargo Jurisdiction, guaged 70 barrels daily on 1-8 inch tubing choke through casing perforations at 3,232-38 feet with 375 pounds tubing working pressure and 680 pounds closed-in casing pressure. This was the second producer in the field's 3,200 foot sand, and is located about one mile south of the Boyle discovery well, finaled in a 3,500 foot sand.

Two wells were making production tests in the Rincon field in eastern Starr County.

SCOUTS PLAN TROOP CHECK

Cameron Boys To Aid National Defense

BROWNSVILE — All Cameron County Boy Scout troops will observe National Roll Call week the first week in November in co-operation with the national emergency program, according to Ralph M. Cissne, Boy Scout field executive for the Lower Valley area.

Mr. Cissne said the roll call will be held by Boy Scout troops all over the nation for the purpose of checking on the qualifications of all troops, Scout leaders and Scouts.

Chairmen of various troop committees will be responsible for having 100 percent attendance at committee meetings during that week, and Scoutmasters and junior leaders will be responsible for perfect attendance at troop meetings during that time, Mr. Cissne said.

Spiritualist Sees 'Moses' In Vision: Predicts '41 Axis Split, British Win; Bears Out Minister's 1940 Prophecy

BROWNSVILLE — Italy will break her ties with Germany in the near future, and Britain will emerge victorious from the present war in Europe early in 1941, according to Rev. J. P. Morgan, local spiritualist minister.

A vision of a man, who identified himself as "Moses" appeared to Reverend Morgan during the past week and informed him that Britain "not yet but soon would be victorious in the end of this struggle," the minister said.

Reverend Morgan said the "vision and words" showed "the long white way leading up into the great high mountains with the Spirit holding a flag in each hand standing on the highest peak at the end of the road."

Spirit Carries Flag

"The Spirit carried the American flag in the right hand and a misty-colored flag in the left hand with the word 'British' written through it," Reverend Morgan said.

"This showed that not yet but soon Britain would be victorious in the end of this struggle," he stated.

"Then the spirit of an old man with curly gray hair, deep blue eyes and long flowing gray whiskers appeared, carrying a trumpet in each hand ready to sound the victorious wonders to the world," he continued.

"The messenger gave his name as "Moses," and a German officer was watching his movements, ready to flee in horror and terror from the great loss that was upon him," Reverend Morgan related.

Italy Kicks Germany

"And as Moses journeyed into the mist I saw the toe of the Italian boot kicking the German officer out, and the plain words that followed were: "Get out and stay out!," which denoted Italy realizing that he had been led into great losses by broken German promises."

"This vision bears out the prophecy which they gave me in June, 1940, predicting beforehand that Italy would join Germany and that both would fail in February, 1941," Reverend Morgan concluded.

Status Of Wealthy Texan Being Probed

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M.—(AP)—District Judge Bryan Johnson delved further into the affairs of Guy L. Waggoner to determine whether the wealthy sportsman is a legal resident of New Mexico or Texas.

Upon the outcome rested whether New Mexico or Texas courts would try divorce litigation pending in the two states between Waggoner and his attractive wife, Virginia Green Waggoner of Fort Worth.

U. S. INSURANCE HOLDERS MAY CHECK CREDIT

Social Security Head Opens Books

BROWNSVILLE — Opportunity for social security account holders to check up on their old-age and survivors insurance accounts is offered by the Social Security Board now, F. E. Wilson, manager of the Brownsville board field office said Saturday.

The board is now ready to furnish to any account holder on request a statement of the wages credited to his particular account for 1939 and at least one quarter of 1940. Wilson said there were 50 million such accounts.

Full Record Kept

"Social security accounts," Wilson said, "are the social security board's record of each worker's wages as reported to the government by his employer. The monthly benefits payable to insured wage earners, to their wives or widows and their children, or to their dependent parents, depend upon the amount of the worker's wages. Therefore the board points out, it is important for the worker to check up once a year and find out for himself whether the record is correct."

Such an opportunity is provided by the board once a year beginning in July, and for the account holder's convenience, a post card to use in asking for the statement is provided. All the worker needs to do is fill out this card and mail it, or write a letter making the same request. In either case, he gives his name and address, his social security account number, and the date of his birth to identify his account. He will receive the reply in a sealed envelope, in accordance with the board's regulation which requires that any information about anybody's social security account shall be confidential.

Shows Full Totals

The statement of wage credits will show the total of the worker's wages reported to the government by his employer or employers for the year 1939, and in addition for quarters in 1940 so far as the records have been posted. It will show also the total of all his wages as reported and processed since his social security account was started.

Employers send in the wage reports with their tax returns, every three months, to the Bureau of Internal Revenue. There the tax returns are audited. Then the wage reports are forwarded to the Bureau of Old Age and Survivors Insurance in the Social Security Board, where the wages reported for each worker are transferred to his own particular social security account. The figures can then be furnished him on request.

It's simply parlance of bus drivers, pilots of swift inter-city and transcontinental "battle-ships" with a lingo of their own as characteristic as that of a soldier or printer.

Some of the terminology, with interpretations by Jack Breslin, Baltimore bus terminal dispatcher:

Geese—foreigners.

Geeches—"you-all" from Georgia.

Daisies—girls traveling alone.

Doughnut—a bus tire.

Putting her in the wind—stepping on the gas.

The Man—any policeman.

NEW YORK—Shades of King Arthur!

Men and women in warring countries should adopt a 1940 version of the armor worn when knighthood was in flower, says Stephen Grancsay, curator of arms and armor at the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

Grancsay says a suitable outfit could be manufactured in mass production for less than $100. He contends many serious wounds could be prevented if people were given such protection from shrapnel fragments, falling debris and spent bullets.

To objectors who argue that armor-clad civilians wouldn't have sufficient mobility, Grancsay retorts they'd have more than they now have hiding in air raid shelters.

Minister Repents

Confesses He Hunted Without License

PRATT, Kas. —(AP)— Guy Josserand, game official, received a letter from an Illinois minister that said:

"Many years ago as a boy I remember breaking one of the game laws of the state— going hunting without a license.

"Of course, this may seem out of order to some but since that time, about 17 years ago, I have moved away, become a Christian and am now a minister of the Gospel and I do not want anything between my soul and the Lord.

"Therefore I ask you to forgive me for this, as I am sorry for it, and will do what you think best."

Josserand suggested if the minister would help conserve wildlife in the future it might aid his conscience.

Primitive Magic Walks Hand-In-Hand With Rigid Christianity On Texas' Alabama-Koasati Indian Reservation

AUSTIN—(AP)—Primitive magic walks hand in hand with rigid Christianity to make the Alabama-Koasati Indian reservation in Polk county the state's No. 1 paradox, W. E. S. Dickerson told the Texas Archeological and Paleontological Society Saturday.

The University of Texas ethnologist, himself part Choctaw, claimed inhabitants of the 4,351-acre reservation reveal a "remarkable" tenacity for tribal culture despite a 400-year contact with the white race.

"In external forms—religion, dress, food, housing and language—these Indians have become largely indistinguishable from the white groups around them," he said.

"But honeycombed under the Christianity are invisible Indian traits which have survived the impact of white civilization."

These traits include co-operative effort, the use of tribal language as a medium of expression among themselves, retention of certain primitive foods such as sofki which is a native corn dish, and a mystic attitude toward nature.

Converted to Presbyterianism in 1881, the tribes are devout Christians and their church is the "physical and spiritual center of the village," Dickerson said.

He added drinking, gambling and veneral diseases were so rare as to be practically non-existant.

The average for Valley fruit was $2.10 per box for 53,969 boxes and the Florida average was $1.72 per box for 96,570 boxes.

The Valley fruit averages ranged from $1.72 per box at St. Louis, the nearest auction market and having the lowest freight rate, to $2.42 per box in New York, generally regarded as a Florida market because of water transportation.

TEXAS FARM INCOME OFF

August Decline Is 21 Per Cent

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The bureau of Agricultural Economics in its report covering farm income for August disclosed that Texas suffered a decline of 21 per cent as compared with the same month last year.

The bureau reported that because of the later movement of the cotton crop this year, income from crops throughout the entire south was smaller in August than in the same month of 1939.

Texas alone among all south central states showed a drop from the previous year in income received in August from sales of livestock and livestock products. In addition, Texas was one of the few states which showed a drop during the month in the total amount of government payments received as compared with August a year ago.

Total cash income for Texas farmers in August, 1940, including government payments, was $44,566,000. The total in August of 1939 was $56,252,000. Government payments in August 1940 were only $1,747,000, as compared with $5,706,000 in August, 1939. Crop income last August was $27,079,000, as compared with $34,446,000 in August, 1939. Income from livestock and livestock products was $15,740,000 in August, 1940, and $16,100,000 in August of 1939.

Van Field Jumped

Daily Allowable Now 16,591 Barres

AUSTIN—(AP)—Among a number of oil and gas orders, the railroad commission Saturday granted an increase in permissible oil production of nearly 5,000 barrels daily to the Van field in Van Zandt county.

Retroactive to October 16, the order permitted a raise in the BP CR's allowable from the current 12,030 barrels a day to 16,591 and declared the increase was granted on testimony that the crude could be produced without waste and a firm demand for it existed.

Allowable production of sour gas in the Panhandle field was reset at 686,000,000 cubic feet daily in November, under regulations which have obtained since May 4, 1938.

Recycling of gas from wells in La Gloria field in Jim Wells and Brooks counties was permitted under certain conditions and the Texas Company and Stanolind Oil and Gas Company were allowed to return salt water through certain wells to porous horizons.

Wallace Asserts FD Democracy's Symbol

ROCHESTER, N. Y.—(AP)—Henry A. Wallace Saturday labeled President Roosevelt the "very symbol of democracy" to the whole world and added his defeat would "bring despair" to all democratic nations.

"His reelection would make it far more certain that we would not be attacked on this hemisphere," the Democratic vice presidential candidate told a crowd estimated by police at 2,000.

Just What Would Army Do If It Had Hit A Cow?

NEW ORLEANS—(AP)—The army, fastidious about spending any of America's 15 billion-dollar defense fund, is trying to learn how much a pound of pork was worth—and what kind of pork—before it was squashed under the wheels of an army truck in Louisiana last August.

Brigadier General Raymond H. Fleming, adjutant general of Louisiana, made public just two of the letters passing between colonels on the subject.

In the following official correspondence only the names are fictitious:

"Dear Colonel:—I have been detailed formally to investigate the circumstances, determine the damage, and make recommendations concerning a claim resulting from an accident involving United States army one and a half ton dump truck No. 317474 driven by Private Blank of Company Blank, Blank Engineers Battalion, and a 60-pound O.I.C. sow, the property of Mr. Blank of Merryville, La., alleged to have occurred on or about August 26, 1940, under the provisions of paragraph 7B, AR 35-7020.

In Quintuplicate

"Before submitting by report, I should like to request that you furnish me in quintuplicate, a statement showing the value of the cost per pound of a hog, prevailing in Beauregard parish, Louisiana, during August, 1940, that was adopted by your Third Army maneuver damage and claims officer, to be used as a basis for determining the amount due claimant. I have been informed that such a figure was adopted by that officer.

"Thanking you for your kind assistance in this matter, I am,

Sincerely yours,
Colonel Blank."

Three days later, and very recently at that, this letter drew the following official response:

"Dear Colonel:—I have your letter regarding the collision between a one and a half ton United States army truck and a 60-pound sow O.I.C. I am referring it to Colonel Blank, rents and claims officer, at Camp Beauregard, to the Louisiana State Department of Agronomy and Hug Husbandry, and also to the Bureau of Weights and Standards in Washington, for reply direct.

What Kind Hit?

"We had several categories of swine in the maneuvers, wandering shoat, barrow, pig, sow, boar and plain hog. We will do our best to place your animal in the proper class for its weight and size. I hope they send the data in quintuplicate.

Sincerely yours,
Colonel Blank."

PARRICIDE TO STAY IN JAIL

Board Delays Action On Move Request

AUSTIN—(AP)—Sheriff Jim McCoy Saturday asked the State Board of Control to transfer Howard M. Pierson, 26-year-old parricide, to the state hospital for insane at Rusk but the board took no action.

Dr. C. H. Standifer, superintendent of the Austin State Hospital from which Pierson escaped in 1938 and whom a district court has vested with sole authority to act, said he had made no request for Pierson's transfer.

The former University of Texas student, who shot his parents to death in 1935, remained in the county jail.

Members of the board, which must pass on all patient transfers, asserted no action would be taken unless a formal application is received from Dr. Standifer.

Clearing Up

When the Harlingen Cardinals won over the McAllen Bulldogs 7 to 6 Friday night at McAllen, they went a long way toward clearing up the Class AA situation in the Valley.

To date the Cardinals have won two conference games, the Brownsville Eagles one, the Bulldogs none, the Edinburg Bobcats none, and the San Benito Greyhounds none. Each Valley Class AA team plays four games in the South zone bracket and the winner then goes against the winner in the North zone. It can be seen that the Cardinals have a better grip on the title at present than the other four teams in the district.

Looking ahead, the Cardinals must win over Brownsville and San Benito to claim undisputed right to the championship of the South zone. They should get by San Benito without much trouble but are certain to have their hands full with Brownsville.

Two Class AA games are scheduled this week-end, McAllen journeying to Brownsville and Edinburg going to San Benito. Edinburg should have little trouble winning over the injury-riddled Greyhounds but fans can expect a slam-bang affair when the Bulldogs and Eagles collide.

No Sympathy

We have long been opposed to betting on high school football games and for that reason we cannot sympathize with those McAllen fellows who drove all to way to Harlingen to put their money and points on McAllen last Friday night.

Somehow we cannot get aroused about wagers made on college games thousands of miles away but there is no place for betting on a high school game.

Youngsters are condemned for a mistake or two on the field and coaches are under fire all because some guy lost 50 cents on a game. If this same guy had no wager up, he would take the game of football in high school for what it is—a fine game bringing together two teams of kids 17 and 18 years of age or less.

We have heard grown men tell these youngsters as they went on the field, "Get out there and win. I have $10.00 bet on you." We have never been lucky enough to hear what one of these fellows told a player as he left the field after his team lost. But we can imagine the conversation.

We grant there seems no logical way to stop this evil. It is simply up to an individual to decide for himself that he will make no wagers on a high school game.

Tough One To Lose

Playing in a sea of mud, the Brownsville Eagles lost a tough one to the Gladewater Bears, 6 to 0, at Brownsville last Friday night.

We think the score should have been 0-0 after watching the teams battle back and forth, slipping and sliding and handling a slick, muddy football.

Outside of one 33 yard run by a Gladewater back, there was no real offense shown by either team because of the condition of the field. The first down record shows that, the Eagles making six and Gladewater four.

As we saw the game, there were two factors that might be the real reason for Gladewater winning—the kicking of Murphy and the play of the two Bear guards. These two linemen played a good part of the game in the Brownsville backfield.

Gladewater's score came quickly, Murphy finding a hole and slipping through the middle of the line to go on over the goal. Incidentally it was the first time the Brownsville goal line has been crossed this season.

It was too bad the game couldn't have been played on a dry field. Somehow we believe it would have been a dilly between two evenly matched teams.

And we still think the score should have been 0-0.

The Big Push

Comes November and the peak of the year for Southwest Conference football. Three conference games—the maximum number possible—will be played on each of the next three Saturday afternoons.

Headliner for the immediate Saturday — Nov. 2 — is undoubtedly S.M.U. and Texas at Austin. Not since 1934 have the Longhorns managed to come out on the long end of the score against the Methodists. The Bible plan plans to call a halt to that habit.

The Texas Christian eleven comes back to Fort Worth for its first appearance at home in a month. Opposition will be furnished by T.C.U.'s ancient and honorable rival, the Baylor Bears. When Frogs and Bears mix it up on the gridiron, the result is unpredictable. But the Frogs do point out that the Bears won last year, and that it's T.C.U.'s time now.

The powerful Aggies draw the not-too-strong Arkansas Razorbacks in College Station. It would be the most majorest upset of the year for the visitors to do more than make a good showing against the Aggie strength.

Saturday will be recess for the Rice Owls. They meet Texas A. & I. at Houston in a night game.

Weems Piles Up Yardage At Houston

Bob Brumley Scores One Touchdown

By WILLIAM T. RIVES

HOUSTON —(AP)— Rice Institute, playing its grandest game of the young season, struck down the colors of unbeaten, untied Texas University Saturday, bursting loose in two terrific surges for a 13-0 victory.

The bonfire eager Rice students had built on the campus Friday night still smouldered as the Owls set out in their first Southwest Conference clash, underdogs against the league's leading grond-gainer.

Owls Strike Quickly

With shocking suddeness Rice showed it was no respecter of reputations, racing across for a touchdown in the first 4 1-2 minutes.

T. A. Weems, the tall Rockdale sophomore, who wrote his name indelibly on Rice's roll of honor Saturday, touched off the explosion.

Rice took the ball on a punt on its own 31, on the first play from scrimmage, Weems zig-zagged 41 yards on reverse around right end to the Texas 28. Bob Brumley and Price shook the Texas line to the 6 and Brumley carried it over in three tries, Weems kicked the point.

The third period lasted only four plays before Rice scored again. Weems snuggled the kickoff and churned 55 yards downfield, finally being run out again on the Texas 29. Three plays later, from the 24, Brumley broke through the Longhorn forward wall and lateraled to Weems just as he was being tackled along the 10-yard line. Weems cut behind two tacklers and raced over. He failed on his conversion attempt.

Crain Stopped

Jack Crain, the wraith of Texas University, was just another ballplayer Saturday. His net gain in five tries was four yards, compared to Weems' 94 in 13 efforts.

Crain played about 26 minutes. He was injured in the Arkansas game last Saturday and did not suit up this week until Thursday. Coach Dana Bible apparently was content to use him no more.

Rice rolled up 201 yards rushing, holding Texas to a meek 94. The Longhorn, however, plucked 102 yards on Pete Layden's and R. L. Harkins' passes. Rice completed no passes but tried only three in view of its whacking success along the ground.

The starting lineups:

Rice	Pos.	Texas
Dewoody	LE	Sweeney
Hartman	LT	Williams
Goforth	LG	Dawson
Whitlow	C	Goodwin
Bassett	RG	Jungmichel
Heard	RT	Mauldin
Prichard	RE	Kutner
Everett	QB	Grubbs
Weems	LH	Mayne
Price	RH	Doss
Brumley	FB	Layden

Score by periods:

Rice	7	0	6	0	—13

Rice scoring: touchdowns, Brumley, Weems, point from try after touchdown, Weems (from placement).

Officials: referee, Jeff Farris, Oklahoma; umpire, Theron Fouts, Baylor, head linesman, Jack Roach, Baylor; field judge, Winton Noah, North Texas.

Tulane Defeats North Carolina

CHAPEL HILL, N. C.—(AP)—A third string quarterback who entered the game in its closing minutes rushed through the line, blocked a North Carolina kick and helped Tulane to a 14-13 victory over the Tar Heels Saturday.

A homecoming crowd of 20,000 saw the contest in clear, hot weather.

The substitute quarterback was Tom Glass, a Tulane home town product from New Orleans. With the Green Wave trailing 13-7, with the ball in North Carolina's possession on Tulane's 43, with less than two minutes to play—he turned defeat into victory.

Knifing through North Carolina's line, Tom blocked a kick by Harby Dunkle. Albert Bodney of Gary, Ind. Tulane end, grabbed the ball on North Carolina's 45 and raced untouched into the end zone. Jimmy Thibaut, another New Orleans product, coolly booted the deciding extra point from placement.

NAVY 21; YALE 0

YALE BOWL, New Haven—(AP)—Undefeated Navy's power and deception gave it a well-earned 21 to 0 victory over Yale Saturday before 47,000 fans. Lenz and McTigue took touchdown passes while Cameron tallied on a brilliant 35 yard dash.

HUSKIES 7; BEARS 6

SEATTLE—(AP)—Washington came from behind in the fourth period to defeat hard-driving and stubborn California, 7 to 6, before 25,000 fans Saturday. California scored in the third quarter on a 56-yard touchdown run by Gene Pickett; then missed the extra point.

The Javelinas are strong in their class this season, but they'll be out of their class when they go up against Coach Jess Neeley's 1940 version of the Owls.

For the first time since the season opened, the week's grid bill offers no intersectional contest for a Southwest eleven. But there are several more to be played before the season ends.

T.C.U. meets Detroit at Detroit Nov. 9. Arkansas plays Fordham in New York City Nov. 21, and Texas contests with the University of Florida at Gainesville Dec. 7.

Hogs Come From Far Behind To Trim Ole Miss

Score 2 Touchdowns In Last Quarter

MEMPHIS, Tenn. —(AP)—Fighting a grim, uphill battle, Arkansas' valiant Porkers punched over a pair of Touchdowns in the final period to defeat a favored Ole Miss eleven 21-20 before approximately 12,000 roaring fans here Saturday.

Fullback Bob Forte, a 185-pound back from Lake Village, Ark., set up the winning touchdown, scooping in a partially blocked Rebel punt on the Ole Miss 37 and racing to the one. Jay Lawhon bulled over for the score and Simington kicked the vital extra point.

It was a bitter defeat for the unbeaten Bowl-minded Mississippians, seeking their fifth victory of the season. Fighting desperately in the last few seconds and sparked by their brilliant "H" boys, little Junie Hovious and Merle Hapes, Mississippi tried two field goals but had one blocked and the other fell short.

The "Passing Porkers" opened their bag of tricks five minutes after the game started. After working to the Rebel 14, Hamberg pitched to Ramsay for the score. Simington kicked the first of his three extra points.

The Rebels rallied and plowed through for a touchdown two minutes after the start of the second quarter. Little Junie set up the score with a pair of passes to Popp which carried to the Porker seven. In two tries Hapes crunched over. Hovious booted the extra point.

Minutes later, after Ole Miss again had battered into Arkansas territory, Hovious twisted through the line and ran 38 yards for the second score.

Most brilliant play of the game came on the third period opening kickoff when Les Dodson, a Columbus, Miss., boy, took the ball, and behind perfect interference, raced 90 yards for the third Rebel score. The try for extra point, which seemed unimportant at the time, was blocked.

Louisiana State Beats Vandy 7-0

BATON ROUGE, La. — (AP) — Louisiana State University unleashed a 40-yard scoring drive in the final period Saturday night to defeat Vanderbilt 7-0 before about 20,000 spectators for its first Southeastern Conference victory. Fumbles were frequent.

Louisiana State gained 164 net yards to Vandy's 43 and led 10 to 5 in first downs. The Louisiana forwards rushed the Commodore passers so hard and somthered them so often that in 16 attempts Vandy's net passing yardage was minus three.

As the third period ended Billy McKinney, third-string L.S.U. halfback, returned a punt 20 yards to Vandy's 40 and started the touchdown march. McKinney and Bob Kendrick, sub fullback, alternated through the line to bring it to the nine and Odell Weaver, reserve wingback, skirted left end on a reverse for the score.

Walter Barnes, big tackle, placekicked the extra point.

Bulldogs And Cards Attract Grid Fans

McALLEN—Gross receipts at the Harlingen-McAllen football game Friday night were $1,764.29, Supt. John H. Gregory announced.

The Harlingen school will receive 50 per cent of the net receipts, he said. Tickets cost 15 cents for grammar school students, 25 cents for junior and senior high school and 50 cents for adults.

HOYAS 26; VIOLETS 0

NEW YORK — (AP) — Undefeated Georgetown gave a crowd of 11,000 New Yorkers a glimpse of greatness Saturday as it crushed New York University's Violets 26 to 0 to extend its string of 21 games without a setback. The Hoya regulars played in only two periods, but the victors scored in every period except the second.

Texas Tech Red Raiders Defeat Marquette 20-13

MILWAUKEE—(AP)—Charley Dvoracek, hard-driving Texas Tech fullback, dashed 24 yards in the closing minutes to score and give the Red Raiders a 20 to 13 victory over Marquette University in a spirited football game here Saturday before 8,000.

Dvoracek's dash was the second of two quick thrusts by the invaders in the final period. The first, a 30 yard dash by Roger Smith, took the ball to the Marquette 24 and from that point the fullback went over, smashing through the center of line, cutting sharply and outracing the Marquette secondary to score.

Marquette got the jump, scoring early in the game. Jimmy Richardson passed to Johnny Goodyear for 17 yards to the one yard line and Doug Renzel pushed it over. Goodyear added the point with a place kick.

The Raiders took the kickoff back 45 yards to the Marquette 42 and then marched from there to score. Dvoracek going over from the one. The extra point kick by McKnight was wide.

Tech took the lead early in the second period on a 45 yard touchdown pass, from Storres to McKnight and this time McKnight kicked the point. Marquette fought back into a tie when Richardson climaxed a 60 yard advance by circling end for 34 yards and a touchdown. The place kick failed.

Marquette missed two scoring chances in the third period when it was stopped on the two yard line and on the seven.

Tulsa U. Trims Horned Frogs In Tight Grid Tilt

Golden Hurricane Scores Early

By BEN FUNK

TULSA, Okla.—(AP)—An inspired University of Tulsa football team smashed the famous Texas Christian University aerial attack Saturday and launched a vicious running and passing offensive of its own to score a startling 7-0 upset victory before 10,800 Homecoming Day fans at Skelly Field.

The Golden Hurricane, in the season's greatest demonstration of speed and power, stunned the Horned Frogs with a touchdown thrust in the first three minutes of the game and protected the lead by dominating all phases of play for the remainder of the afternoon.

Fifteen-yard penalties for holding stopped two Tulsa drives inside the T.C.U. ten yard line and a third march which carried to the seven yard stripe failed to produce a score when Halfback Roy Buffalo's attempt for a field goal went wide.

Texas Christian tried desperately to tie the score in the fading moments of the second period but the timekeeper's gun sounded with the ball six yards from the Hurricane goal.

Glenn Dobbs, Tulsa's great kicker, gave the crowd one of its biggest thrills with a mighty 70-yard boot that went out of bounds on the Frog one-yard line and paved the way for the game-winning touchdown.

Halfback Jimmy Vickers took the return punt on the 38 and raced back to the 23. On third down, Dobbs passed to Vickers on the one-yard line and as two tacklers smashed him down hard he fell with the ball inches across the goal. End Bill Grimmett's kick from placement connected beautifully for the extra point.

The Horned Frogs completed 16 passes out of 28 attempts but many of them gained only a yard or two as the alert Tulsa secondary smashed the receivers down in their tracks.

Altogether, T.C.U. gained 90 yards with its aerial game, while the Hurricane, with seven completions out of 15 tries, piled up 98 yards.

Tulsa also outgained the Frogs on running plays, 122 yards to 103, and held a decisive edge in kicking with an average of 46.44 yards per kick to 38.12 for Texas Christian.

Stanford Races Over Trojans

PALO ALTO, Calif— (AP) —Stanford scored two touchdowns in the last minutes of play Saturday to defeat Southern California 21 to 7 in their annual Pacific Coast Conference football classic before 55,000 spectators.

The thrilling contest saw Stanford drive 80 yards to break a 7-7 deadlock. With less than 60 seconds to go, quarter back Frank Albert intercepted a USC pass and ran 24 yards to clinch the game.

Stanford scored in the opening period and USC tied the count in the second.

By FELIX R. McKNIGHT

WACO—(AP)—The growing Texas A. and M. snowball flattened gallant, geared-up Baylor Saturday, 14-7, tumbling to its sixteenth straight triumph in one of the stoutest tests of the Aggies long string.

Hobbled at critical moments by the famed Baylor line, the Cadets drew deeply on their power, experience and passing game to build a two-touchdown lead that withstood Baylor's last minute surge.

Battered, weary, the screams of 20,000 fans beating their ears the last 20 minutes, the Aggies were glad to leave Municipal Stadium and a Baylor team that had been pointing for them since the playing date was announced months ago.

Aggies Pushed

The Aggies outgained and outscored the Baylors, but they had to fire All-America John Kimbrough, big Jim Thomason, Marion Pugh's aerial darts and their great line for 60 minutes to get on the winning side. The Aggies swept to 263 yards on a slightly slippery field, 155 of it from running, while Baylor rolled up 145 yards.

The first down margin went to the big red touchdown machine, 14 to six, and many times they lost scoring opportunities on their own errors and Baylor's valiant stands, but still they had to scramble to stifle Baylor in the last period.

Only one minute remained when the Aggies finally got the situation under control again. Then, on Kimbrough's battering forays outside the tackles, they were sweeping ahead down on the Baylor 13 yard line as the game ended.

Dwight Parks' meek kick-back that sailed out on the Baylor 40 started proceedings. Kimbrough and Conatser jabbing the tackles and skirting the ends, took turns about upsetting the Bruins. Just as Baylor's line girded down on their four for some of Kimbrough's bull rushing, Conatser tailed out around left end for the score, untouched. Pugh kicked the point.

Parks started connecting with passes to Witt that gained 22 and 11 yards in a drive that started from the Baylor 32 and ended in futility on the last play before the half when Odell Herman, Aggie center, intercepted on his own five and dashed 32 yards before smashed out of bounds.

Pass Nets Score

The second Aggie score came deep in the third period after Baylor had them back from the five yard line on Moser's fumble. Back on the Baylor 45, where Witt's kick settled, reserve back Marland Jeffrey spun a 15-yard pass that sophomore Bill Henderson, a gangling, six foot, six inch end, grabbed and took across on a beautiful sprint. Jake Webster kicked the point.

A 40-yard runback of a kickoff by Jim Witt, a grand ball carrier and leader, started the Bruins on their touchdown sally. With the ball on the Baylor 40, he started passing to Sophomore Jack Russell and Milton Crain, finally working down to the Aggie 29. Tiny Dwight Parks took over the chunking there and lofted a 15-yarder that Witt bagged at the 14 and took across for the score.

Tri-City Bears Wallop San Benito Hounds 20-6

PHARR— Scoring touchdowns in the first, second and third quarters, the Pharr-San Juan-Alamo Bears defeated the San Benito Greyhounds, 20 to 6, in a non-conference game here Saturday night. The game, postponed from Thursday night, drew a large crowd of fans.

In the opening quarter, the Bears recovered a San Benito fumble on the 20-yard line and pushed to the four from where Donnie Clark plunged over for a touchdown. He added a point by the same tactics. Taking the ball on the San Benito 48-yard stripe in the second period, Joe Tanner, Earl Pierce and Bud Robie combined forces to move to the San Benito 10 and Robie then went over for the second six-pointer of the game. The try for the extra point failed. Just before the first half ended, Pierce got away for a 60-yard scamper and crossed the goal but the play was called back and the Bears penalized for clipping.

Another drive in the third quarter gave the Bears their third touchdown, Robie going over from the three-yard line. Pierce added a point with a place kick.

The Greyhounds took to the air in the fourth quarter and with their passes clicking picked up 40 yards and a touchdown. Fox passed to Littlepage who went over the goal for San Benito's lone touchdown of the game. The try for the point failed. The Bears were held in check in the final stanza by the Greyhounds who never quit fighting.

The Bears chalked up 20 first downs to five for the Greyhounds.

Wildcats Claw Kansas 20 To 0

MANHATTAN, Kan.— (AP) —The Kansas State Wildcats did a businesslike job of disposing of Kansas University, 20 to 0, Saturday in the annual grudge battle to settle Kansas gridiron supremacy.

The Wildcats running attack rolled freely and their determined defense choked every Jayhawk scoring threat. Kansas State's Kent Duwe roared through the opening which the superior Kansas State line punched in the K-U forward wall and traveled exactly 140 yards on the ground during the afternoon. His average per try was 4.3 yards.

Ray Rokey, who replaced the Wildcat ace, Chris Langvardt, when the latter was injured, caught Duwe's pass for the initial touchdown and broke away for several nice gains during the game. In the first quarter he traveled 39 yards on a reverse.

Undefeated-Untied List Shrinks

By HERB BARKER

NEW YORK—(AP)—Football form took a terrific drubbing Saturday as Fordham, Texas, Mississippi, Columbia, Southern California and Penn dropped off the unbeaten list, and upsets were the rule all along the line.

Still undefeated and untied when the firing was over for the day were Cornell, Navy, Georgetown, Boston College, Penn State and Lafayette in the east; Michigan, Notre Dame, Minnesota, Northwestern and Detroit in the Mid West; the Texas Aggies in the Southwest; Tennessee and Clemson in the South; and Stanford in the Far West.

All-America Tom Harmon paced Michigan to a decisive 14-0 victory over Penn, scoring one touchdown on a 19-yard sprint and passing to end Ed Frutig for the other. A crowd of 60,000 saw Penn's ace, Frank Reagan, shackled all the day.

Fordham Loses

Fordham bowed to St. Mary's of California, 9-6, on Joe Aguirre's fourth period field goal; Mississippi surrendered to Arkansas' great fourth quarter surge, 21-20; Texas, with Jack Crain unable to get going, fell before Rice, 13-0; Columbia was topped by Syracuse, 3-0 when Leland (Buck) Morris drop-kicked a field goal in the last 40 seconds.

Cornell spotted Ohio State a touchdown and then came back to rout the Buckeyes, 21-7, before a record Ithaca crowd of 34,500. Lou Bufalino scored twice in the last quarter to salt the decision and run Cornell's unbeaten streak to 16 games.

A crowd of 63,186, biggest at Champagne in 11 years, looked on as Notre Dame, boasting its finest team in years, rolled over Illinois 26-0 with Steve Juzwik counting twice.

Navy, Georgetown, Boston College, Lafayette and Penn State, the other unbeaten Eastern outfits, won decisively. Georgetown ran its unbeaten streak to 21 games with 26-0 rout of New York University. Navy hammered Yale into submission, 21-0; Lafayette knocked over hapless Army, 19-0; Penn State ran up an 18-0 count on Temple, and Boston College spilled St. Anselm's, 55-0.

Dartmouth surprised with a 7-6 decision over Harvard and Brown's 9-6 victory over Holy Cross also was cause for eyebrow-lifting. Princeton handed Rutgers its first defeat, 28-13 and Wesleyan defeated Amherst, in an upset, 14-6, in the first game of the Little Three series.

Gophers Show Power

Minnesota turned loose all its power and trampled Iowa, 34-6, before 63,000 as George Franck scored four touchdowns. Northwestern, with Bill De Correvont on the sidelines because of an ankle sprain, had to come from behind to stop Indiana, 20-7. Wisconsin pulled a surprise by beating Purdue, 14-13, in a lively duel that saw all four touchdowns scored in the final quarter.

Michigan State and Santa Clara played to a scoreless draw but Texas Tech outpointed Marquette, 20-13.

Form held fast in the Big Six where Nebraska was too powerful for Missouri and won, 20-7; Oklahoma subdued Iowa Satte, 20-7, and Kansas State tripped Kansas, 20-0.

The Texas Aggies needed to call on every resource at their command to turn back Baylor's Bears, 14-7, and remain unbeaten through their 16th successive game. Texas Christian dropped a surprise 7-0 decision to Tulsa.

Tennessee had to shake Bill Nowling and Buist Warren loose for two long runs to defeat Florida, 14-0. Georgia Tech came a cropper against Auburn's fine team, 16-7 in another Southeastern Conference fray.

Al Rodney's 45-yaard touchdown run after a blocked kick and the ensuing extra point gave Tulane a 14-13 decision over North Carolina.

Duke's Southearn Conference hopefuls walloped Wake Forest, 23-0, but upsets were general in that sector otherwise. Richmond stopped Virginia Military, 9-7, and Virginia Tech trounched Washington and Lee 21-0. Furman ran up a 40-7 count on Davidson. William and Mary surprised with a 13-6 decision over non-conference Virginia.

Standford's amazing Indians pushed over two touchdowns in the final quarter and walloped Southern California, 21-7, to remain the lone unbeaten, untied team in the Far West. It was Southern California's first defeat although the Trojans had been tied twice.

Washington had to come from behind to nip fighting California 7-6; Oregon State gave U.C.L.A. another beating, 7-0; and Oregon surprised by holding Washington State to a 6-6 draw.

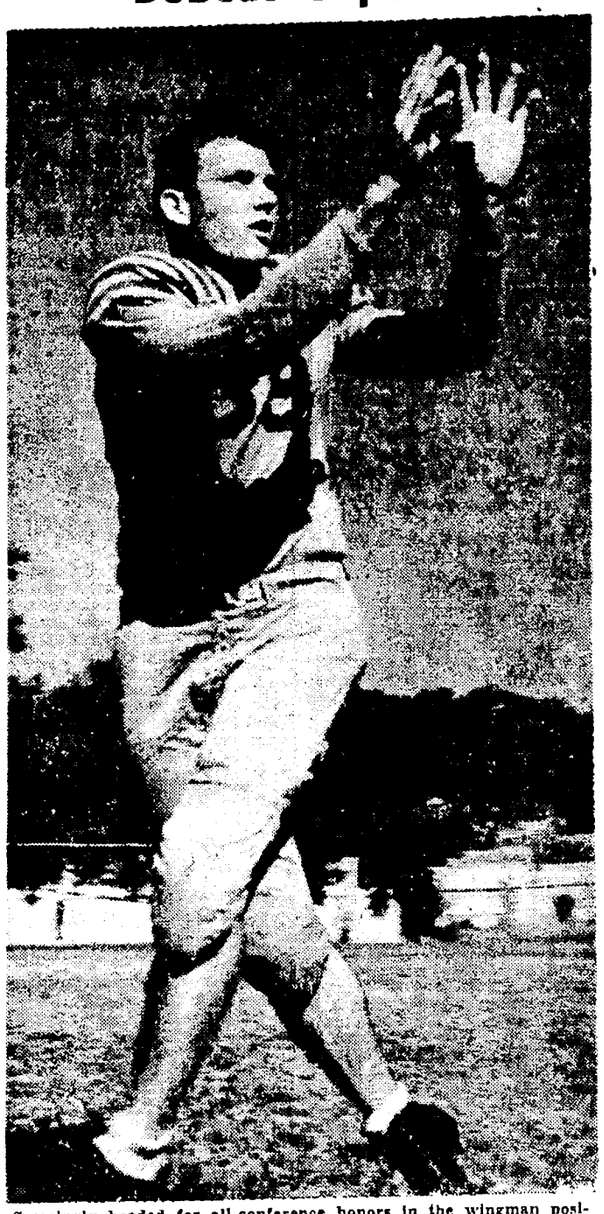
Utah threw the Rocky Mountain Big Seven into an uproar with a 25-14 defeat of Denver. Colorado romped over Wyoming 62-0.

BROWN 9; HOLY CROSS 6

PROVIDENCE, R. I.—(AP)—Brown defeated Holy Cross here Saturday afternoon, 9 to 6. A first period field goal by Ernie Savignano and a fourth period touchdown by Andy Bigh, climaxing a 67-yard march brought Brown's scores. Holy Cross scored on the last play of the first half on a Natawich to Roberts pass that traveled 60 yards.

There are more than 190,000 railway bridges in the United States.

Bobcat Captain



Seemingly headed for all-conference honors in the wingman position is powerful Woodrow (Truck) Isham of Weslaco, captain of the 1940 Bobcat squad. Besides figuring heavily in the Bobcat pass offensive with his capable pass-snagging, Isham has consistently played a rugged, almost impregnable defensive game for the Bobcats for the past three years.

Sooners Post 20-7 Win Over Fighting Cyclones

By L. E. SKELLEY

AMES, Ia. — (AP) — Oklahoma's Sooners, big strapping fellows from the Southwest, had to use all their power here Saturday to pull through a 20-to-7 victory over a hard-fighting band of Iowa State Cyclones.

The gallant Cyclones, battling to please a home-coming crowd of 14,000 fans who sat in an uncomfortably warm October sun, fought on almost even terms with Oklahoma until late in the fourth period when rip-roaring Johnny Martin broke their hearts with a 53-yard touchdown dash.

Martin's scoot through the left side of the Iowa State line and down through the secondary provided the Sooners with their second straight Big Six triumph.

Until then, however, Big Hank Wilder and Company had the Sooners hustling all the way and it might have been an entirely different story if Big Hank hadn't lost an apparent touchdown with the score tied in the third period.

Wilder grabbed a flat pass on the Iowa State 48 and dodged his way through the entire Oklahoma team for a 52-yard sprint. Iowa State homecomers moaned, however, when the play was called back because of a clipping penalty.

The cyclones threatened on various occasions and once had a rally choked off by the big Sooners on the one-yard line.

Oklahoma, with slippery Jack Jacobs, the triple-threat Indian flash, and Martin providing the spark, drove 65 yards for a touchdown in the first quarter, Martin finishing the powerhouse attack with a one-yard plunge. Jack Haberlein came off the bench to kick the extra point and Oklahoma led, 7-to 0.

The Sooners didn't hold that advantage long, the Cyclones coming right back to knot the count.

Wilder, an in-an-outer who definitely was "in" Saturday, grabbed a toss from Larry Owens and rambled 32 yards for the touchdown. Paul Darling kicked the extra point to tie the score.

There were several scoring threats by both teams before Oklahoma finally cracked the deadlock late in the third quarter with another long drive. The Sooners, mixing passes with power, ripped 64 yards for a touchdown, Jacobs taking the ball over on a plunge from the 4-yard mark. Harberlein again did his extra point kicking stunt and Oklahoma led, 14 to 7.

Bill Jennings set up the final Oklahoma touchdown by intercepting a pass to give the Sooners the ball on their 43. They picked up four more yards and then Martin dashed off with his game-clinching run.

Franck Scores Four Touchdowns

MINNEAPOLIS — (AP) — Scoring four touchdowns, George Franck helped Minnesota's Golden Gophers to a 34 to 6 victory Saturday over Iowa before 63,000 homecoming fans.

The sturdy Huskies from the corn state put up a great fight, but the Minnesota crusher got them. It got them along with two second period touchdawns that found the speedy Franck snatching long passes from Bruce Smith.

Iowa got into Minnesota's territory only once. A fumble was recovered by Iowa on the Minnesota 33 in the first period. Bender passed 12 yards to Gilleard. Bill Green lost six trying to pass. With the Minnesota defense scattered for another flip, Green darted through a big hole at center, cut to his left, hit the sidelines and ran 27 yards for a touchdown.

Tarpon Strikin'

DEL MAR—Fishing in the surf and from the South jetties perked up quite a bit here the past few days with tarpon, shark and croakers getting the attention of anglers.

Harry A. Wagner and daughter, Martha Louise, of Sherman landed two silver kings from the jetties, one Friday and the other Saturday. The daughter outfished her father by landing a seven-foot shark.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Duemler of Dallas have been trying their hands at tarpon and Mrs. Duemler, a former Valley Fishing Rodeo champion, lost one Saturday after quite a battle using light tackle.

Water and weather conditions were expected to be good Sunday.

WILCATS 20; HOOSIERS 7

EVANSTON, Ill.—(AP)—A fourth period surge of two touchdowns gave undefeated Northwestern a 20 to 7 victory over Indiana Saturday before 40,000 spectators.

Out O' Doors

Wildlife As A Crop

AUSTIN — Wildlife on farms in the wooded areas of East Texas is worth $140.81 in food for the farmer, his family and part of his stock, a survey, one of several to be made by the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission, discloses, according to the executive secretary In addition, insectivorous birds do far more good in capturing insects which destroy crops.

Squirrels rank fire in importance in many sections of East Texas. The survey, made in Wood County, shows. Families kill on an average of 154 squirrels per year. At 35 cents per squirrel this totals $53 a year. Each family catches an average of 153 pounds of fish, which, at 20 cents is worth $30. Of families questioned, 31.5 per cent trap furbearers, earning $30 a year.

Rabbits, opossums, ducks, quail, doves and various fruits made into preserves, make up the remainder of the natural reources used by the average farm family. The total of $140.81 does not take into consideration that 36.7 per cent of the farmers own an average of 18.47 hogs that feed on acron meat, nor of timber used on the farm.

Various other methods of turning natural resources into income were found in the survey. The evergreen spineless greenbriar with red fruit from Wood county was used to fill a $1,000 contract for the decoration of buildings at the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show.

One farmer, with a six-acre lake near Gilmer earned from $17 to $25 an acre each of the four years since the lake was constructed. He charges 50 cents per day. None of the other acres on his farm yield as much easy cash.

More Ducks This Year

Texans will have an opportunity to shoot at from 20 to 30 percent more ducks this year than last, according to surveys by state and federal biologists. The U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service biologists who travel the flyways from far north to as far south as Cuba estimate there will be from 20 to 30 percent more migratory waterfowl in the Lone Star State this year.

There were a large number of ducks and geese in Texas, especially on the coast, last year, but poor hunting weather held down the total kill. Sportsmen are fervently hoping for colder weather this year.

Into The Stomach Of the Whale

Many peculiarities are found among animals, reptiles and insects, although few are witnessed except by persons interested in nature study. When spiders bite each other's legs off, new legs grow back. The black widow spider eats her mate and makes herself a widow. A snake recently ate another one, but the "victim" didn't die, as was witnessed by a group of Texans, according to the Fredericksburg Standard.

Emil Petsch, Pete Weber and Harold Puhl came upon a coach whip and another snake fighting viciously. One snake measured about five feet in length and the other about three feet. The large snake finally started swallowing the other. The smaller snake was eaten head first, but when two-thirds of it had been consumed the men used rocks to kill the larger snake. They thought they had also killed the smaller one, but were amazed when the three-footer crawled all the way into the large snake, turned around and emerged head first, unharmed.

Waterfowl Food Varies

Ducks eat a large variety of food, as is attested by the fact that thirty different kinds of food were found in the crops of 101 ducks taken last winter from four lakes in northeast Texas, according to a biologist's report to the executive secretary of the Texas Game Department. The plant menu is typical of practically every county in East Texas. All the plants can be transplanted and the practice is recommended to persons desiring to improve lakes for waterfowl.

Acorns head the list of food eaten by ducks in northeast Texas. Corms, chiefly sagittaria, is second and watershield is third. Among the other foods are snails, insects, curstacea and pondwood.

Plans furnishing cover as well as food are sedges, butterwillow, and various smartweeds.

Rattler Eats Squirrels

That rattlesnakes do considerable damage to the wildlife of Texas, as well as aiding farmers by eating rodents, is evidenced by the fact that a six-foot rattler was killed recently in Tyler County contained a full-grown squirrel freshly killed and another squirrel partly digested.

New Mexico Normal Beats Wayland 18-7

SANTA FE, N. M.—(AP)—Coach Stu Clark's New Mexico Normal University Cowboys chalked up their second win of the season here Saturday, trouncing the Wayland College Jackrabbits of Plainview, Tex., 18-7.

The game played on a neutral field, was a feature of the New Mexico Educational Association convention.

The Cowboys got their first touchdown in the opening moment of play, when they recovered a fumble by Milford Dendy, Wayland back, on the eight yard line and scored on a pass from Halfback George Clark to Quarterback Madison.

Late in the same period, O. Robinson, sub halfback, plunged four yards for the second Normal score.

Wayland's score came in the second quarter, on a short pass to Leon Tate, who completed another pass for the extra point.

"Anybody who can stay in a game against the Texas Aggies for 60 minutes is good enough for All-American," one sports authority commented recently. Anybody who, in a game with the Texas Aggies, can share the spotlight with "Jarrin' Jahn Kimbrough" while staying his 60 minutes is certainly worthy of that honor. Big Stuart Clarkson, little Texas A. & I.'s greatest contribution to football, was mentioned in every dispatch going out from the A. & I.-A. & M. game September 26. And when the center on any squad can consistently make the news, he must be spectacular.

But the A. & M. game was not Clarkson's initial bow into football fame. After he and his teammates had dumped the favored San Jose Spartans the week before, Spartan coach veteran Pop Warner had called Clarkson good enough to make any team in the country. And last year, as a sophomore, Clarkson had go into the headlines on several occasions one of which was when he almost single handed stopped the vaunted aerial of the Canyon Buffaloes to secure for his team a tie for the Alamo Conference crown. Clarkson personally broke up 21 passes that afternoon, and was in on most of the rest of the 57 thrown by by Buffaloes' famous Flippin' Foster Watkins.

Clarkson was about the only Javelina who could stop Kimbrough cold, as he did several time. And he is one of the few Aggie opponents of the season who have been able to hit Kimbrough and be the first on his feet after the impact.

Clarkson is big and fast and tough, and was a 60 minute man in every game last season. At the close of the year he received almost all of the 60 votes cast for all-Alamo Conference center. Co-captain this year of the A. & I. Javelinas, Clarkson has been a major factor in the Hogs' record of this year, stopping three teams with undefeated records: San Jose with a 13 game winning streak, and San Marcos and Sam Houston with three wins and no defeats each.

He weighs 200 pounds, is 6 feet 2 inches tall, and never considers himself out of any play until the ball is dead. He is 20 years old. The last part of the whole picture, from the standpoint of Coach A. Y. McCallum is that he has another year of eligibility.

Harmon Paces Wolverines To 14-0 Win Over Penn

By GAYLE TALBOT

ANN HARBOR, Mich. — (AP) — Michigan's great Tommy Harmon raced 19 yards to one touchdown and passed 15 to a teammate for another to lead the Wolverines to a 14 to 0 victory over Pennsylvania before 60,000 impressed fans Saturday.

Any doubts the Michigan star would retain the All-America laurels accorded him last season were erased as he turned in one of the most brilliant performances of his career against the previously undefeated Quakers. By scoring a touchdown and kicking two extra points, Harmon ran his tital points for five games to 87 and left his most prominent rival, Frank Reagan of Penn, far in the rear.

The heralded duel between Reagan and Harmon never did develop. The diminutive Penn ace neither could pass nor run to advantage against the stout Michigan defense, and he was jerked from the game by Coach George Munger early in the final period.

The best Reagan could do was toss a couple of 11-yard passes, and his longest run from scrimmage was seven yards. Harmon, in addition to his two scoring plays, streaked through and around the Penn line for gains of 23, 17, 14, 14 and 12 yards, and completed two other long passes of 24 and 14 yards. In addition, his kicking was splendid. He was, in a word, terrific.

Michigan scored its touchdowns in the first and third periods. Penn lumbered down as far as Michigan's two-yard line at the start of the final quarter, but couldn't score through the bunched Wolverine defense.

Nebraska Huskers Hand Missouri 20-7 Drubbing

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

LINCOLN, Neb. —(AP)— Introducing Mr. Harry Hopp, father of a 10-day old son and work horse of the University of Nebraska football team in Saturday's 20 to 7 Big Six victory over Missouri.

You won't find the name of this stolid, black-haired Husker halfback in the scoring summary but he did everything else. He blasted through the Missouri line, twisted around the Tiger ends, passed for a touchdown and punted.

The reason the 21 year old junior didn't score in this battle of the bandages that attracted more than 33,000 homecoming fans—largest outpouring ever to see a Big Six contest—was that Roy Petsch forsook his old job of blocking to gambol 53 yards for the first Husker tally. It was a double reverse. Vike Francis to Walt Luther to Petsch, that brought the touchdown.

Then Herman Rohrig shook off the arnica and doctor's wrapping long enough to hoist two consecutive passes to Luther for a total of 48 yards and a second marker. In the final period Hopp tossed to Luther for the third touchdown.

For 58 minutes Paul Christman and his Missouri mates were stymied by the tough Huskers, who were determined that there would be no third consecutive victory for the Tigers.

Missouri got some consolation—in the first conference defeat for them since late in 1938—when Ted Leibig, sub guard, added the extra point. It was the first successful try in 11 attempts for the Tigers.

The starting lineup:

Missouri	Pos.	Nebraska
Lister	LE	Preston
Wakeman	LT	R. Kahler
Schultz	LG	Schwartzkopf

Cornell Wallops Ohio State 21-7

ITHACA, N. Y. — (AP) — Cornell's fine football team had to come from behind Saturday to keep its record intact, but was tremendously impressive in doing so as it walloped Ohio State 21-7, in the Big Red's first and only intersectional game of the year.

In its first three games this season, Cornell was able to get off in front and keep rolling. But Saturday afternoon, before a capacity crowd of 34,500 in Schoellkopf Stadium, the Ithacans were rocked back on their heels by the Buckeyes' powerful opening drive, yet had poise, power and all-around proficiency enough to make it a runaway in the second half.

Almost any other team might have been thrown completely off stride by the 89-yard scoring march Ohio State put on the first time it got the ball.

But not this team, now unbeaten in 16 straight games. Cornell came back to go 47 yards for the tying touchdown in the second quarter, and in the second half not only throttled the Ohio State attack down to 44 yards but drove 61 yards once, to go out in front and capitalized on a break for the final score.

North Texas Wins Over Sam Houston

HUNTSVILLE—(AP)—Three quick passes by the injured Johnny Riola and a placekick by Nace Formagus Saturday gave North Texas Teachers a 7-6 victory over Sam Houston State Teachers.

Riola, benched because of a leg injury, was rushed into the game in the third period when North Texas recovered a fumble on the Sam Houston 23. He flipped an 8-yard pass to Riggs, then a five yard pass, and then a 10-yarder that left end Covin snared in the end zone. Place kicker Formagus was rushed into the game and converted the extra point.

TARTANS 14; CASE 0

PITTSBURGH—(AP)—Crippled and twice beaten, Carnegie's Tech's once mighty Tartans won their second football game of the season Saturday by shutting out Case School of Applied Science of Cleveland 14-0 before a slim crowd of 5,000 in Pitt Stadium.

AUBURN 16; GEORGIA TECH 7

OREGON STATE WINS

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Oregon State defeated the University of California at Los Angeles on a soggy field, 7-0, in a Pacific Coast Conference football game Saturday. Attendance was 25,000.

Triple Test
Worsted

by HART SCHAFFNER & MARX

Marvelous what a crisp new suit can do for a man's spirit—and prospects! Particularly if the suit's a Triple Test Worsted by Hart Schaffner & Marx.

Triple Test has been known to revive dead romances—land jobs—help hold 'em. In fact, it's the miracle suit of the season. What's this suit got that makes it such a winner? Listen:

It's been tested three times—once for value, once for style and once for quality—and it represents, to our way of thinking, the best clothing value in town.

Furious British Counter-Offensive Pounds French Coastal Areas

New Long Range Gun Is Bombed

By The Associated Press

LONDON — The Channel area resounded Saturday with a furious British counter-offensive and great columns of smoke rose in the clear, bleak air above the Nazi-held French coast from areas set aflame by British bombs.

Nazi shipping was attacked within sight of watchers on the English shore—a German convoy was heavily bombed by RAF squadrons and it appeared that at least one vessel had been hard hit—and English coastal batteries bombarded a covey of eight German torpedo boats which maneuvered along the French shore.

New Gun Raided

Across the Dover Strait, British pilots went into heavy action against a new long range gun brought up by the Nazis alongside their sixth battery near Cap Gris Nez.

All this—a visual evidence to the people of coastal England of the heightening tempo of the British counter-attack — followed assaults in which the RAF had winged afar over Nazi territory, spreading bombs inland in Germany and over hundreds of miles of the Nazi front.

One of the most important objectives thus attacked, in raids of Friday night and early Saturday morning, was the vital German naval base at Kiel, where shipbuilding yards were declared to have been left in flames.

Nazi Ports Fired

Fires were set off, too, the air ministry reported, in the docks at the ports of Bremen and Cuxhaven; Hamburg again was "heavily bombed."

The aerial bombardment of Kiel —one of the high spots in raids extended from the Baltic to the Channel coast of France and inland to the German industrial Ruhr district—were declared by the ministry to have lasted nearly two hours and "widespread damage" to docks, warehouses, and shipping as well was claimed.

Boulogne, among the other Nazi-held ports assaulted, still was overhung by smoke Saturday afternoon as was Cap Gris Nez, site of heavy German artillery. Bombed, too, as they had been so often before, the ministry said, were the Dutch harbors of Amsterdam and Den Helder—the latter an old Dutch naval base—and the Belgian ports of Ostend and Antwerp.

Hundreds Play At Hallowe'en Carnival Saturday

7 Jockeys Testify To Pulling Horses

SAN MATEO, Calif.—(AP)—California's biggest horse race scandal in years came to light Saturday with testimony of seven jockeys before the state racing board that they had accepted money from a San Francisco gambler for "pulling" horses at four major tracks.

The jockeys, appearing before the board as sworn witnesses, were named by Board Chairman Jerry Giesler as Leonard Scott of Sabinal, Tex., Steve Packer of Sparks, Nev., Thomas Mansor of Lawrence, Mass., Ellis Gray of Thatcher, Ida., Gus Dye of Boise, Ida., W. F. Ward of Wichita, Kas., and Freddie Miller of Salt Lake City.

All seven were suspended after sensational testimony that Bernard Mooney, identified as a bookmaker and gambler, paid them off with bribes of $100 and $200, depending on the race odds, for holding their horses back.

"I don't blame these boys," Giesler declared. "Mooney is the real culprit. He is not the type wanted around California tracks."

Geisler, an attorney from Los Angeles, recommended that Mooney, alias Einstoss of Los Angeles, be prosecuted on charges of conspiracy to commit theft, actual theft, and contributing to the delinquency of minors. Many of the jockeys are under legal age.

Almazan Kin's Band Give Up In Mexico

MEXICO CITY—(AP)—Raul Almazan, a distant relative of General Juan Almazan, defeated candidate for president of Mexico, was reported Saturday to have surrendered to troops in Guerrero state, with a small band, and later released on promising to keep the peace.

Hundreds Of German Fliers Wage Bomber Attack On Britain

BERLIN (Sunday)—(AP)—Several hundred German fighters and bombers, a force described by informed sources as "unusually strong," attacked England Saturday night and early today, it was reported here. They were said to have taken off from bases ranging from France to Norway and carried bombs weighing up to two tons.

Informed sources said six British planes were shot down and two German planes were missing after an "uninterrupted series of attacks on England and her capital" Saturday. These circles claimed effective hits were scored.

Chinese Deny Bombs Stop Burma Traffic

SHANGHAI (Sunday)—(AP)—Dispatches from Chungking said today that traffic still is flowing over the recently reopened Burma Road despite Japanese claims of having destroyed bridges.

Reports from Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's capital said that even if bridges were damaged Chinese authorities already had prepared for such emergencies by placing extra ferries and bridge replacement material at all important river crossings along the vital road from British Burma.

WILLKIE RAPS HATE POLICY

List Credits For New Deal 'Rule'

NEW YORK — (AP) — Republican Presidential Nominee Wendell L. Willkie charged Saturday night the doctrine of the New Deal was "divide and rule."

"Our doctrine is the doctrine of unite and serve," he said in an address at a rally at Jamaica high school, Long Island.

Asserting that there had been formed in recent years "groups with special hatreds — racial, religious and political hatreds," Willkie accused the New Deal of undertaking to "govern America by playing off each of these groups against the other."

Labor vs. Capital

"It has encouraged labor to fight capital and encouraged capital to attack labor," the candidate said. "It has even encouraged labor to fight labor.

"It has created the farm problem as a separate problem, as if the farmers were somewhere on an island by themselves.

Communist Dupes

"It has kept in Washington, on our payroll, men who do not believe in our form of government—Communists and near-Communists and neo-Communists and pseudo-Communists and their dupes.

"It has divided our youth from us by preaching the doctrine that America can no longer grow."

That, said Willkie, was "the issue between the New Deal and the cause I represent."

Visits Fair

The nominee spent a busy day in New York, where he arrived shortly after noon. He went to the New York World's Fair, where his open car moved at a five-mile-an-hour pace between crowds lining the roadways.

After speaking there and later driving through lanes of applauding spectators in Times Square, he attended the Fordham-St. Mary's football game at the Polo Grounds. He scheduled two talks Saturday night on Long Island and two in Brooklyn.

Raids On London Increased By Nazi Bombers Saturday

By The Associated Press

LONDON (Sunday)—Fire bombs and high explosives, falling from as many as four and five bombers at a time, splattered over wide areas of London early today as Nazi raiders stepped up the pace of their 50th successive night of air attack.

The raiders' return at dusk after seven daylight stabs yesterday put the capital under eight air raid alarms during the day—a number never exceeded in a like period and only twice equalled since the start of the aerial siege.

Although London apparently still bore the brunt of the German bombardment, Liverpool reported night raiders attempting vainly to break through its ring of anti-aircraft fire and southwest Scotland had a second straight night of air attack. The Midlands also were raided.

One brief lull in the attack on London ended when raiders slipped past the capital's outer barrage and dropped incendiaries and earth-shake explosives. The missiles fell in groups of eight and ten at one time.

Fire engines raced through the streets to fires which were rapidly extinguished.

A movie audience in the southeast town was watching news reel shots of Captain Robert Davies, who became a hero in removing a time bomb from the vicinity of St. Paul's Cathedral in London.

"There's no need for me to talk to you about bombs," the reflection was saying on the screen when bombs fell outside the theatre. The audience laughed.

Swiss Go Home

Nationals Swarming To Motherland

BERNE —(AP)— Swiss citizens living in war countries have been pouring into Switzerland, driven from their homes by invasion.

Their compatriots at home have made a considerable financial effort to help these citizens to start life again in their native country.

Contributions have poured in from rich as well as poor and many workers have given up a day's pay to ease distress.

All officers of the Swiss General Staff agreed to give up one day's pay and turned over 3,500 Swiss francs ($800) to the homecomers.

STATE JOBS GAIN SHOWN

Non - Farm Laborers Increased 16,000

WASHINGTON —(AP)— A report prepared by the Labor Department showed 979,000 persons were employed in non-agricultural establishments in Texas last September, an increase of 16,000 over the preceding month and a gain of 7,000, .8 per cent over September, 1939.

Nearly all states, the report said, shared in a total increase of 600,000 jobs in non-agricultural industries between August and September, bringing the total employed in non-agricultural industries in September to 36,000,000.

The report showed the employment gains were fairly well distributed over the major geographic areas, although the east north central and south Atlantic regions showed the largest increases.

The figures for Texas are for employes only, and do not cover properties, self-employed persons, domestic servants, persons employed on WPA or NYA projects, or CCC enrollees.

GREEKS, ITALIANS CLASH IN ALBANIA

Solons Say Rails Seek To Block Canal Plans

Canadian Flagship Liner Which Carried Royalty Home In 1939 Is Bombed

BERLIN—(AP)—The Empress of Britain, majestic Canadian flagship liner which carried King George VI and Queen Elizabeth home to Britain from their North American trip in 1939, was reported in informed German quarters to have been bombed and left in a sinking condition north of Ireland, Saturday.

"German combat planes" attacked the liner in the waters which Germany has proclaimed as the scene of total blockade, these sources asserted. By forenoon, it was stated, the crew had abandoned the ship and she was foundering.

(The British admiralty declined comment.)

The German high command made no mention of the Empress of Britain.

Air Raids Heavy

Both German and Italian planes raided London overnight in "rolling" attacks, other German sources said, and the high command itself recounted "numerous hits" on rail and industrial districts east of Battersea Park, on the south bank of the Thames in London, where the great Battersea power station is located. The Germans resumed the raids Saturday.

Nazi sources said a German bomber in a surprise attack Saturday afternoon had dropped several bombs on a chemical works near Birmingham; that there were resulting explosions and fires, and that factories in a number of British centers were

Pontoon Is Dislodged By Tree Trunk

McALLEN—Twenty or more residents of the Valley were marooned at Reynosa, Mexico, for several hours early Saturday morning when the pontoon bridge between that city and Hidalgo was closed after a pontoon became dislodged.

Manager Ray Stubbs of the Valley Bridge Company said the pontoon boat was struck by a big tree trunk being carried down the Rio Grande on a 16-foot rise caused by heavy rains on the Mexican watershed, which were carried into the international stream by the San Juan.

Reopened Later

The bridge was reopened Saturday afternoon when a new boat was put in place. Extra pontoons are kept on hand for such emergencies. Repair work was hindered Saturday morning when one of the replacement boats slipped from its moorings and floated downstream with the swift current.

The river stood at 16 feet at Hidalgo at noon Saturday as the crest from the San Juan passed. Another crest caused by rains in the Laredo area was expected later, and bridge officials were preparing for a peak of 18 feet. The water was not expected to get high enough to enter the floodways.

Many Walk Across

Many of the persons caught in Reynosa Friday night walked across the bridge, leaving their cars on the Mexican side, until the gap in the structure became too wide.

Travelers returning from Monterrey said they were delayed five hours at one place near China, where the water was too high in one of the numerous small ravines to permit passage.

King George Sends Sympathy To French

LONDON—(AP)—King George VI has sent a message of sympathy and encouragement for the French people to Marshal Philippe Petain in what informed circles described as a government attempt to establish a 3-point program to "help both Britain and France."

Authoritative sources said the king expressed confidence in an ultimate British victory and hope that the French would join one day in the benefits.

George Smith Ill

Prominent Dairyman In Heart Attack

BROWNSVILLE—George Smith, well known Brownsville dairyman, was in Mercy Hospital Saturday night following a heart attack, and his condition was termed serious. Placed in the hospital Saturday morning, Mr. Smith was being given oxygen tent treatment. He has a fair chance of recovering, according to the attending physician.

Mr. Smith's car overturned on a slippery highway near here Wednesday noon and he escaped with minor bruises and shock. There was no connection between the accident and the heart attack, the attending physician said. Meanwhile, Mrs. H. D. Kirk, a neighbor, who was an occupant of the Smith car, is under treatment for a fractured neck vertebra as a result of the accident. Her injury was thought only superficial at first but X-rays revealed the fracture. She is under treatment of Dr. J. L. Rentfro at the Lula George home on the San Benito highway. Her injury is reported painful but not dangerous.

MANSFIELD IS OUTSPOKEN IN RAIL ATTACK

By HARRY FOEHNER.

HARLINGEN—The railroads were accused of attempting to block extension of the Intracoastal canal from Corpus Christi to the Valley at a meeting of the Intracoastal Canal Association of Louisiana and Texas here Saturday which learned that the extension may come before Congress at its next session.

Rep. J. J. Mansfield of Columbus, chairman of the House rivers and harbors committee; Col. C.S.E. Holland of Houston, president of the association; and Roy Miller of Corpus Christi, vice president, were among those who took occasion to criticize the railroads which appeared here Friday at a hearing on the proposed canal extension and asked for time to file a brief.

Mansfield Raps Rails

It was Mansfield who said that the proposed extension probably would come before the next Congress. He lashed out at the railroads which he said "used to secretly and covertly fight waterways but are now in the open." He said that now unions frequently join with railroad executives in fighting waterways.

The Congressman explained provisions of the Lee-Wheeler bill which authorize the Interstate Commerce Commission to regulate rates charged by steamship and barge lines.

"We must wait and see what their policy is going to be," he said. "One of the members has said that money spent on waterways should have

War Secretary Calls Parliament Meet To Study French Moves

LONDON—(AP)—Leslie Hore-Belisha, former British secretary of war, demanded Saturday night that Parliament be called into session at once because of the Hitler-Petain agreement.

In a statement given to the semi-official press association, Hore-Belisha called for an immediate session "to consider the policy of the government toward the Vichy government, the French empire and French navy and the implications of the agreement reached in principle between Hitler and Marshal Petain."

Al Smith's '36 Walk Was '4 Years Ahead'

CHICAGO, Ill.—(AP)—Alfred E. Smith declared Saturday night that when he took his famous "walk" in 1936 he was "about four years ahead of the parade."

'I'm Not Insane' Chon Martinez Tells Court Saturday And Begins Last Long Walk On Road To Death For Notorious Donna Murders

By MYNATT SMITH

EDINBURG — Ascension (Chon) Martinez, the Donna man whom the state says joined five others in the brutal murders of an unidentified man and his wife on the banks of the Rio Grande in 1935, started his long walk down the road to death Saturday.

"I'm not insane," Martinez through an interpreter told Criminal District Judge Bryce Ferguson, who summoned the Donna man before the bar to hear pronouncement of his sentence to the electric chair.

There was only a scattered crowd of spectators on hand when "Chon," a handkerchief wrapped around his head to hold back his bushy hair, walked into the courtroom. Deputy Sheriff George Ingram took a pair of handcuffs off Martinez and they clanked loudly as he laid them in a nearby chair.

The defendant sat down and nervously picked his teeth with a match stick.

The court of criminal appeals at Austin a few days ago issued a mandate ordering Martinez's electrocution, having earlier affirmed the death sentence meted out in Judge Ferguson's court here. But the high court noted that Martinez had refused to sign papers appealing the penalty, adding the statement that the man might be insane.

"Chon" stepped up to the little witness stand in front of Judge Ferguson's desk.

Did he have anything to say before sentence was pronounced, the judge inquired.

"My wife has letters from the governor," the interpreter quoted Martinez. "She has evidence."

The judge had asked that Martinez present any evidence he might have relating either to clemency from the governor or affidavits from two physicians as to his insanity—the only legal loopholes left for him. Martinez evidently did not understand the technicalities involved, for he told the interpreter that "doctors at San Antonio" had said he was sane.

"That's the truth," Martinez added.

But he lacked any visible evidence of documents to which the judge had referred.

Is there anything further you

Uprisings In Norway Face Nazis

STOCKHOLM —(AP)— The newspaper Dagens Nyheter reported from Oslo Saturday night that a limited state of emergency has been proclaimed at Bergen because of demonstrations and sabotage in that city of Nazi-held Norway against the National Samling, pro-Nazi Major Vidkun Quickling's party.

Bergen citizens, it said, have been forbidden on the streets after darkness which descends now in the late afternoon.

Two persons were said to have been killed and several injured last week at a meeting of the Samling (National Union) which has been made the only legal political movement in Norway.

Fish exports to Germany, this report said, have been spoiled by saboteurs on several occasions and long prison terms have been imposed on several persons convicted of espionage.

Two Bergen newspapers have been banned in recent days, it added.

The Political Roundup

Demos Answer Lewis

Early Says Many CIO Unions Repudiate His Stand; Willkie In New York

By The Associated Press)

The Roosevelt administration struck back Saturday at John L. Lewis' denunciation of the New Deal and support of Wendell Willkie while evidence piled up that a deep political schism had developed in the CIO itself.

Stephen Early, presidential secretary, said Lewis had "chosen to go down the lonely road." Many CIO leaders, Early declared, had "repudiated" Lewis' stand in messages to President Roosevelt.

Secretary of State Hull said that Lewis was "100 per cent wrong in his effort to prejudice the American people by the baseless charge that President Roosevelt is seeking to get this nation into war."

Otherwise, the day brought such developments as these:

President Roosevelt decided definitely to make a political address in Boston next Wednesday in addition to one Monday night at New York, then began a weekend of speech-writing in the seclusion of the White House.

Willkie Confident

Willkie campaigned again into the New York City area, telling crowds that "we are on the march—we are going to win. I promise you we can't lose." Republican headquarters announced that the nominee had cancelled a radio broadcast scheduled for Saturday night because of the "complicated nature" of his tour through New York City boroughs.

Willkie had expressed pleasure Friday night at receiving Lewis' support.

The Lewis expression brought comment, too, from William Green,

NAVY LAUDED AS AMERICA'S 'FRONT LINE'

FD In Navy Day Note Opens Observance

WASHINGTON —(AP)— President Roosevelt told the American fleet Saturday night on the eve of the 19th annual Navy Day that it was "a deterrent to those nations who would plant the heel of dictatorship across this hemisphere."

"I pray," he said in a letter to Secretar Knox, "that it will continue to emphasize, by its strength, our determination to remain a free people, marching steadily along the open road that holds peace of the spirit as well as a full and worthy material life."

Observance Restricted

The chief executive's letter was published along with an exchange of greeting between the army and navy on the eve of a Navy Day observance which is to be restricted "in the interest of national security."

Progress toward realization of the ultimate goal of a two-ocean navy was disclosed, meanwhile, by an official compilation showing that six new fighting ships were added to the fleet last month, four others were launched and keels of four more laid.

New Ships Rushed

With the start of work on the 45,000 ton battleship New Jersey, six new dreadnaughts are on the ways, and two others have been launched and are nearing completion.

Mr. Knox, Assistant Secretary Lewis Compton, and Admiral Harold R. Stark are to speak Saturday on a world-wide radio broadcast, but there will be no general visiting of ships of the fleet or shore stations. Vessels assigned to training reservists will receive visitors and drills and demonstration are scheduled at many cities.

NAVY DAY ADDRESS PLANNED BY KELLEY

By The Associated Press

With France under the Axis belt the Rome radio Saturday night broadcast a report of a clash between Greek troops and Italian-ruled Albanians—an event some believed a prelude to wider action against pro-British Greece.

Six Greek soldiers were said to have been captured and two Albanians killed and three wounded in a fight between Koriza and Porta Edda inside Albanian territory.

Air Service Halted

Italy previously suspended air service to Greece until November 4 under circumstances suggesting increased pressure on that country, and the Greek fleet was ready to hold day and night maneuvers from October 28 to January 1 near Salonika.

An Italian government communique later told of the clash and said the Greeks were armed with rifles and grenades.

The communique asserted "Greek or English agents" were being sought for a bomb attack near the Porto Edda headquarters of the Italian lieutenant-generalship.

Three bombs exploded slightly wounding two persons, the communique said.

France bowed to the will of Adolf Hitler in his desire to fit the conquered nation in his own way into the Nazi scheme for "a new European order."

Parley Is Reported

Marshal Philippe Petain, chief of state of France, and his vice premier, Pierre Laval, met the French cabinet at Vichy and reported on their conversations with Hitler and his foreign minister, Joachim Von Ribbentrop.

Then came a brief announcement: The cabinet had approved the Petain-Laval decision. Hitler and Petain would collaborate in restoring peace to Europe. What kind of peace and the manner of its restoration were not made clear.

British reaction was not immediately forthcoming, but officials of the "free" French government in

Neutrals Speculating On Concessions

BERN, Switzerland—(AP)—Diplomatic onlookers Saturday night said they believed France would pay for Axis concessions by "loaning" to Germany and Italy her Mediterranean air and sea bases near East Africa, and under much the same conditions as Britain now holds Egyptian bases.

PETAIN

The government of old Marshal Petain is expected to get more "unoccupied" territory under her deal with Hitler; use of Paris for its capital and gradual release of French prisoners of war.

So far, in view of most diplomatic observers, the Vichy government has given the Axis ammunition only for its propaganda guns and in withholding disclosure of more tangible aid until later.

One informed source said the point on which Petain still balked was the extent to which France's army air force and navy should be called on to protect Axis-used French bases against British attack.

French "collaboration" with the Axis, one report said, will be divided into two spheres:

1. The Atlantic, where both Spain and France will remain non-belligerent in order not to excite the United States but will afford "all possible aid" in Axis attempts to cut Britain's South Atlantic trade and the "Cape route" to India;

2. The Mediterranean, where Italian and German sea and air forces will get full use of Tunisian and Syrian bases in an offensive aimed at breaking Britain's hold on the eastern Mediterranean.

British Fleet Joins RAF In Italy Blows

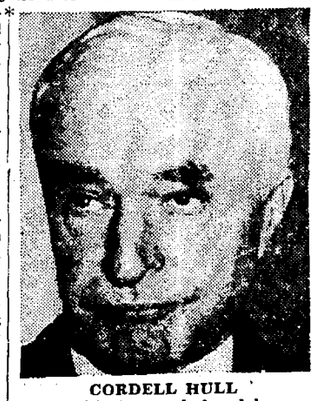
CAIRO, Egypt—(AP)—British warships, joining forces with the RAF, struck new destructive blows at Italian offensive preparations along the Egyptian seacoast Friday, a British communique reported Saturday.

Dictators Seek To Make Slaves Of Other Nations Warns Sec. Hull; Terms This Decade Among Saddest In History

Would-Be 'Masters' Of World Threaten All, But Safety Lies In Strong Defenses

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Secretary Hull described the rulers of Germany, Italy and Japan Saturday night as "would-be conquerors" engaged in a relentless attempt to reduce mankind to "a master-and-slave relationship among nations and individuals, maintained by brute force."

Speaking before the National Press Club over a nation-wide radio hook-up, (NBC), the secretary of state listed efforts by these nations "to take by force what they say they need or want" as he reviewed what he called "the whirlwind developments of one of the saddest and most crucial decades in the history of mankind—that of the nineteen-thirties."



CORDELL HULL
'This is a sad decade'

"The rulers of these nations," the secretary continued, "have repudiated and violated in every essential respect the long-accepted principles of peaceful and orderly international relations.

"Merciless, Unrestrained"

"Merciless armed attack; unrestrained terrorization through slaughter of non-combatant men, women and children; deceit, fraud and guile; forced labor; confiscation of property; imposed starvation and deprivations of every sort—all these are weapons constantly used by the conquerors for the invasion and subjugation of other nations."

These same nations, Hull declared—presumably in reference to Germany's reported efforts to secure the French fleet and Japan's warship building program—have as

CONTROL OF PRICES SEEN

Business Boom May Set Record

By FRANK MacMILLEN

NEW YORK —(AP)— With industry booming at levels of fabulous 1929, business men this week looked forward to a record $85,000,000,000 national income in 1941 and laid lines to hold war-pushed prices to reasonable levels.

Creation of a "priorities board" at Washington to assure a steady flow of critical materials to the war plants—if necessary by denying or delaying them to civilian industry—threw into sharp focus the problem of possible runaway prices later on in the defense drive.

Inflation Denied

Economists have long agreed the basic factors of an upward spiral of prices—some call it inflation—is an increase in the supply of spending money in the hands of the public, combined with a decrease in the supply of things for which the public can spend.

Thus they watched closely, took precautionary steps, to see that as profits and payrolls which comprise the national income climb toward a probable new high in the history of the country in coming months, prices shall not rise out of proportion.

Prominent was the warning of Tom M. Girdler, Cleveland steel maker, against "speculative buying" in that defense metal.

Increase Next Year

The business records of the week lent point to calculations of many observers that some time next year, with defense production at flood, and with the country's spendable income ahead even of the boom years of the 'twenties, would be the

Mexican Ambassador Flies To Washington

MEXICO CITY —(AP) —A government spokesman said Saturday night Dr. Francisco Castillo Najera, Mexico's ambassador to the United States, would take a plane to Washington Sunday carrying with him the results of a three-weeks' survey of Mexican-American relations with President Cardenas.

The ambassador was scheduled to leave at mid-day and arrive in Washington early Monday.

British Watch Election

Highly Interested, But Don't Take Sides

LONDON—(AP)—The British are following the United States presidential race with a more avid interest than they have paid to any political campaign outside the British isles in many years.

The national press carries campaign stories day and night, illustrated with photographs of vigorous electioneering incidents far removed from the sedate English trend.

As a whole, the newspapers have taken no sides. They have told their readers that both President Roosevelt and Wendell Willkie are committed to a continuation of aid for Britain.

"From the British point of view it is enough to know that both candidates have the strongest admiration for our fight and are pledged to help us by all means 'short of war,'" said The Manchester Guardian.

FDR NOTE TO PETAIN FAILS

Appeal Prior To Nazi Pact Revealed

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The United States' deep concern over the German-French negotiations was evidenced Saturday by disclosure that President Roosevelt had sent a message to Marshal Henri Phillippe Petain, chief of the French state.

The communication was delivered to Gaston Henry-Haye, the French ambassador, last Thursday by Sumner Welles, undersecretary of state. The fact of its dispatch was a closely-held secret until Saturday.

Secretary Hull, in disclosing that Mr. Roosevelt had communicated with the 84-year old World War hero who now heads the Vichy government, declined to reveal the nature of the message. No reply, he said, had been received.

Although lacking official confirmation, it was reported that the president's message had been timed—and perhaps contained an appeal—designed to influence Petain against signing any "collaboration" pact with Germany which would imperil France's future as a free nation and possibly bring about a clash between French and American interests, especially in the western hemisphere.

Italian Sub Sinks Portuguese Vessel

LISBON, Portugal—(AP)—An Italian submarine rescued 27 officers and men of the Belgian freighter Kabalo after sinking her about 600 miles off Madeira October 15 and landed them safely on Santa Maria Island, in the Azores, the Kabalo's captain reported to Portuguese authorities Saturday.

MANSFIELD IS OUTSPOKEN IN RAIL ATTACK

Valley Is In A Sack, Holland Says

been given to the railroads as a bonus."

He said further that "one of the members is as railroad-minded as hell itself."

"Valley In A Sack"

Colonel Holland also criticized the railroads declaring that they had "the Rio Grande Valley in a sack; in a sack tied at the top with a ribbon called the Robstown differential."

The rail carriers were charged with responsibility for the load limit on trucks in Texas. He said that this was the first time in 35 years that he had ever criticized the railroads, "but when they come to us in this unfair way and get our report to examine it at their leisure in their swivel chairs I am not going to be mealy mouthed about it."

Holland's reference was to the fact that Eugene S. Coghill, Jr. of Houston, representing the Association of American railroads, had appeared at the public hearing Friday and requested 90 days in which to examine the report supporting the proposed extension filed by Brigadier General G. A. Youngberg and to file a brief if desired. Col. F. S. Besson of Galveston, U. S. Army district engineer conducting the hearing, granted the railroad organization 45 days.

Canals Aid Railroads

Miller said that it had never been the policy of the rail association to oppose the railroads and pointed out that there had never been a worthy water project which has not increased business for the railroads. He said the railroads were given land equivalent to the area of New England to build transcontinental lines and one-fifth the area of Texas to build lines in this state.

"Every foot of the line from Algoa to Brownsville and Rio Grande City was more than paid for by land donations," he said, quoting a former publicity man of the railroads without giving his name.

"This probably will be the last hearing we will ever have to hold to assure completion of this project," said Miller in describing the Youngberg report submitted at Friday's hearing as "conclusive."

He brought out the fact that construction of waterways with a 12-foot depth and 125-foot bottom width was practically an adopted policy.

Bailey T. DeBardeleben of Houston, representing the Coyle barge lines, declared that barge operators would fight any efforts on the part of the Interstate Commerce Commission to raise barge rates under its new authority under the Lee-Wheeler Act.

J. E. Bell, manager of the Corpus Christi Chamber of Commerce and formerly at San Benito, issued an invitation to attend the international celebration which will be held in Corpus Christi when the canal is completed to that city probably early next summer.

Bowie Urges Reduction

James C. Bowie, director of the Port Isabel harbor, declared that if cost of handling fruit could be reduced 10 cents a box to the producer that it would mean the difference between easy living and in many cases today inevitable bankruptcy."

The association authorized another three-year program of activity beginning January 1, 1941 when the current program expires.

Saturday's convention of the canal association followed a hearing on the proposed extension held by the U. S. Army district engineer Friday. Delegates to the hearing were taken on a tour of Port Isabel, the Port of Brownsville and Matamoros Friday afternoon and had dinner in Matamoros Friday night.

McAllen Stolen Car Regained In Mexico By City Patrolman

McALLEN—The automobile owned by A. A. Vohs, allegedly stolen here Friday night, was recovered Saturday night at Reynosa and a man arrested in the car was jailed.

City Officer Richard Bales brought the man to jail here and returned the car to Vohs. Bales said General Avila Durantes and other Reynosa officials were "very co-operative." It was the third car Bales has recovered in six weeks. Auto owned by O. E. Gomez was recovered at Reynosa and one owned by W. H. Wickline was recovered at Falfurrias.

American Business Throwing Away Red Ink As Sales Show Steady Gains; Defense Should Boost 1940 Totals

By ROGER W. BABSON

BABSON Park, Mass.—I have said in recent articles that business is getting better. As long as the defense program continues to broaden there will be no lessening of activity. Yearend reports will show more plus than minus signs. Manufacturers and other business men are throwing away the red ink bottles and stocking up on black. It takes time for war production to get under way. The country is still in the inertia stage. Once the initial problems of planning, financing, and production are overcome, things should move fast.

Don't Be Impatient

With machine tool companies working day and night to provide the necessary equipment, there is a scarcity of skilled labor. Men must be trained for many important and technically-skilled jobs. Blueprints must be drawn, sources of supplies arranged, transportation schedules by rail and highway checked. Lawyers must study contracts, prices be determined, and bank loans negotiated. Our industrial areas are coming to a state of intense activity.

The great agricultural sections of the country have not yet felt the increased tempo of our industrial cities. However, as movement of the business cycle swings from East to West, all sections of our land will ultimately be caught up in this rush to arm. Young and old, rich and poor, will all take more of a part in whatever the future holds.

Business Will Improve

War prosperity for some few people is a delightful state to contemplate. Unfortunately, such people do not come into contact with the actualities of war. These are far more cruel than those of the last conflict. My business associates know that I never side-step a scrap.

I thrive on trouble. Give me some new upset to face each day and I am a happy man. I am no pacifist in busines, religion, or war; and I am all set for any actual participation in the current fight abroad. But I also know that when our enemies suffer we also suffer in the end.

Dividends may increase, but total incomes of business men and investors will be drastically reduced by taxes. Even war talk and a feeling that the right side is winning brings increased activity in the stock market. The demand for labor will put more money into the pockets of the man on Main Street and into the tills of stores. Only unbiased historians years hence will be able to judge whether or not wars ever provide lasting economic values. Surely, real prosperity can come from our present situation only as it strengthens our character and teaches us needed lessons.

Let's Remember 1929

Unfortunately we have not yet recovered from the effects of the last war. Furthermore, fundamentally, we profited little from it, either financially or spiritually. We had a slump in business after the armistice, followed by several years of rising values. Then came the swift kick in the pants so many of us remember. Now, we are on the eve of another great outbreak. God grant that it will not come before we are prepared.

Our country is like a sick child who before recovering from an ear abcess breaks out with chicken pox. We are not yet out of the depression starting in 1929. Temporarily, the economic situation will ease up, bringing us to a false sense of security and prosperity. Geographically our country is so large, and our numbers and resources so great, that many have the impression we cannot be licked. However, in Hitler's eyes we are already tottering from internal labor troubles and Congressional fights. And the thought may not be far fetched

Germany now has the great bulk of the resources of the Continent, let alone the Scandinavian countries. With this backing, anything can happen to us economically. One saving grace is that in all history no man has yet conquered the world. If I have learned anything in the last forty years, it concerns man's frailty. Some day a leader will rise in some other country who will be Hitler's match. Until then, we must keep prepared economically as well as militarily for whichever way the tide turns.

I may sound like an alarmist. If so, forgive me. I am anxious only that we Americans are not caught sleeping, economically, at the switch. I am hopeful, too, that all will realize the price our young people must some day pay for the present expenditures and brief respite from unemployment. Hitler has no idea of invading the United States as long as our people are prosperous. He, however, believes, that through labor and political dissensions, unemployment will be so great and our people so divided that we will turn to Fascism as a remedy.

As my grandchildren constanly remind me, times have changed. Our conception of money and wealth will change. It no longer takes money, as we know it, to finance Germany. If it were of any real value, the gold which we have buried at Fort Knox would guarantee our own and England's salvation. No, money is today of little real value. We must have tangible resources, the courage to sacrifice, and the character to keep our heads.

Chon Martinez Tells Court Saturday, 'I'm Not Insane'

have to say before sentence is passed?" asked the court.

"There is," said "Chon." "They have discredited my family." Whom he meant by "they" was not explained.

He added quickly:

"I'm not insane!" He shifted his feet slightly.

"I know the governor is representing me."

He chatted a moment with the interpreter, who then quoted him:

"I mailed a letter to the president—President Roosevelt. I didn't write the governor. I haven't received a letter from him."

Judge Gives Sentence

The judge conferred briefly with District Attorney Tom Hartley and his assistant, Jack Ross.

In a moment he intoned:

"You . . . shall on the fourth day of December, 1941, be electrocuted . . ."

The handcuffs rattled again as Ingram picked them up.

Martinez remained on the witness stand.

Ramon Longoria, court-appointed attorney for Martinez, whose chief counsel, Kenedy Smith of Raymondville, was not present at the session, asked Judge Ferguson to allow Martinez to remain in the county jail here through Monday, thus giving the man's family time to have him examined by two physicians, ostensibly regarding his sanity.

Martinez may still present evidence of such physicians' findings to the court and ask for a sanity hearing.

Otherwise, Sheriff R. T. (Bob) Daniel, who had made preparations to leave with Martinez Saturday for Huntsville, will start with him Tuesday morning for the death cell at the state prison.

District Attorney Hartley, who on October 12 had worked exactly four years on the "Donna river murder case" as a public prosecutor, walked from the courtroom to his office and smoked a cigaret.

"Four Long Years"

"That is the last of them," he commented quietly. "These have been four long years."

Of six men originally indicted for the slaying of the unknown man and woman after each had attacked the woman, only one faces any prospects for freedom.

Placido Handy, given the death term in court here, was electrocuted at Huntsville several months ago.

Now Martinez faces the electric chair.

Three others, Braulio Yanez, Emiliano Martinez and Bonifacio Martinez, were given life sentences a few months ago when they were tried in district court of Bexar county at San Antonio. They accepted the sentences.

The sixth man, Jose Rodriguez, who turned state's evidence and testified against the other five under an agreement that he would be granted immunity, remains in the county jail here, where he too has been for four years.

When the Martinez sentence is finally disposed of, the charges against Rodriguez will be dismissed and he will go free.

France Enters Axis Orbit In Pact

London repudiated any agreement between Hitler and the aged Petain, terming "any association, direct or indirect, between France and her mortal enemy" a "sacrilege."

King Wiresh Petain

Earlier in the day informed circles in London had disclosed that King George had messaged Petain, extending courage and sympathy to the French people, and expressing the conviction of an ultimate British victory. Vichy dispatches did not mention the communication.

President Roosevelt also had sent a communication to the French government, Secretary of State Cordell Hull, revealed. That message went across seas Thursday while Petain was seeing Hitler somewhere in occupied France.

While the diplomatic moves went forward on the continent, the military phases of the war continued at increased speed. London had seven daylight air raid alarms and an eighth shortly after nightfall with an untold number of casualties and considerable property damage to private homes and apartments.

Activity In Channel

There was considerable activity in the Channel area. Within sight of watchers on on the English shore RAF squadrons bombed a German convoy and English coastal batteries shelled a small fleet of German torpedo boats maneuvering along the French coast.

British pilots also resumed their attack on the German long-range guns near Cap Gris Nez.

The Germans, intensifying the war at sea, claimed to have hit the 42,348-ton liner Empress of Britain with aerial bombs off North Ireland and to have left her sinking. The ship was used on the return trip of King George and Queen Elizabeth from North America in the summer of 1939.

The British admiralty declined comment.

RAF Over Germany

The British air ministry announced the usual RAF flights over Germany and German-occupied territory again took place with bombs dropping on the naval base at Kiel, on Bremen and Cuxhaven and the Channel invasion bases.

Various industrial centers likewise were attacked, the ministry said.

In the Mediterranean area, Italy was reported to have suspended air service to Greece until November 4, and many believed some action against the Greeks was imminent.

The official Rome radio also announced that the long expected Italian offensive in Egypt was about to begin.

Greasy Burglar

Miami Prowler Gives Police Headache

MIAMI, Fla. —(AP)— A grease-smeared burglar dressed only in trunks is giving police here new problems in crime detection.

On at least one occasion citizens gabbed at the elusive thief and got only handfuls of grease.

Officers can't decide whether he is a white man or a negro. They think he may be white, though, because there appeared to be charcoal dust mixed with the lard left on one citizen's hands.

The Democratic national committee said it received $642,320 and disbursed $603,742 in the period from September 1 to October 22.

The Associated Willkie Clubs of America listed receipts aggregating $624,605 and expenditures totalling $464,376 from September 1 to October 20.

The Democrats-For-Willkie organization, New York, reported $148,720 in contributions and expenditure of $117,001 from September 10-October 20.

Contributions reported by the Democratic national committee included:

an objective "the securing of control of the high seas."

"They threaten peaceful nations with the direst consequences if those nations do not remain acquiescent, while the conquerors are seizing the other continents and most of the seven seas of the earth."

"We are in the presence not of local or regional wars, but of an organized and determined movement for steadily expanding conquest. Against this drive for power no nation and no region is secure save as its inhabitants create for themselves means of defense so formidable that even the would-be conquerors will not dare to raise against them the hand of attack."

DNB, official news agency, said two British pursuit planes were shot down in an extended fight over the English Channel in these raids and a third forced to make a landing on the French coast. No German losses were reported.

On the home front, Adolf Hitler ordered Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering to start a second "four-year plan" and adapt it to the needs of war. He told Goering that first 4-year plan, intended to make pre-war Germany self-sufficient, was a great success.

NEW BUSINESS SCHOOL OPENS

Durham Institute Is To Locate Here

HARLINGEN — President G. D Durham of the Durham Business Institute, Austin, and other officials of the school visited in the Valley during the past week, deciding to open a branch school in Harlingen.

Durham said a lease has been taken on a home for the new enterprise in the Embee building, and that complete equipment and office machinery is being installed for opening of the Harlingen branch.

critical point in the fight to hold prices down.

Steel mills operated at about the highest percentage of capacity in history, around 95, with actual amount of steel turned out undoubtedly the greatest on record.

Automobile production was the largest for this part of the season in three years. Orders from dealers were said to be heavy.

Retail Trade Better

In retail trade, snappy weather drove people to stores for winter clothing. Sales in steel and heavy industry towns led the pickup.

Heavy construction awards — largely for factories which will later add to swelling employment and payrolls—topped $127,000,000, nearly 100 per cent ahead of the same period last year.

Not only in steel, but in textiles, motors, electric utilities, and elsewhere expansion appeared to be in the offing. The aircraft companies, with an estimated $3,500,000,000 of orders on their books, and more likely to be added as these are filled, already is rushing millions in plant construction completion.

president of the American Federation of labor.

The CIO, he said, was "torn with dissension, divided politically because its leaders seek to compel it to support a political party." The AFL, he added, "has evolved and followed a non-partisan political policy."

Green Says CIO Split

Some officials of the United Mine Workers, foundation stone of the CIO organization, disagreed with Lewis. Hugh V. Brown, president of District 7, a Hazelton, Pa., unit and one of the big UMW locals, said the district membership would "go down the alley battling" for Roosevelt. On the other hand, Ray Edmundson, Illinois district president of the UMW, made public a resolution by 16 UMW officials pledging support of Lewis and a "vigorous campaign" against a third term for President Roosevelt.

Interpreting The War News

Italian Morale Sags

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON

Loudest predictions of a dramatic military denouncement as a result of Axis strategic moves in France and Spain come from Italy, not Germany. They picture for Italian home consumption something big about to happen to help Italy get on with her slow-motion war in Egypt and the eastern Mediterranean.

It will have to be something very big to get any place. There would be no short-war connotations in a siege of Gibraltar, an Axis lunge via the Dardanelles on a 2,000-mile march to the east or Axis acquisition of French or Spanish air and submarine operating bases. All imply long-war readjustments, and it is waning hopes of a quick victory over Britain that is troubling Messrs. Hitler and Mussolini, particularly Mussolini.

Unless the new Axis technique in France and Spain—when disclosed—holds out hope to the Italian people of early escape from Britain's choke-hold sea blockade,- the effect on Italian public morale might become serious this winter. Italy is the weak spot in Axis armor by every indication.

Italian morale has had little rich substance on which to feed recently. Highly seasoned tales of Italian naval victories that would be of minor consequence even if true cannot conceal the slow progress of the Italian drive in Egypt. It has been "consolidating" at Sidi Barrani for weeks.

Conflicting Reports

Only Friday, the Rome radio announced that a new Italian offensive in Egypt was imminent, that Marshal Rodolfo Graziani's army in North Africa was "now ready and fully prepared to deal a final blow to the British in Egypt." But at about the same time, the Italian high command reported that Italian positions east of Sidi Barrani had been shelled by British warships.

The odds have shifted in Britain's favor since the push to Sidi Barrani began weeks ago. Graziani was credited with some 260,-000 men against Britain's probable 150,000 when he signalled his troops forward.

Only by air can Italian or German reinforcements have been transported.

Rome Admits Trouble

Even Rome admits that both British forces ashore in Egypt and the British fleet in the eastern Mediterranean have been augmented.

The Axis fostered talk of a siege of Gibraltar always has seemed primarily designed as a diversion. That "The Rock" can be taken quickly is not conceivable to anybody who has studied its natural strength.

DRAFT QUOTAS ARE COMPUTED

State Governors To Get Data Monday

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Figures to be used in computing draft quotas for 6,175 local board areas throughout the country have been compiled by national selective service headquarters for early distribution to state governors.

Regulations require the army to notify the governors by Monday how many men each state must contribute to the first 30,000 draftees to be inducted into service November 18. The call for men will be distributed by the governors among the local boards.

The board quotas will be figured on the same basis as quotas for the states. Figures which will be used in these computation will include estimates of the class 1A (fit and available for service) manpower of each state and estimates of the quota credits for volunteers from each state.

Credit For Volunteers

A state's quota is the difference between the number of class 1A men it should contribute to the land and naval forces in existence next July 1 and the number which it already has contributed, and will contribute through regular voluntary enlistments, to those armed forces.

Class 1A manpower for the whole nation is estimated by national headquarters at 5,000,000 of the 17,-00,000 young men registered. A state with 50,000 men in class 1A has 1-100th of the manpower and should, therefore, contribute 1-100th of the total forces of 1,900,000 to be in existence next July 1, or 19,-000.

That number would be reduced by the total of men in service plus those expected to enlist by July 1. If that aggregated 10,000, for example, the state's actual quota of conscripts would be 9,000.

LABOR RULES OUTLINED AT VALLEY MEET

Miss Tish Checks On Violations Here

McALLEN — Texas labor laws were explained to employers of McAllen and Weslaco in meetings held Thursday and Friday by Mrs. Edith Tish of Corpus Christi, deputy labor commisisoner.

The Thursday meeting was held at the McAllen Chamber of Commerce, presided over by Chamber Manager Paul T. Vickers and the Friday session at Weslaco, presided over by Chamber Manager John Hager.

The purpose of Mrs. Tish's trip was to check up on reports of state labor law violations and to acquaint employers with the Texas regulations covering men, women and children.

She said children under the age of 15 cannot be employed in industry without permission from county judges. Such children can work only eight hours a day and may not work at night. The law does not apply to agricultural and dairy pursuits.

Boys under 17 cannot be employed in dangerous jobs and cannot be sent as messengers to places of ill repute.

Women under state law can work only 54 hours a week, or nine hours a day, except in laundry and cleaning establishments, where they may work 11 hours daily, with time and a half for overtime.

The health, comfort and morals of workers also was stressed. There must be separate rest room facilities for men and women employed in the same industry, Mrs. Tish said.

Texas laws do not cover men workers with the exception of those on public projects, who can work only eight hours daily at the prevailing wages. The national wage-hour law covers male employes.

WANT TO GET THE RAZZBERRY?

Try telling folks electric rates have been cut in half!

I WORK FOR Central Power and Light Company and the other night I had supper over at Jim and Edith's house. "No fooling" I told them, "you really do get about twice as much electricity today as you did ten or twenty years ago for the same money." They gave me the ha-ha. "Maybe you mean the bill is twice as high nowadays" said Jim. I said, "Your bill probably is higher, Jim. Mine is, too. But there's a good reason for it. Look here . . ."

And I took them around their house and pointed out their refrigerator and electric washer and percolator, radio, toaster, iron, and all the other electric gadgets, not to mention the big bulbs in the lamps. And I said, "Now honestly aren't you using a whale of a lot more electricity than you did ten or twelve years ago?" They said that was right.

"Our service is better, too" I said. "Look." I took three blocks that their youngest boy had been playing with and put them in a row on a table. Then I showed them how we've got two and three plants hooked on the very line that brought juice into that room, so if something went on the blink in one plant, service would go right on. Jim scratched his head and said, "Never realized that?"

Then I tossed a dime and a nickel on the table real dramatic-like and said, "And you get all this service for only about fifteen cents. Light, refrigeration, cool ironing, swell coffee—for fifteen cents a day! Edith, you're a good bargain hunter—is this a bargain or is it a bargain?" She nodded. "Never thought of it like that, but it certainly is," she said.

"And here's something else," I said. "You not only get twice as much electricity for your money, you cut your rate every time you use more. With our modern rates, the more electricity you use the more you cut your rate."

Well, I guess my little speech made an impression all right because a few days later I saw Edith looking at electric ranges. Mighty smart gal, that Edith. If I could find another one like her, I'd marry her quick.

CENTRAL POWER AND LIGHT COMPANY

Would Make Soldier Center

BROWNSVILLE—Word has been received from the National Council for Young Men's Christian Associations that funds may be collected at the council's meeting this week-end in Pittsburgh for establishment of a Y.M.C.A. recreational center for soldiers here.

C-l. W. E. Talbot, vice president and general manager of the Brownsville Chamber of Commerce, said a letter from the national council stated "there is a definite need for a Y.M.C.A. in Brownsville, and plans are being made to meet the need as soon as necessary funds can be collected."

Need Seen

Edward J. Fuller of New York City, army and navy department representative of the council, visited Brownsville recently to investigate need for a "Y" center here.

He conferred with Col. Talbot, Chaplain L. W. Cronin of Fort Brown and Frank Davis, president of the chamber of commerce.

Mr. Fuller stated at that time that local groups would have to furnish the location and utilities for a Y.M.C.A. here, and the national council would furnish the personnel and educational facilities.

Since that time, Col. Talbot has asked H. L. Stokely, chairman of the chamber's military and naval affairs committee, to form a local group for the purpose of obtaining a location and utilities for the project.

City To Cooperate

All service clubs, ex-service men's organizations, churches, women's clubs and other civic and patriotic groups will be asked to cooperate.

"This project won't take a whole lot of money, but it does demand united support of all Brownsville citizens," Col. Talbot declared.

T. A. Rymer of the national Y.M.C.A. council's army and navy department in New York City has requested E. W. Hearne of Melrose, Mass., to come to Brownsville to handle preliminary preparations for the project, a letter received by Col. Talbot said.

No acceptance had been received from Hearne up to Saturday. The letter stated that after Hearne had established the Y.M.C.A. here, the national council would provide a secretary for the center.

Fort To Be Enlarged

"The garrison at Fort Brown is due to be greatly enlarged in the near future, and soldiers at the post face many perplexing problems with very little opportunity for constructive use of leisure time," Col. Talbot said.

Mr. Rymer's letter stated that many requests for Y.M.C.A. centers have been received from many cities, but that the need for one in Brownsville seems to be greater than any other.

Mr. Rymer wrote that, with this in mind, a movement is on within the national council to take care of the need in Brownsville "more quickly than the rest."

The local group would also have to provide yearly funds for the upkeep of the center here, it was stated.

Dotted line near Paris indicates possible new northern boundary of unoccupied France.

Note For Future Reference; If Ear Gets Torn Off, Save It Because It Can Be Sewed Back On Weeks Later

CHICAGO—(AP)—If an ear is torn off in an auto accident, the American College of Surgeons was advised, it should be saved because weeks or months later it can be put back on and will make a perfectly good new ear.

The report was made by Dr. H. L. D. Kirkham of Houston, Tex. The ear has to be kept in a preserative, but he said that, even if it were not found until 24 hours after the accident, it still could be preserved.

Any dead person's ear, if preserved, can be used to make a good ear, he said.

The "dead" ear does not exactly live again, but its cartilage, which forms the bulk of the ear and virtually all of its contour, would be a skeleton on which a plastic surgeon could mold skin from the victim's own body to make a new ear.

AGGIES PLAN CITRUS SHOW

Valley Fruit Features Display

BROWNSVILLE—The Valley will be well represented at the coming horticultural show at Texas A. and M. College.

Three earnest young students—Edgar L. Pewitt, Ty Kobayashi and T. J. McLeaish—are seeing to it themselves.

The boys were in Brownsville Saturday on the first lap of a trip to the Valley's major fruit exchanges and packing plants. Each firm, they said, is being asked to send a display of fruit, fruit juice or anything else they have on hand to the college's show November 25 and 26.

The concerns they already have called on promised to send exhibits, the boys said.

"All we're worried about now is how we are going to haul the fruit back to the school," they said.

Competitor Steals Nude Ned's Stuff

BROWNSVILLE—Some lowlifer is chiseling on the nude burglar.

A clothes line theft was reported to police Saturday by Claudio Oritz, 256 Jefferson, who reported the loss of two pairs of pants.

And the police say it wasn't the nude burglar's work, as badly as he is supposed to need pants.

According to Oritz he had two clothes lines about 200 feet long filled with wearing apparel of all sorts. Friday night some thief picked the line for the two pairs of pants and left all the rest of the clothes, many items of which were more valuable than the loot.

Meanwhile Piedmont, Calif., is experiencing a mild case of hysteria over a barefoot burglar whose current case history closely parallels that of the Brownsville burglaries.

At least four homes in the swank neighborhoods of wealthy and prominent Piedmonters were raided this week by the burglar who carries his shoes and enters through screens. His loot, like the Brownsville burglar's, is small. And Piedmont is excited.

In Brownsville, no burglary attempts have been reported to police during the past week.

WESLACO TO HOLD UNIQUE STYLE SHOW

Must Be Made From Valley Produce

WESLACO — An onion ensemble or a radish and broccoli bathing suit will be possibilities here Dec. 12 at the National Fruit, Vegetable and Flower Costume Style show.

Show officials Saturday announced a list of prizes for the best costumes made entirely out of Valley fruits, vegetables, flowers, or the combination of all three.

Rules covering the throwing together of these edible fashions require that the fruits or vegetables or flora used must be native to the Valley—no California or Florida citrus will be tolerated.

Models showing off these vitamin and calory conscious creations must not be over 16, but the show officials aren't worried about having to bar somebody's grandmother from the show. It will take young girl to carry around a grapefruit polo coat.

Models may be entered by any club, organization, business or individual. They may be entered in any one of the three following divisions:

1. Street and sport dresses; first prize; $35; second prize, $25.

2. Costumes representing state, nation, or famous characters, first prize, $35; second prize, $25.

3. Evening gowns; first prize, $35; second prize, $25.

Entries from out of Weslaco, if they don't win one of the regular prizes, will compete for two special awards, one for $25, the other for $15.

Allowables Hike

Week's Oil Produced Up 1688 Barrels

AUSTIN—(AP)—Net allowable oil production in Texas averaged 1,416,911 barrels daily the past week, an increase of 1,688 over last week and 111,711 above the U. S. Bureau of Mines estimate, railroad commission engineers reported Saturday.

The engineers said, however, that estimated assigned but unproduced allowables amounted to 42,507 barrels a day, dropping the state's actual production over the federal bureau's figure to 69,204.

New Oil wells during the week numbered 136 and brought the year's total to 5,826. The additional wells gave the state an overall total of 94,189.

Solon Says Honest Elections Promised Cook County Areas

CHICAGO —(AP)— Senator Clyde Reed (R-Kan), member of a senate subcommittee designated to investigate complaints of election irregularities in Chicago, declared Saturday that "we are going to see that Cook county has honest and fair elections."

"There is no fooling about this inquiry," he said. "We are in earnest, determined to get at the bottom of all this.

"In all probability a federal grand jury will be convened—and if the special prosecutor, Maurice Milligan, obtains as many convictions, proportionately, as he did in the Kansas City election cases, a couple of thousand people will go to jail."

JERSEY CITY, N. J.—(AP)—The American export liner Exochorda—ending her last voyage as a merchantman before entering service as a U. S. navy submarine tender—arrived from Lisbon with 186 passengers—60 of them American citizens returning from the war zone.

Among the passengers was Konrad Heiden, German-Jewish author who had been placed on the Nazi death list for writing a book criticizing Hitler. Interned in a French prison camp near Tours, he said he escaped when German planes bombed and machine-gunned the prison. During the excitement, he said, he escaped to Lisbon "with the aid of American friends."

'Arrest Us If We Race To Fires,' C-C Men Propose

McALLEN—Motorists who rush to fires, hindering firemen in their work, stand condemned by McAllen Chamber of Commerce directors.

The directors agreed they themselves should be arrested and fined if they rush to blazes and interfere with the fire fighters.

Fire Chief Alfred Myers, the volunteer fire department members and Chief of Police Noah Cannon have urged people to stay at home or get completely off streets, or pull to the curb and stop on all streets leading to a fire area. Chamber directors determined to uphold the pleas vigorously.

Insurance men said the habit of thoughtless, excited McAllen people rushing to fires is liable to cause a raise in insurance rates. The former chief, C. H. Britton, said that some day a $200 fire may go into a $50,000 fire because McAllen people get in the path of the fire fighters.

Fathers and mothers sometimes put their children in the family auto and race to a fire, thereby risking the lives of the children endangering the lives of other citizens and the fire fighters and encreasing the liability of serious property losses by hindering the fire fiughters, directors said.

Last Tuesday night when a little blaze broke out on Maple Avenue, North Main Street was so congested by the curious, fire fans, that members of the volunteer fire department could hardly reach Maple; cars were crowded into trees and on to lawns and serious crashes were avoided by a hair's breadth, chamber directors declared.

HIDALGO WILL SEEK 5,000 IN RELIEF DRIVE

County's Red Cross Needs Outlined

EDINBURG—Mobilization of man power for national defense will demand increased Red Cross services to the armed forces of America, A. M. Tarbutton of Edinburg, Hidalgo county chairman, declared Saturday. Tarbutton said he hoped the goal of 5,000 members set for Hidalgo would be exceeded.

Fortunately, Tarbutton added, these services are so well organized nationally and locally that they are capable of rapid expansion. Cost of the necessary extension of activities on behalf of service men will be met, as in the past, from membership contributions. This year the Red Cross conducts its roll call of members in Hidalgo from November 11-30, he said.

"The war service of the American Red Cross," he announced, "has representatives at 77 field offices and hospitals. In the past year more than 53,000 soldiers, sailors, marine and coast guardsmen or their families were aided in solving all kinds of problems arising from economic, illness and social causes."

Tarbutton declared the war personnel in the field could not function without the aid of 3,700 local chapters and 6,600 branches of the Red Cross. "Indeed," he emphasized, "the vast area covered by the chapter set-up is the main reason why the Red Cross today is in a position to render invaluable service to our country's defense forces."

The war service also continues to carry on its program for disabled veterans of past wars, he said. "The individual cases of 140,000 U. S. veterans or their dependents came under Red Cross care in chapters last year. In regional offices of the U. S. Veterans Administration and in government hospitals, Red Cross workers dealt with the problems of 58,000 ex-service men or their families."

He declared this entire program is "operated for the benefit of every American. It is conducted for our own sons, brothers and fathers. We can help by joining the American Red Cross or by renewing our membership from last year."

Turks Ask Rumanian Funds Frozen In US Be Made Available

ANKARA, Turkey—(AP)—Usually reliable sources declared a recently-concluded trade agreement between Turkey and Rumania could not become effective unless the United States released at least $6,000,000 of the Rumanian funds frozen in America.

It was understood Rumania had requested that such an amount be released and earmarked for Turkey in order to purchase Turkish cotton. If the request is not granted, it was said, a new agreement may be worked out whereby Turkish copper would be exchanged for Rumanian oil.

WAGE TALLY PROVIDED BY U. S. BOARD

Records On Social Security Set Up

BROWNSVILLE—Opportunity for social security account holders to check on their old-age and survivors insurance accounts is offered by the Social Security Board in an announcement issued this week. The board says it is now ready to furnish to any account holder on request a statement of the wages credited to his particular account for 1939 and at least one quarter of 1940.

There are 50 million such accounts, according to F. E. Wilson, manager of the Brownsville Social Security Board field office.

Depends On Wages

"Social security accounts," F. E. Wilson said, "are the Social Security Board's record of each worker's wages as reported to the government by his employer. The monthly benefits payable to insured wage earners, to their wives or widows, and their children, or to their dependent parents, depend upon the amount of the worker's wages. Therefore, the board points out, it is important for the worker to check up once a year and find out for himself whether the record is correct."

Such an opportunity is provided by the board once a year beginning in July, and for the account holder's convenience, a postcard to use in asking for the statement of his wages is also provided. All the worker needs to do is fill out this card and mail it, or write a letter making the same request. In either case, he gives his name and address, his social security account number, and the date of his birth to identify his account. He will receive the reply in a sealed envelope, in accordance with the board's regulation which requires that any information about anybody's social security account shall be confidential.

Show Total Credits

The statement of wage credits will show the total of the worker's wages reported to the government by his employer or employers for the year 1939, and in addition for quarters in 1940 so far as the records have been posted. It will show also the total of all his wages as reported and processed since his social security account was started.

Employers send in the wage reports with their tax returns, every three months, to the Bureau of Internal Revenue. There the tax returns are audited. Then the wage reports are forwarded to the Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance in the Social Security Board, where the wages reported for each worker are transferred to his own particular social security account. The figures can then be furnished him on request.

1940 Cotton Staple Longer Than 1939's

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The average staple length of 1940 cotton ginned through October 17 was considerably longer but the proportions of middling and strict low middling white grades were somewhat larger than for the corresponding period last year, the Agricultural Department reported Friday.

Ginnings, which totaled 7,028,141 bales, contained only about two per cent of the spotted grades as compared with more than 15 per cent last season.

Texas' Riches Are Enough For Relief

WACO, Tex.—(AP)—H. P. Drought, state WPA administrator, told the Texas County Judges and Commissioners Association here Friday that Texas could afford the cost of an adequate state welfare program but was not carrying its share of the burden.

He advised the 500 delegates in a dinner address there was "no possibility of the federal government's enlarging its work relief program," and said there were 80,000 Texas families needing direct relief.

Rincon Field Pipeline Highlight Of Oil News

McALLEN—Additional developments in the big Rincon field in Davis City, northeastern Starr county, included Friday the construction of a 15-mile pipeline from the field to trackside loading facilities on the Missouri Pacific Lines and construction of more than 50 new homes and buildings in the field.

The new pipeline, a 4-inch line, will lead from the big Rincon tank farm to the El Tanque field, about 11 miles to the southeast, and thence to the loading racks in Rio Grande City, another four miles. About 4,000 barrels of steel storage will be built at Rio Grande City to handle the incoming crude. The new line will not interfere with present facilities, the Valley Pipeline Company's Starr county gathering system through which a major part of the Rincon crude is transported to Port Brownsville for shipment by tanker. Rincon is now producing about 6,000 barrels daily. Estimated cost is around $30,000.

The new homes and buildings at Davis City will accommodate families of men stationed in the field as well as additional men expected to be sent to the area when the company starts construction of its anticipated gas-distillate recycling plant there. No further information as to the date for start of construction of the plant has been available.

Pipe for the Starr county pipeline begun arriving in the Valley and work will be started shortly. Company officials indicated that no additional labor is needed on the project, since the local labor supply is sufficient.

McALLEN—Two highly important Lower Rio Grande Valley wildcats were scheduled to run production tests this weekend, one in southwestern Hidalgo county and the other in eastern Willacy county. Little detailed information was available on the latter. Meanwhile, wildcats scattered through other parts of Hidalgo, Starr and Brooks counties added to the general wildcat scene in the southernmost Texas counties.

In southwestern Hidalgo, just a mile east of the prolific old Samfordyce field and almost squarely in the center of an area surrounded by dry holes from 2,000 to 5,000 feet deep, Royal Oil and Gas Co. No. A-1 Yturria Town and Improvement Co., PorCor, 43, Reynosa Jurisdiction, was almost certain to become a producer. Operators topped gas sand at 3,151 feet, which caused a blowout in the No. 1 Yturria, first well drilled on the block. Then gas sand was cored at 3,489-98 feet and oil sand at 3,498-3,502 feet. The hole was bottomed in shale at 3,535 feet and 5½ inch o.d. casing was cemented on bottom. Drill stem test of the sand recovered 1,330 feet of oil, and 90 feet of oily mud with 26 pounds pressure in 15 minutes. The oil was 28 gravity, A.P.I. Production test will be made through casing perforations in the lower part of the sand.

The 800-acre block on which the well was drilled is owned jointly by Royal Oil and Gas and by Baldridge and King, McAllen independent operators and drilling contractors. The section is known locally a sthe "Nichols area" because geology on the prospect was worked out by C. R. Nichols, McAllen geologist. The well represents the fourth location drilled in and around the Sullivan City and Samfordyce areas by Royal on what was generally regarded as questionable acrege but which has proved productive.

Northwest of Sullivan City production, Baldridge and King's No. 1 Garcia Land and Livestock Co., Por. 100, Camargo Jurisdiction, a short distance north of State Highway 4, was ready to sidetrack around 4,200 feet after the hole was ottomed at 4,228 feet with pipe stuck. The pipe was shot off at 4,200 feet and cement plug set.

In northeastern Hidalgo, Humble Oil and Refining Co. No. 1 American Life Insurance Co., Lot 1 Block 13, Mo-Tex Subd., Las Mestenas Grant, was reported coring steadily ahead at about 7,510 feet.

In eastern Willacy county, considerable attention was focused on Pan-American Production Co. No. 1 Porfiro Garcia, Share 13, San Juan de Carricitos Grant, which was reported to be running production test. The well was drilled to 9,002 feet and 7-inch o. d. oil string was reported cemented at 8,900 feet. Production tests were reported run on 7,800-foot and 8,500-foot shows but no information on the wildcat could be verified. A number of major companies and one or two independents hold all available acreage.

In eastern Starr County about five miles north of the big Rincon field, Sun Oil Co. No. 2 Mateo Saenz, Survey 80, was a semi-wildcat 1,700 feet north of the No. 1 Saenz, discovery well of another producing area lying, apparently, out on the flanks of Rincon. The No. 2 Saenz cemented 10 3-4 inch o. d. surface casing at 1,035 feet and was ready to start beneath the pipe. The Sun No. 1 Saenz was the second Vicksburg producer ever completed in the Valley.

A mile west of the discovery well of the "North Rincon" area, believed to be additional flank production of Rincon, but three miles to the north and a little west, Harvey Oil Co. No. 1 R. J. Moore, Survey 513, had cemented past 4,000 feet. Harvey No. 1 Davenport-State, Survey 514, a south offset to the North Rincon discovery, Sun No. 1 W. G. Lehr, was still making six to eight barrels daily by small heads through open tubing from sand at 4,106-19 feet.

On the east side of the Rincon field about 1,600 feet east of production, W. R. Davis, Inc., No. 1 Lucy Seyfriedt, Survey 928, was reported coring around 5,115 feet, but details on the well were not made public because of its important location. It is 1,600 feet east of the Complete Oil Well No. 1 Yzaguirre, which is 8,800 feet east of most northerly production at Rincon.

In northeastern Brooks county about six miles northeast of Falfurrias, J. M. West Production Co. No. 1 Wm. Ehlers, Sec. 12, Burton & Danforth Subd., Loma Blanca Grant, recovered 175 feet of oily mud and 210 feet of salt water with

Cameron Boys To Aid National Defense

BROWNSVILE — All Cameron County Boy Scout troops will observe National Roll Call week the first week in November in co-operation with the national emergency program, according to Ralph M. Cissne, Boy Scout field executive for the Lower Valley area.

Mr. Cissne said the roll call will be held by Boy Scout troops all over the nation for the purpose of checking on the qualifications of all troops. Scout leaders and Scouts.

Chairmen of various troop committees will be responsible for having 100 percent attendance at committee meetings during that week, and Scoutmasters and junior leaders will be responsible for perfect attendance at troop meetings during that time, Mr. Cissne said.

was cemented at 2,914 feet for production test.

In northeastern Starr County, Sun Oil No. C-2 Geo. H. Speer, Survey 235, an inside well, was swagbing oil through casing perforations (9 shots) at 4,640-42 feet during production test. The hole was bottomed at 5,002 feet and 5 1-2 inch o. d. casing was cemented at 4,675 feet.

In the Boyle field in southern Starr, Borsodi Petroleum Co. No. 2 Juan de Dios Vela, Share 2-A, Por. 91, Camargo Jurisdiction, guaged 70 barrels daily on 1-8 inch tubing choke through casing perforations at 3,232-38 feet with 375 pounds tubing working pressure and 680 pounds closed-in casing pressure. This was the second producer in the field's 3,200 foot sand, and is located about one mile south of the Boyle discovery well, finaled in a 3,500 foot sand.

Two wells were making production tests in the Rincon field in eastern Starr County.

Spiritualist Sees 'Moses' In Vision: Predicts '41 Axis Split, British Win; Bears Out Minister's 1940 Prophecy

BROWNSVILLE — Italy will break her ties with Germany in the near future, and Britain will emerge victorious from the present war in Europe early in 1941, according to Rev. J. P. Morgan, local spiritualist minister.

A vision of a man, who identified himself as "Moses" appeared to Reverend Morgan during the past week and informed him that Britain "not yet but soon would be victorious in the end of this struggle," the minister said.

Reverend Morgan said the "vision and words" showed "the long white way leading up into the great high mountains with the Spirit holding a flag in each hand standing on the highest peak at the end of the road."

Spirit Carries Flag

"The Spirit carried the American flag in the right hand and a misty-colored flag in the left hand with the word 'British' written through it," Reverend Morgan said.

"This showed that not yet but soon Britain would be victorious in the end of this struggle," he stated.

"Then the spirit of an old man with curly gray hair, deep blue eyes and long flowing gray whiskers appeared, carrying a trumpet in each hand ready to sound the victorious wonders to the world," he continued.

"The messenger gave his name as "Moses," and a German officer was watching his movements, ready to flee in horror and terror from the great loss that was upon him," Reverend Morgan related.

Italy Kicks Germany

"And as Moses journeyed into the mist I saw the toe of the Italian boot kicking the German officer out, and the plain words that followed were: "Get out and stay out!," which denoted Italy realizing that he had been led into great losses by broken German promises."

"This vision bears out the prophecy which they gave me in June, 1940, predicting beforehand that Italy would join Germany and that both would fail in February, 1941," Reverend Morgan concluded.

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M.—(AP)—District Judge Bryan Johnson delved further into the affairs of Guy L. Waggoner to determine whether the wealthy sportsman is a legal resident of New Mexico or Texas.

Upon the outcome rested whether New Mexico or Texas courts would try divorce litigation pending in the two states between Waggoner and his attractive wife, Virginia Green Waggoner of Fort Worth.

U. S. INSURANCE HOLDERS MAY CHECK CREDIT

Social Security Head Opens Books

BROWNSVILLE — Opportunity for social security account holders to check up on their old-age and survivors insurance accounts is offered by the Social Security Board now, F. E. Wilson, manager of the Brownsville board field office said Saturday.

The board is now ready to furnish to any account holder on request a statement of the wages credited to his particular account for 1939 and at least one quarter of 1940, Wilson said there were 50 million such accounts.

Full Record Kept

"Social security accounts," Wilson said, "are the social security board's record of each worker's wages as reported to the government by his employer. The monthly benefits payable to insured wage earners, to their wives or widows and their children, or to their dependent parents, depend upon the amount of the worker's wages. Therefore the board points out, it is important for the worker to check up once a year and find out for himself whether the record is correct."

Such an opportunity is provided by the board once a year beginning in July, and for the account holder's convenience, a post card to use in asking for the statement is provided. All the worker needs to do is fill out this card and mail it, or write a letter making the same request. In either case, he gives his name and address, his social security account number, and the date of his birth to identify his account. He will receive the reply in a sealed envelope, in accordance with the board's regulation which requires that any information about anybody's social security account shall be confidential.

Shows Full Totals

The statement of wage credits will show the total of the worker's wages reported to the government by his employer or employers for the year 1939, and in addition for quarters in 1940 so far as the records have been posted. It will show also the total of all his wages as reported and processed since his social security account was started.

Employers send in the wage reports with their tax returns, every three months, to the Bureau of Internal Revenue. There the tax returns are audited. Then the wage reports are forwarded to the Bureau of Old Age and Survivors Insurance in the Social Security Board, where the wages reported for each worker are transferred to his own particular social security account. The figures can then be furnished him on request.

Bus Driver Parlance Revealed For All

BALTIMORE—(AP)—If you find yourself in company with some geeches, just relax—they're respectable people.

It's simply parlance of bus drivers, pilots of swift inter-city and transcontinental "battle-ships" with a lingo of their own as characteristic as that of a soldier or printer.

Some of the terminology, with interpretations by Jack Breslin, Baltimore bus terminal dispatcher:

Geese—foreigners.

Geeches—"you-all" from Georgia.

Daisies—girls traveling alone.

Doughnut—a bus tire.

Putting her in the wind—stepping on the gas.

The Man—any policeman.

NEW YORK—Shades of King Arthur!

Men and women in warring countries should adopt a 1940 version of the armor worn when knighthood was in flower, says Stephen Grancsay, curator of arms and armor at the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

Grancsay says a suitable outfit could be manufactured in mass production for less than $100. He contends many serious wounds could be prevented if people were given such protection from shrapnel fragments, falling debris and spent bullets.

To objectors who argue that armor-clad civilians wouldn't have sufficient mobility, Grancsay retorts they'd have more than they now have hiding in air raid shelters.

Minister Repents

Confesses He Hunted Without License

PRATT, Kas. —(AP)— Guy Josserand, game official, received a letter from an Illinois minister that said:

"Many years ago as a boy I remember breaking one of the game laws of the state— going hunting without a license.

"Of course, this may seem out of order to some but since that time, about 17 years ago, I have moved away, become a Christian and am now a minister of the Gospel and I do not want anything between my soul and the Lord.

"Therefore I ask you to forgive me for this, as I am sorry for it, and will do what you think best."

Josserand suggested if the minister would help conserve wildlife in the future it might aid his conscience.

Primitive Magic Walks Hand-In-Hand With Rigid Christianity On Texas' Alabama-Koasati Indian Reservation

AUSTIN—(AP)—Primitive magic walks hand in hand with rigid Christianity to make the Alabama-Koasati Indian reservation in Polk county the state's No. 1 paradox, W. E. S. Dickerson told the Texas Archeological and Paleontological Society Saturday.

The University of Texas ethnologist, himself part Choctaw, claimed inhabitants of the 4,351-acre reservation reveal a "remarkable" tenacity for tribal culture despite a 400-year contact with the white race.

"In external forms—religion, dress, food, housing and language—these Indians have become largely indistinguishable from the white groups around them," he said.

"But honeycombed under the Christianity are invisible Indian traits which have survived the impact of white civilization."

These traits include co-operative effort, the use of tribal language as a medium of expression among themselves, retention of certain primitive foods such as sofki which is a native corn dish, and a mystic attitude toward nature.

Converted to Presbyterianism in 1881, the tribes are devout Christians and their church is the "physical and spiritual center of the village," Dickerson said.

He added drinking, gambling and veneral diseases were so rare as to be practically non-existant.

The average for Valley fruit was $2.10 per box for 53,969 boxes and the Florida average was $1.72 per box for 96,570 boxes.

The Valley fruit averages ranged from $1.72 per box at St. Louis, the nearest auction market and having the lowest freight rate, to $2.42 per box in New York, generally regarded as a Florida market because of water transportation.

TEXAS FARM INCOME OFF

August Decline Is 21 Per Cent

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The bureau of Agricultural Economics in its report covering farm income for August disclosed that Texas suffered a decline of 21 per cent as compared with the same month last year.

The bureau reported that because of the later movement of the cotton crop this year, income from crops throughout the entire south was smaller in August than in the same month of 1939.

Texas alone among all south central states showed a drop from the previous year in income received in August from sales of livestock and livestock products. In addition, Texas was one of the few states which showed a drop during the month in the total amount of government payments received as compared with August a year ago.

Total cash income for Texas farmers in August, 1940, including government payments, was $44,566,000. The total in August of 1939 was $56,252,000. Government payments in August 1940 were only $1,747,000, as compared with $5,706,000 in August, 1939. Crop income last August was $27,079,000, as compared with $34,446,000 in August, 1939. Income from livestock and livestock products was $15,740,000 in August, 1940, and $16,100,000 in August of 1939.

Van Field Jumped

Daily Allowable Now 16,591 Barres

AUSTIN—(AP)—Among a number of oil and gas orders, the railroad commission Saturday granted an increase in permissible oil production of nearly 5,000 barrels daily to the Van field in Van Zandt county.

Retroactive to October 16, the order permitted a raise in the BP CR's allowable from the current 12,030 barrels a day to 16,591 and declared the increase was granted on testimony that the crude could be produced without waste and a firm demand for it existed.

Allowable production of sour gas in the Panhandle field was reset at 686,000,000 cubic feet daily in November, under regulations which have obtained since May 4, 1938.

Recycling of gas from wells in La Gloria field in Jim Wells and Brooks counties was permitted under certain conditions and the Texas Company and Stanolind Oil and Gas Company were allowed to return salt water through certain wells to porous horizons.

Wallace Asserts FD Democracy's Symbol

ROCHESTER, N. Y.—(AP)—Henry A. Wallace Saturday labeled President Roosevelt the "very symbol of democracy" to the whole world and added his defeat would "bring despair" to all democratic nations.

"His reelection would make it far more certain that we would not be attacked on this hemisphere," the Democratic vice presidential candidate told a crowd estimated by police at 2,000.

Just What Would Army Do If It Had Hit A Cow?

NEW ORLEANS—(AP)—The army, fastidious about spending any of America's 15 billion-dollar defense fund, is trying to learn how much a pound of pork was worth—and what kind of pork—before it was squashed under the wheels of an army truck in Louisiana last August.

Brigadier General Raymond H. Fleming, adjutant general of Louisiana, made public just two of the letters passing between colonels on the subject.

In the following official correspondence only the names are fictitious:

"Dear Colonel:—I have been detailed formally to investigate the circumstances, determine the damage, and make recommendations concerning a claim resulting from an accident involving United States army one and a half ton dump truck No. 317474 driven by Private Blank of Company Blank, Blank Engineers Battalion, and a 60-pound O.I.C. sow, the property of Mr. Blank of Merryville, La., alleged to have occurred on or about August 26, 1940, under the provisions of paragraph 7B, AR 35-7020.

In Quintuplicate

"Before submitting by report, I should like to request that you furnish me in quintuplicate, a statement showing the value of the cost per pound of a hog, prevailing in Beauregard parish, Louisiana, during August, 1940, that was adopted by your Third Army maneuver damage and claims officer, to be used as a basis for determining the amount due claimant. I have been informed that such a figure was adopted by that officer.

"Thanking you for your kind assistance in this matter, I am,

Sincerely yours,
Colonel Blank."

Three days later, and very recently at that, this letter drew the following official response:

"Dear Colonel:—I have your letter regarding the collision between a one and a half ton United States army truck and a 60-p[illegible]d sow O.I.C. I am referring it to Colonel Blank, rents and claims officer, at Camp Beauregard, to the Louisiana State Department of Agronomy and Hug Husbandry, and also to the Bureau of Weights and Standards in Washington, for reply direct.

What Kind Hit?

"We had several categories of swine in the maneuvers, wandering shoat, barrow, pig, sow, boar and plain hog. We will do our best to place your animal in the proper class for its weight and size, I hope they send the data in quintuplicate.

Sincerely yours,
Colonel Blank."

AUSTIN— (AP) —Sheriff Jim McCoy Saturday asked the State Board of Control to transfer Howard M. Pierson, 26-year-old parricide, to the state hospital for insane at Rusk but the board took no action.

Dr. C. H. Standifer, superintendent of the Austin State Hospital from which Pierson escaped in 1938 and whom a district court has vested with sole authority to act, said he had made no request for Pierson's transfer.

The former University of Texas student, who shot his parents to death in 1935, remained in the county jail.

Clearing Up

When the Harlingen Cardinals won over the McAllen Bulldogs 7 to 6 Friday night at McAllen, they went a long way toward clearing up the Class AA situation in the Valley.

To date the Cardinals have won two conference games, the Brownsville Eagles one, the Bulldogs none, the Edinburg Bobcats none, and the San Benito Greyhounds none. Each Valley Class AA team plays four games in the South zone bracket and the winner then goes against the winner in the North zone. It can be seen that the Cardinals have a better grip on the title at present than the other four teams in the district.

Looking ahead, the Cardinals must win over Brownsville and San Benito to claim undisputed right to the championship of the South zone. They should get by San Benito without much trouble but are certain to have their hands full with Brownsville.

Two Class AA games are scheduled this week-end, McAllen journeying to Brownsville and Edinburg going to San Benito. Edinburg should have little trouble winning over the injury-riddled Greyhounds but fans can expect a slam-bang affair when the Bulldogs and Eagles collide.

No Sympathy

We have long been opposed to betting on high school football games and for that reason we cannot sympathize with those McAllen fellows who drove all to way to Harlingen to put their money and points on McAllen last Friday night.

Somehow we cannot get aroused about wagers made on college games thousands of miles away but there is no place for betting on a high school game.

Youngsters are condemned for a mistake or two on the field and coaches are under fire all because some guy lost 50 cents on a game. If this same guy had no wager up, he would take the game of football in high school for what it is—a fine game bringing together two teams of kids 17 and 18 years of age or less.

We have heard grown men tell these youngsters as they went on the field, "Get out there and win. I have $10.00 bet on you." We have never been lucky enough to hear what one of these fellows told a player as he left the field after his team lost. But we can imagine the conversation.

We grant there seems no logical way to stop this evil. It is simply up to an individual to decide for himself that he will make no wagers on a high school game.

Tough One To Lose

Playing in a sea of mud, the Brownsville Eagles lost a tough one to the Gladewater Bears, 6 to 0, at Brownsville last Friday night.

We think the score should have been 0-0 after watching the teams battle back and forth, slipping and sliding and handling a slick, muddy football.

Outside of one 33 yard run by a Gladewater back, there was no real offense shown by either team because of the condition of the field. The first down record shows that, the Eagles making six and Gladewater four.

As we saw the game, there were two factors that might be the real reason for Gladewater winning—the kicking of Murphy and the play of the two Bear guards. These two linemen played a good part of the game in the Brownsville backfield.

Gladewater's score came quickly, Murphy finding a hole and slipping through the middle of the line to go on over the goal. Incidentally it was the first time the Brownsville goal line has been crossed this season.

It was too bad the game couldn't have been played on a dry field. Somehow we believe it would have been a dilly between two evenly matched teams.

And we still think the score should have been 0-0.

The Big Push

Comes November and the peak of the year for Southwest Conference football. Three conference games—the maximum number possible—will be played on each of the next three Saturday afternoons.

Headliner for the immediate Saturday — Nov. 2 — is undoubtedly S.M.U. and Texas at Austin. Not since 1934 have the Longhorns managed to come out on the long end of the score against the Methodists. The Bible plan plans to call a halt to that habit.

The Texas Christian eleven comes back to Fort Worth for its first appearance at home in a month. Opposition will be furnished by T.C.U.'s ancient and honorable rival, the Baylor Bears. When Frogs and Bears mix it up on the gridiron, the result is unpredictable. But the Frogs do point out that the Bears won last year, and that it's T.C.U.'s time now.

The powerful Aggies draw the not-too-strong Arkansas Razorbacks in College Station. It would be the most majorest upset of the year for the visitors to do more than make a good showing against the Aggie strength.

Saturday will be recess for the Rice Owls. They meet Texas A. & I. at Houston in a night game.

The Javelinas are strong in their class this season, but they'll be out of their class when they go up against Coach Jess Neeley's 1940 version of the Owls.

For the first time since the season opened, the week's grid bill offers no intersectional contest for a Southwest eleven. But there are several more to be played before the season ends.

T.C.U. meets Detroit at Detroit Nov. 9. Arkansas plays Fordham in New York City Nov. 21, and Texas contests with the University of Florida at Gainesville Dec. 7.

Weems Piles Up Yardage At Houston

Bob Brumley Scores One Touchdown

By WILLIAM T. RIVES

HOUSTON —(AP)— Rice Institute, playing its grandest game of the young season, struck down the colors of unbeaten, untied Texas University Saturday, bursting loose in two terrific surges for a 13-0 victory.

The bonfire eager Rice students had built on the campus Friday night still smouldered as the Owls set out in their first Southwest Conference clash, underdogs against the league's leading grond-gainer.

Owls Strike Quickly

With shocking suddeness Rice showed it was no respecter of reputations, racing across for a touchdown in the first 4 1-2 minutes.

T. A. Weems, the tall Rockdale sophomore, who wrote his name indelibly on Rice's roll of honor Saturday, touched off the explosion.

Rice took the ball on a punt on its own 31, on the first play from scrimmage, Weems zig-zagged 41 yards on reverse around right end to the Texas 28. Bob Brumley and Price shook the Texas line to the 6 and Brumley carried it over in three tries. Weems kicked the point.

The third period lasted only four plays before Rice scored again. Weems snuggled the kickoff and churned 55 yards downfield, finally being run out again on the Texas 29. Three plays later, from the 24, Brumley broke through the Longhorn forward wall and lateraled to Weems just as he was being tackled along the 10-yard line. Weems cut behind two tacklers and raced over. He failed on his conversion attempt.

Crain Stopped

Jack Crain, the wraith of Texas University, was just another ballplayer Saturday. His net gain in five tries was four yards, compared to Weems' 94 in 13 efforts.

Crain played about 26 minutes. He was injured in the Arkansas game last Saturday and did not suit up this week until Thursdy. Coach Dana Bible apparently was content to use him no more.

Rice rolled up 201 yards rushing, holding Texas to a meek 94. The Longhorn, however, plucked 102 yards on Pete Layden's and R. L. Harkins' passes. Rice completed no passes but tried only three in view of its whacking success along the ground.

The starting lineups:

Rice	Pos.	Texas

Tulane Defeats North Carolina

CHAPEL HILL, N. C.—(AP)—A third string quarterback who entered the game in its closing minutes rushed through the line, blocked a North Carolina kick and helped Tulane to a 14-13 victory over the Tar Heels Saturday.

A homecoming crowd of 20,000 saw the contest in clear, hot weather.

The substitute quarterback was Tom Glass, a Tulane home town product from New Orleans. With the Green Wave trailing 13-7, with the ball in North Carolina's possession on Tulane's 43, with less than two minutes to play—he turned defeat into victory.

NAVY 21; YALE 0

YALE BOWL, New Haven—(AP)—Undefeated Navy's power and deception gave it a well-earned 21 to 0 victory over Yale Saturday before 47,000 fans. Lenz and McTigue took touchdown passes while Cameron tallied on a brilliant 35 yard dash.

HUSKIES 7; BEARS 6

SEATTLE—(AP)—Washington came from behind in the fourth period to defeat hard-driving and stubborn California, 7 to 6, before 25,000 fans Saturday. California scored in the third quarter on a 56-yard touchdown run by Gene Pickett; then missed the extra point.

Hogs Come From Far Behind To Trim Ole Miss

Score 2 Touchdowns In Last Quarter

MEMPHIS, Tenn. —(AP)—Fighting a grim, uphill battle, Arkansas' valiant Porkers punched over a pair of Touchdowns in the final period to defeat a favored Ole Miss eleven 21-20 before approximately 12,000 roaring fans here Saturday.

Fullback Bob Forte, a 185-pound back from Lake Village, Ark., set up the winning touchdown, scooping in a partially blocked Rebel punt on the Ole Miss 37 and racing to the one. Jay Lawhon bulled over for the score and Simington kicked the vital extra point.

It was a bitter defeat for the unbeaten Bowl-minded Mississippians, seeking their fifth victory of the season. Fighting desperately in the last few seconds and sparked by their brilliant "H" boys, little Junie Hovious and Merle Hapes, Mississippi tried two field goals but had one blocked and the other fell short.

The "Passing Porkers" opened their bag of tricks five minutes after the game started. After working to the Rebel 14, Hamberg pitched to Ramsay for the score. Simington kicked the first of his three extra points.

The Rebels rallied and plowed through for a touchdown two minutes after the start of the second quarter, Little Junie set up the score with a pair of passes to Popp which carried to the Porker seven. In two tries Hapes crunched over. Hovious booted the extra point.

Minutes later, after Ole Miss again had battered into Arkansas territory, Hovious twisted through the line and ran 38 yards for the second score.

Most brilliant play of the game came on the third period opening kickoff when Les Dodson, a Columbus, Miss., boy, took the ball, and behind perfect interference, raced 90 yards for the third Rebel score. The try for extra point, which seemed unimportant at the time, was blocked.

Louisiana State Beats Vandy 7-0

BATON ROUGE, La. — (AP) — Louisiana State University unleashed a 40-yard scoring drive in the final period Saturday night to defeat Vanderbilt 7-0 before about 20,000 spectators for its first Southeastern Conference victory. Fumbles were frequent.

Louisiana State gained 164 net yards to Vandy's 43 and led 10 to 5 in first downs. The Louisiana forwards rushed the Commodore passers so hard and somthered them so often that in 16 attempts Vandy's net passing yardage was minus three.

As the third period ended Billy McKinney, third-string L.S.U. halfback, returned a punt 20 yards to Vandy's 40 and started the touchdown march. McKinney and Bob Kendrick, sub fullback, alternated through the line to bring it to the nine and Odell Weaver, reserve wingback, skirted left end on a reverse for the score.

Walter Barnes, big tackle, placekicked the extra point.

Bulldogs And Cards Attract Grid Fans

McALLEN—Gross receipts at the Harlingen-McAllen football game Friday night were $1,764.29, Supt. John H. Gregory announced.

The Harlingen school will receive 50 per cent of the net receipts, he said. Tickets cost 15 cents for grammar school students, 25 cents for junior and senior high school and 50 cents for adults.

HOYAS 26; VIOLETS 0

NEW YORK — (AP) — Undefeated Georgetown gave a crowd of 11,000 New Yorkers a glimpse of greatness Saturday as it crushed New York University's Violets 26 to 0 to extend its string of 21 games without a setback. The Hoya regulars played in only two periods, but the victors scored in every period except the second.

Texas Tech Red Raiders Defeat Marquette 20-13

MILWAUKEE—(AP)—Charley Dvoracek, hard-driving Texas Tech fullback, dashed 24 yards in the closing minutes to score and give the Red Raiders a 20 to 13 victory over Marquette University in a spirited football game here Saturday before 8,000.

Dvoracek's dash was the second of two quick thrusts by the invaders in the final period. The first, a 30 yard dash by Roger Smith, took the ball to the Marquette 24 and from that point the fullback went over, smashing through the center of line, cutting sharply and outracing the Marquette secondary to score.

Marquette got the jump, scoring early in the game. Jimmy Richardson passed to Johnny Goodyear for 17 yards to the one yard line and Doug Renzel pushed it over. Goodyear added the point with a place kick.

The Raiders took the kickoff back 45 yards to the Marquette 42 and then marched from there to score. Dvoracek going over from the one. The extra point kick by McKnight was wide.

Tech took the lead early in the second period on a 45 yard touchdown pass, from Storres to McKnight and this time McKnight kicked the point. Marquette fought back into a tie when Richardson climaxed a 60 yard advance by circling end for 34 yards and a touchdown. The place kick failed.

Marquette missed two scoring chances in the third period when it was stopped on the two yard line and on the seven.

Tulsa U. Trims Horned Frogs In Tight Grid Tilt

Golden Hurricane Scores Early

By BEN FUNK

TULSA, Okla.—(AP)—An inspired University of Tulsa football team smashed the famous Texas Christian University aerial attack Saturday and launched a vicious running and passing offensive of its own to score a startling 7-0 upset victory before 10,800 Homecoming Day fans at Skelly Field.

The Golden Hurricane, in the season's greatest demonstration of speed and power, stunned the Horned Frogs with a touchdown thrust in the first three minutes of the game and protected the lead by dominating all phases of play for the remainder of the afternoon.

Fifteen-yard penalties for holding stopped two Tulsa drives inside the T.C.U. ten yard line and a third march which carried to the seven yard stripe failed to produce a score when Halfback Roy Buffalo's attempt for a field goal went wide.

Texas Christian tried desperately to tie the score in the fading moments of the second period but the timekeeper's gun sounded with the ball six yards from the Hurricane goal.

Glenn Dobbs, Tulsa's great kicker, gave the crowd one of its biggest thrills with a mighty 70-yard boot that went out of bounds on the Frog one-yard line and paved the way for the game-winning touchdown.

Halfback Jimmy Vickers took the return punt on the 38 and raced back to the 23. On third down, Dobbs passed to Vickers on the one-yard line and as two tacklers smashed him down hard he fell with the ball inches across the goal. End Bill Grimmett's kick from placement connected beautifully for the extra point.

The Horned Frogs completed 16 passes out of 28 attempts but many of them gained only a yard or two as the alert Tulsa secondary smashed the receivers down in their tracks.

Altogether, T.C.U. gained 90 yards with its aerial game, while the Hurricane, with seven completions out of 15 tries, piled up 98 yards.

Tulsa also outgained the Frogs on running plays, 122 yards to 103, and held a decisive edge in kicking with an average of 46.44 yards per kick to 38.12 for Texas Christian.

Stanford Races Over Trojans

PALO ALTO, Calif— (AP) —Stanford scored two touchdowns in the last minutes of play Saturday to defeat Southern California 21 to 7 in their annual Pacific Coast Conference football classic before 55,000 spectators.

The thrilling contest saw Stanford drive 80 yards to break a 7-7 deadlock. With less than 60 seconds to go, quarter back Frank Albert intercepted a USC pass and ran 24 yards to clinch the game.

Stanford scored in the opening period and USC tied the count in the second.

By FELIX R. McKNIGHT

WACO—(AP)—The growing Texas A. and M. snowball flattened gallant, geared-up Baylor Saturday, 14-7, tumbling to its sixteenth straight triumph in one of the stoutest tests of the Aggies long string.

Hobbled at critical moments by the famed Baylor line, the Cadets drew deeply on their power, experience and passing game to build a two-touchdown lead that withstood Baylor's last minute surge.

Battered, weary, the screams of 20,000 fans beating their ears the last 20 minutes, the Aggies were glad to leave Municipal Stadium and a Baylor team that had been pointing for them since the playing date was announced months ago.

Aggies Pushed

The Aggies outgained and outscored the Baylors, but they had to fire All-America John Kimbrough, big Jim Thomason, Marion Pugh's aerial darts and their great line for 60 minutes to get on the winning side. The Aggies swept to 263 yards on a slightly slippery field, 155 of it from running, while Baylor rolled up 145 yards.

The first down margin went to the big red touchdown machine, 14 to six, and many times they lost scoring opportunities on their own errors and Baylor's valiant stands, but still they had to scramble to stifle Baylor in the last period.

Only one minute remained when the Aggies finally got the situation under control again. Then, on Kimbrough's battering forays outside the tackles, they were sweeping ahead down on the Baylor 13 yard line as the game ended.

Dwight Parks' meek kick-back that sailed out on the Baylor 40 started proceedings. Kimbrough and Conatser jabbing the tackles and skirting the ends, took turns about upsetting the Bruins. Just as Baylor's line girded down on their four for some of Kimbrough's bull rushing, Conatser tailed out around left end for the score, untouched. Pugh kicked the point.

Parks started connecting with passes to Witt that gained 22 and 11 yards in a drive that started from the Baylor 32 and ended in futility on the last play before the half when Odell Herman, Aggie center, intercepted on his own five and dashed 32 yards before smashed out of bounds.

Pass Nets Score

The second Aggie score came deep in the third period after Baylor had them back from the five yard line on Moser's fumble. Back on the Baylor 45, where Witt's kick settled, reserve back Marland Jeffrey spun a 15-yard pass that sophomore Bill Henderson, a gangling, six foot, six inch end, grabbed and took across on a beautiful sprint. Jake Webster kicked the point.

A 40-yard runback of a kickoff by Jim Witt, a grand ball carrier and leader, started the Bruins on their touchdown sally. With the ball on the Baylor 40, he started passing to Sophomore Jack Russell and Milton Crain, finally working down to the Aggie 29. Tiny Dwight Parks took over the chunking there and lofted a 15-yarder that Witt bagged at the 14 and took across for the score.

Tri-City Bears Wallop San Benito Hounds 20-6

PHARR—Scoring touchdowns in the first, second and third quarters, the Pharr-San Juan-Alamo Bears defeated the San Benito Greyhounds, 20 to 6, in a non-conference game here Saturday night. The game, postponed from Thursday night, drew a large crowd of fans.

In the opening quarter, the Bears recovered a San Benito fumble on the 20-yard line and pushed to the four from where Donnie Clark plunged over for a touchdown. He added a point by the same tactics. Taking the ball on the San Benito 48-yard stripe in the second period, Joe Tanner, Earl Pierce and Bud Robie combined forces to move to the San Benito 10 and Robie then went over for the second six-pointer of the game. The try for the extra point failed. Just before the first half ended, Pierce got away for a 60-yard scamper and crossed the goal but the play was called back and the Bears penalized for clipping.

Another drive in the third quarter gave the Bears their third touchdown, Robie going over from the three-yard line. Pierce added a point with a place kick.

The Greyhounds took to the air in the fourth quarter and with their passes clicking picked up 40 yards and a touchdown. Fox passed to Littlepage who went over the goal for San Benito's lone touchdown of the game. The try for the point failed. The Bears were held in check in the final stanza by the Greyhounds who never quit fighting.

The Bears chalked up 20 first downs to five for the Greyhounds.

Wildcats Claw Kansas 20 To 0

MANHATTAN, Kan.— (AP) —The Kansas State Wildcats did a businesslike job of disposing of Kansas University, 20 to 0, Saturday in the annual grudge battle to settle Kansas gridiron supremacy.

The Wildcats running attack rolled freely and their determined defense choked every Jayhawk scoring threat. Kansas State's Kent Duwe roared through the opening which the superior Kansas State line punched in the K-U forward wall and traveled exactly 140 yards on the ground during the afternoon. His average per try was 4.3 yards.

Ray Rokey, who replaced the Wildcat ace, Chris Langvardt, when the latter was injured, caught Duwe's pass for the initial touchdown and broke away for several nice gains during the game. In the first quarter he traveled 39 yards on a reverse.

Upsets Feature Grid Battles On All Fronts

Many 'Top' Teams Fall By Wayside

By HERB BARKER

NEW YORK—(AP)—Football form took a terrific drubbing Saturday as Fordham, Texas, Mississippi, Columbia, Southern California and Penn dropped off the unbeaten list, and upsets were the rule all along the line.

Still undefeated and untied when the firing was over for the day were Cornell, Navy, Georgetown, Boston College, Penn State and Lafayette in the east; Michigan, Notre Dame, Minnesota, Northwestern and Detroit in the Mid West; the Texas Aggies in the Southwest; Tennessee and Clemson in the South; and Stanford in the Far West.

All-America Tom Harmon paced Michigan to a decisive 14-0 victory over Penn, scoring one touchdown on a 10-yard sprint and passing to end Ed Frutig for the other. A crowd of 60,000 saw Penn's ace, Frank Reagan, shackled all the day.

Fordham Loses

Fordham bowed to St. Mary's of California, 9-6, on Joe Aguirre's fourth period field goal; Mississippi surrendered to Arkansas' great fourth quarter surge, 21-20; Texas, with Jack Crain unable to get going, fell before Rice, 13-0; Columbia was topped by Syracuse, 3-0 when Leland (Buck) Morris drop-kicked a field goal in the last 40 seconds.

Cornell spotted Ohio State a touchdown and then came back to rout the Buckeyes, 21-7, before a record Ithaca crowd of 34,500. Lou Bufalino scored twice in the last quarter to salt the decision and run Cornell's unbeaten streak to 16 games.

A crowd of 63,186, biggest at Champagne in 11 years, looked on as Notre Dame, boasting its finest team in years, rolled over Illinois 26-0 with Steve Juzwik counting twice.

Navy, Georgetown, Boston College, Lafayette and Penn State, the other unbeaten Eastern outfits, won decisively. Georgetown ran its unbeaten streak to 21 games with 26-0 rout of New York University. Navy hammered Yale into submission, 21-0; Lafayette knocked over hapless Army, 19-0; Penn State ran up an 18-0 count on Temple, and Boston College spilled St. Anselm's, 55-0.

Dartmouth surprised with a 7-6 decision over Harvard and Brown's 9-8 victory over Holy Cross also was cause for eyebrow-lifting. Princeton handed Rutgers its first defeat, 28-13 and Wesleyan defeated Amherst, in an upset, 14-6, in the first game of the Little Three series.

Gophers Show Power

Minnesota turned loose all its power and trampled Iowa, 34-6, before 63,000 as George Franck scored four touchdowns. Northwestern, with Bill De Correvont on the sidelines because of an ankle sprain, had to come from behind to stop Indiana, 20-7. Wisconsin pulled a surprise by beating Purdue, 14-13, in a lively duel that saw all four touchdowns scored in the final quarter.

Michigan State and Santa Clara played to a scoreless draw but Texas Tech outpointed Marquette, 20-13.

Form held fast in the Big Six where Nebraska was too powerful for Missouri and won, 20-7; Oklahoma subdued Iowa Satte, 20-7, and Kansas State tripped Kansas, 20-0.

The Texas Aggies needed to call on every resource at their command to turn back Baylor's Bears, 14-7, and remain unbeaten through their 16th successive game. Texas Christian dropped a surprise 7-0 decision to Tulsa.

Tennessee had to shake Bill Nowling and Buist Warren loose for two long runs to defeat Florida, 14-0. Georgia Tech came a cropper against Auburn's fine team, 16-7 in another Southeastern Conference fray.

Al Rodney's 45-yaard touchdown run after a blocked kick and the ensuing extra point gave Tulane a 14-13 decision over North Carolina.

Duke's Southern Conference hopefuls walloped Wake Forest, 23-0, but upsets were general in that sector otherwise. Richmond topped Virginia Military, 9-7, and Virginia Tech trounched Washington and Lee 21-0. Furman ran up a 40-7 count on Davidson. William and Mary surprised with a 13-6 decision over non-conference Virginia.

Standford's amazing Indians pushed over two touchdowns in the final quarter and walloped Southern California, 21-7, to remain the lone unbeaten, untied team in the Far West. It was Southern California's first defeat although the Trojans had been tied twice.

Washington had to come from behind to nip fighting California 7-6; Oregon State gave U.C.L.A. another beating, 7-0; and Oregon surprised by holding Washington State to a 6-6 draw.

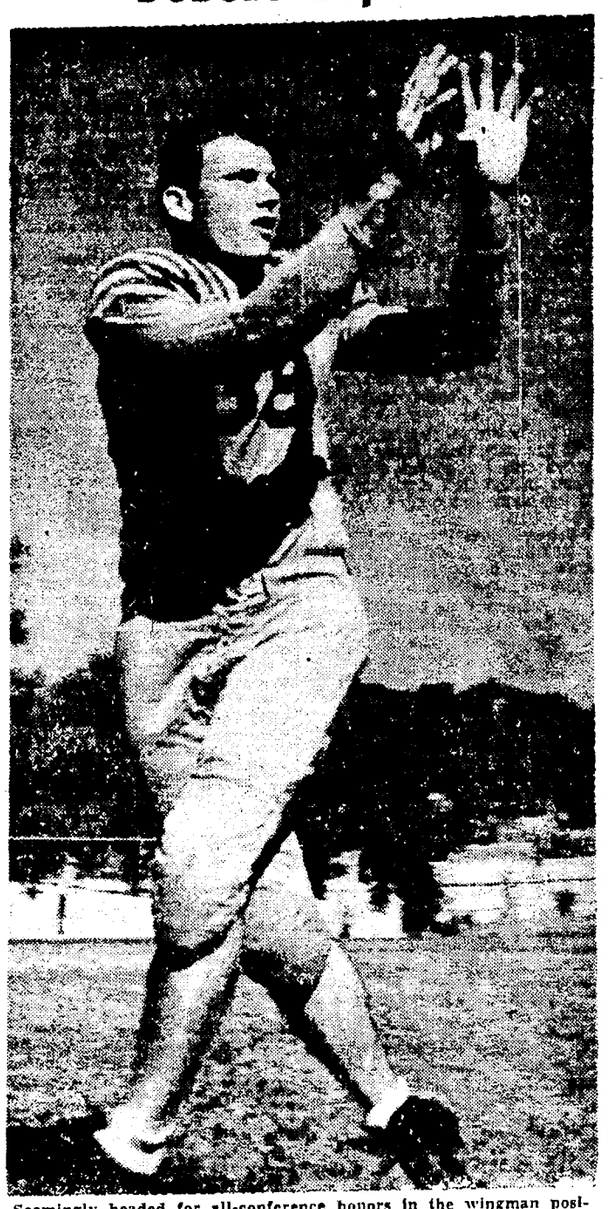
Utah threw the Rocky Mountain Big Seven into an uproar with a 25-14 defeat of Denver. Colorado romped over Wyoming 62-0.

BROWN 9; HOLY CROSS 6

PROVIDENCE, R. I.—(AP)—Brown defeated Holy Cross here Saturday afternoon, 9 to 6. A first period field goal by Ernie Savignano and a fourth period touchdown by Andy Sign, climaxing a 67-yard march brought Brown's scores. Holy Cross scored on the last play of the first half on a Natawich to Roberts pass that traveled 60 yards.

There are more than 190,000 railway bridges in the United States.

Bobcat Captain



Seemingly headed for all-conference honors in the wingman position is powerful Woodrow (Truck) Isham of Weslaco, captain of the 1940 Bobcat squad. Besides figuring heavily in the Bobcat pass offensive with his capable pass-snagging, Isham has consistently played a rugged, almost impregnable defensive game for the Bobcats for the past three years.

Sooners Post 20-7 Win Over Fighting Cyclones

By L. E. SKELLEY

AMES, Ia. — (AP) — Oklahoma's Sooners, big strapping fellows from the Southwest, had to use all their power here Saturday to pull through a 20-to-7 victory over a hard-fighting band of Iowa State Cyclones.

The gallant Cyclones, battling to please a home-coming crowd of 14,000 fans who sat in an uncomfortably warm October sun, fought on almost even terms with Oklahoma until late in the fourth period when rip-roaring Johnny Martin broke their hearts with a 53-yard touchdown dash.

Martin's scoot through the left side of the Iowa State line and down through the secondary provided the Sooners with their second straight Big Six triumph.

Until then, however, Big Hank Wilder and Company had the Sooners hustling all the way and it might have been an entirely different story if Big Hank hadn't lost an apparent touchdown with the score tied in the third period.

Wilder grabbed a flat pass on the Iowa State 48 and dodged his way through the entire Oklahoma team for a 52-yard sprint. Iowa State homecomers moaned, however, when the play was called back because of a clipping penalty.

The cyclones threatened on various occasions and once had a rally choked off by the big Sooners on the one-yard line.

Oklahoma, with slippery Jack Jacobs, the triple-threat Indian flash, and Martin providing the spark, drove 65 yards for a touchdown in the first quarter, Martin finishing the powerhouse attack with a one-yard plunge. Jack Haberlein came off the bench to kick the extra point and Oklahoma led, 7 to 0.

The Sooners didn't hold that advantage long, the Cyclones coming right back to knot the count.

Wilder, an in-an-outer who definitely was "in" Saturday, grabbed a toss from Larry Owens and rambled 32 yards for the touchdown. Paul Darling kicked the extra point to tie the score.

There were several scoring threats by both teams before Oklahoma finally cracked the deadlock late in the third quarter with another long drive. The Sooners, mixing passes with power, ripped 64 yards for a touchdown, Jacobs taking the ball over on a plunge from the 4-yard mark. Harberlein again did his extra point kicking stunt and Oklahoma led, 14 to 7.

Bill Jennings set up the final Oklahoma touchdown by intercepting a pass to give the Sooners the ball on their 43. They picked up four more yards and then Martin dashed off with his game-clinching run.

The lineups:

Oklahoma	Pos.	Iowa State
Jennings	LE	McCraw
Eason	LT	Happe

Franck Scores Four Touchdowns

MINNEAPOLIS — (AP) — Scoring four touchdowns, George Franck helped Minnesota's Golden Gophers to a 34 to 6 victory Saturday over Iowa before 63,000 homecoming fans.

The sturdy Huskies from the corn state put up a great fight, but the Minnesota crusher got them. It got them along with two second period touchdawns that found the speedy Franck snatching long passes from Bruce Smith.

Iowa got into Minnesota's territory only once. A fumble was recovered by Iowa on the Minnesota 33 in the first period. Bender passed 12 yards to Gilleard. Bill Green lost six trying to pass. With the Minnesota defense scattered for another flip, Green darted through a big hole at center, cut to his left, hit the sidelines and ran 27 yards for a touchdown.

Tarpon Strikin'

DEL MAR—Fishing in the surf and from the South jetties perked up quite a bit here the past few days with tarpon, shark and croakers getting the attention of anglers.

Harry A. Wagner and daughter, Martha Louise, of Sherman landed two silver kings from the jetties, one Friday and the other Saturday. The daughter outfished her father by landing a seven-foot shark.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Duemler of Dallas have been trying their hands at tarpon and Mrs. Duemler, a former Valley Fishing Rodeo champion, lost one Saturday after quite a battle using light tackle.

Water and weather conditions were expected to be good Sunday.

WILCATS 20; HOOSIERS 7

EVANSTON, Ill.—(AP)—A fourth period surge of two touchdowns gave undefeated Northwestern a 20 to 7 victory over Indiana Saturday before 40,000 spectators.

Out O' Doors

Wildlife As A Crop

AUSTIN — Wildlife on farms in the wooded areas of East Texas is worth $140.81 in food for the farmer, his family and part of his stock, a survey, one of several to be made by the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission, discloses, according to the executive secretary In addition, insectivorous birds do far more good in capturing insects which destroy crops.

Squirrels rank fire in importance in many sections of East Texas. The survey, made in Wood County, shows. Families kill on an average of 154 squirrels per year. At 35 cents per squirrel this totals $53 a year. Each family catches an average of 153 pounds of fish, which, at 20 cents is worth $30. Of families questioned, 31.5 per cent trap furbearers, earning $30 a year.

Rabbits, opossums, ducks, quail, doves and various fruits made into preserves, make up the remainder of the natural reources used by the average farm family. The total of $140.81 does not take into consideration that 36.7 per cent of the farmers own an average of 18.47 hogs that feed on acron meat, nor of timber used on the farm.

Various other methods of turning natural resources into income were found in the survey. The evergreen spineless greenbriar with red fruit from Wood county was used to fill a $1,000 contract for the decoration of buildings at the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show.

One farmer, with a six-acre lake near Gilmer earned from $17 to $25 an acre each of the four years since the lake was constructed. He charges 50 cents per day. None of the other acres on his farm yield as much easy cash.

More Ducks This Year

Texans will have an opportunity to shoot at from 20 to 30 percent more ducks this year than last, according to surveys by state and federal biologists. The U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service biologists who travel the flyways from far north to as far south as Cuba estimate there will be from 20 to 30 percent more migratory waterfowl in the Lone Star State this year.

There were a large number of ducks and geese in Texas, especially on the coast, last year, but poor hunting weather held down the total kill. Sportsmen are fervently hoping for colder weather this year.

Into The Stomach Of the Whale

Many peculiarities are found among animals, reptiles and insects, although few are witnessed except by persons interested in nature study. When spiders bite each other's legs off, new legs grow back. The black widow spider eats her mate and makes herself a widow. A snake recently ate another one, but the "victim" didn't die, as was witnessed by a group of Texans, according to the Fredericksburg Standard.

Emil Petsch, Pete Weber and Harold Puhl came upon a coach whip and another snake fighting viciously. One snake measured about five feet in length and the other about three feet. The large snake finally started swallowing the other. The smaller snake was eaten head first, but when two-thirds of it had been consumed the men used rocks to kill the larger snake. They thought they had also killed the smaller one, but were amazed when the three-footer crawled all the way into the large snake, turned around and emerged head first, unharmed.

Waterfowl Food Varies

Ducks eat a large variety of food, as is attested by the fact that thirty different kinds of food were found in the crops of 101 ducks taken last winter from four lakes in northeast Texas, according to a biologist's report to the executive secretary of the Texas Game Department. The plant menu is typical of practically every county in East Texas. All the plants can be transplanted and the practice is recommended to persons desiring to improve lakes for waterfowl.

Acorns head the list of food eaten by ducks in northeast Texas. Corms, chiefly sagittaria, is second and watershield is third. Among the other foods are snails, insects, curstacea and pondwood.

Plans furnishing cover as well as food are sedges, butterwillow, and various smartweeds.

Rattler Eats Squirrels

That rattlesnakes do considerable damage to the wildlife of Texas, as well as aiding farmers by eating rodents, is evidenced by the fact that a six-foot rattler was killed recently in Tyler County contained a full-grown squirrel freshly killed and another squirrel partly digested.

New Mexico Normal Beats Wayland 18-7

SANTA FE, N. M.—(AP)—Coach Stu Clark's New Mexico Normal University Cowboys chalked up their second win of the season here Saturday, trouncing the Wayland College Jackrabbits of Plainview, Tex., 18-7.

The game played on a neutral field, was a feature of the New Mexico Educational Association convention.

The Cowboys got their first touchdown in the opening moment of play, when they recovered a fumble by Milford Dendy, Wayland back, on the eight yard line and scored on a pass from Halfback George Clark to Quarterback Madison.

Late in the same period, O. Robinson, sub halfback, plunged four yards for the second Normal score.

Wayland's score came in the second quarter, on a short pass to Leon Tate, who completed another pass for the extra point.

"Anybody who can stay in a game against the Texas Aggies for 60 minutes is good enough for All-American," one sports authority commented recently. Anybody who, in a game with the Texas Aggies, can share the spotlight with "Jarrin' Jahn Kimbrough" while staying his 60 minutes is certainly worthy of that honor. Big Stuart Clarkson, little Texas A. & I.'s greatest contribution to football, was mentioned in every dispatch going out from the A. & I.-A. & M. game September 28. And when the center on any squad can consistently make the news, he must be spectacular.

But the A. & M. game was not Clarkson's initial bow into football fame. After he and his teammates had dumped the favored San Jose Spartans the week before, Spartan coach veteran Pop Warner had called Clarkson good enough to make any team in the country. And last year, as a sophomore, Clarkson had go into the headlines on several occasions one of which was when he almost single handed stopped the vaunted aerial of the Canyon Buffaloes to secure for his team a tie for the Alamo Conference crown. Clarkson personally broke up 21 passes that afternoon, and was in on most of the rest of the 57 thrown by by Buffaloes' famous Flippin' Foster Watkins.

Clarkson was about the only Javelina who could stop Kimbrough cold, as he did several time. And he is one of the few Aggie opponents of the season who have been able to hit Kimbrough and be the first on his feet after the impact.

Clarkson is big and fast and tough, and was a 60 minute man in every game last season. At the close of the year he received almost all of the 60 votes cast for all-Alamo Conference center. Co-captain this year of the A. & I. Javelinas, Clarkson has been a major factor in the Hogs' record of this year, stopping three teams with undefeated records: San Jose with a 13 game winning streak, and San Marcos and Sam Houston with three wins and no defeats each.

He weighs 200 pounds, is 6 feet 2 inches tall, and never considers himself out of any play until the ball is dead. He is 20 years old. The last part of the whole picture, from the standpoint of Coach A. Y. McCallum is that he has another year of eligibility.

Harmon Paces Wolverines To 14-0 Win Over Penn

By GAYLE TALBOT

ANN HARBOR, Mich. — (AP) — Michigan's great Tommy Harmon raced 19 yards to one touchdown and passed 15 to a teammate for another to lead the Wolverines to a 14 to 0 victory over Pennsylvania before 60,000 impressed fans Saturday.

Any doubts the Michigan star would retain the All-America laurels accorded him last season were erased as he turned in one of the most brilliant performances of his career against the previously undefeated Quakers. By scoring a touchdown and kicking two extra points, Harmon ran his tital points for five games to 87 and left his most prominent rival, Frank Reagan of Penn, far in the rear.

The heralded duel between Reagan and Harmon never did develop. The diminutive Penn ace neither could pass nor run to advantage against the stout Michigan defense, and he was jerked from the game by Coach George Munger early in the final period.

The best Reagan could do was toss a couple of 11-yard passes, and his longest run from scrimmage was seven yards. Harmon, in addition to his two scoring plays, streaked through and around the Penn line for gains of 23, 17, 14, 14 and 12 yards, and completed two other long passes of 24 and 14 yards. In addition, his kicking was splendid. He was, in a word, terrific.

Michigan scored its touchdowns in the first and third periods. Penn lumbered down as far as Michigan's two-yard line at the start of the final quarter, but couldn't score through the bunched Wolverine defense.

Nebraska Huskers Hand Missouri 20-7 Drubbing

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

LINCOLN, Neb. —(AP)— Introducing Mr. Harry Hopp, father of a 10-day old son and work horse of the University of Nebraska football team in Saturday's 20 to 7 Big Six victory over Missouri.

You won't find the name of this stolid, black-haired Husker halfback in the scoring summary but he did everything else. He blasted through the Missouri line, twisted around the Tiger ends, passed for a touchdown and punted.

The reason the 21 year old junior didn't score in this battle of the bandages that attracted more than 38,000 homecoming fans—largest outpouring ever to see a Big Six contest—was that Roy Petsch forsook his old job of blocking to gambol 53 yards for the first Husker tally. It was a double reverse, Vike Francis to Walt Luther to Petsch, that brought the touchdown.

Then Herman Rohrig shook off the arnica and doctor's wrapping long enough to hoist two consecutive passes to Luther for a total of 48 yards and a second marker. In the final period Hopp tossed to Luther for the third touchdown.

For 58 minutes Paul Christman and his Missouri mates were stymied by the tough Huskers, who were determined that there would be no third consecutive victory for the Tigers.

Missouri got some consolation—in the first conference defeat for them since late in 1938—when Ted Leibig, sub guard, added the extra point. It was the first successful try in 11 attempts for the Tigers.

The starting lineup:

Missouri	Pos.	Nebraska
Lister	LE	Preston
Wakeman	LT	R. Kahler
Schultz	LG	Schwartzkopf
Jenkins	C	Burrus
Ellis	RG	Alfson
Landers	RT	Behm

Nebraska scoring: Touchdowns, Petsch, Luther 2. Points from try after touchdown Francis 2 (placements).

Cornell Wallops Ohio State 21-7

ITHACA, N. Y. — (AP) — Cornell's fine football team had to come from behind Saturday to keep its record intact, but was tremendously impressive in doing so as it walloped Ohio State 21-7, in the Big Red's first and only intersectional game of the year.

In its first three games this season, Cornell was able to get off in front and keep rolling. But Saturday afternoon, before a capacity crowd of 34,500 in Schoellkopf Stadium, the Ithacans were rocked back on their heels by the Buckeyes' powerful opening drive, yet had poise, power and all-around proficiency enough to make it a runaway in the second half.

Almost any other team might have been thrown completely off stride by the 89-yard scoring march Ohio State put on the first time it got the ball.

But not this team, now unbeaten in 16 straight games. Cornell came back to go 47 yards for the tying touchdown in the second quarter, and in the second half not only throttled the Ohio State attack down to 44 yards but drove 61 yards once, to go out in front and capitalized on a break for the final score.

North Texas Wins Over Sam Houston

HUNTSVILLE—(AP)—Three quick passes by the injured Johnny Riola and a placekick by Nace Formagus Saturday gave North Texas Teachers a 7-6 victory over Sam Houston State Teachers.

Riola, benched because of a leg injury, was rushed into the game in the third period when North Texas recovered a fumble on the Sam Houston 23. He flipped an 8-yard pass to Riggs, then a five yard pass, and then a 10-yarder that left end Covin snared in the end zone. Place kicker Formagus was rushed into the game and converted the extra point.

TARTANS 14; CASE 0

PITTSBURGH—(AP)—Crippled and twice beaten, Carnegie's Tech's once mighty Tartans won their second football game of the season Saturday by shutting out Case School of Applied Science of Cleveland 14-0 before a slim crowd of 5,000 in Pitt Stadium.

AUBURN 16; GEORGIA TECH 7

OREGON STATE WINS

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Oregon State defeated the University of California at Los Angeles on a soggy field, 7-0, in a Pacific Coast Conference football game Saturday. Attendance was 25,000.

Furious British Counter-Offensive Pounds French Coastal Areas

New Long Range Gun Is Bombed

By The Associated Press

LONDON — The Channel area resounded Saturday with a furious British counter-offensive and great columns of smoke rose in the clear, bleak air above the Nazi-held French coast from areas set aflame by British bombs.

Nazi shipping was attacked within sight of watchers on the English shore—a German convoy was heavily bombed by RAF squadrons and it appeared that at least one vessel had been hard hit—and English coastal batteries bombarded a covey of eight German torpedo boats which maneuvered along the French shore.

New Gun Raided

Across the Dover Strait, British pilots went into heavy action against a new long range gun brought up by the Nazis alongside their sixth battery near Cap Gris Nez.

All this—a visual evidence to the people of coastal England of the heightening tempo of the British counter-attack — followed assaults in which the RAF had winged afar over Nazi territory, spreading bombs inland in Germany and over hundreds of miles of the Nazi front.

One of the most important objectives thus attacked, in raids of Friday night and early Saturday morning, was the vital German naval base at Kiel, where shipbuilding yards were declared to have been left in flames.

Nazi Ports Fired

Fires were set off, too, the air ministry reported, in the docks at the ports of Bremen and Cuxhaven; Hamburg again was "heavily bombed."

The aerial bombardment of Kiel —one of the high spots in raids extended from the Baltic to the Channel coast of France and inland to the German industrial Ruhr district—were declared by the ministry to have lasted nearly two hours and "widespread damage" to docks, warehouses, and shipping as well was claimed.

Boulogne, among the other Nazi-held ports assaulted, still was overhung by smoke Saturday afternoon as was Cap Gris Nez, site of heavy German artillery. Bombed, too, as they had been so often before, the ministry said, were the Dutch harbors of Amsterdam and Den Helder—the latter an old Dutch naval base—and the Belgian ports of Ostend and Antwerp.

COAST BARES RACE SCANDAL

7 Jockeys Testify To Pulling Horses

SAN MATEO, Calif.—(AP)—California's biggest horse race scandal in years came to light Saturday with testimony of seven jockeys before the state racing board that they had accepted money from a San Francisco gambler for "pulling" horses at four major tracks.

The jockeys, appearing before the board as sworn witnesses, were named by Board Chairman Jerry Giesler as Leonard Scott of Sabinal, Tex., Steve Packer of Sparks, Nev., Thomas Mansor of Lawrence, Mass., Ellis Gray of Thatcher, Ida., Gus Dye of Boise, Ida., W. F. Ward of Wichita, Kas., and Freddie Miller of Salt Lake City.

All seven were suspended after sensational testimony that Bernard Mooney, identified as a bookmaker and gambler, paid them off with bribes of $100 and $200, depending on the race odds, for holding their horses back.

"I don't blame these boys," Giesler declared. "Mooney is the real culprit. He is not the type wanted around California tracks."

Geisler, an attorney from Los Angeles, recommended that Mooney, alias Einstoss of Los Angeles, be prosecuted on charges of conspiracy to commit theft, actual theft, and contributing to the delinquency of minors. Many of the jockeys are under legal age.

Hundreds Of German Fliers Wage Bomber Attack On Britain

They were said to have taken off from bases ranging from France to Norway and carried bombs weighing up to two tons.

Informed sources said six British planes were shot down and two German planes were missing after an "uninterrupted series of attacks on England and her capital" Saturday. These circles claimed effective hits were scored.

WILLKIE RAPS HATE POLICY

List Credits For New Deal 'Rule'

NEW YORK — (AP) — Republican Presidential Nominee Wendell L. Willkie charged Saturday night the doctrine of the New Deal was "divide and rule."

"Our doctrine is the doctrine of unite and serve," he said in an address at a rally at Jamaica high school, Long Island.

Asserting that there had been formed in recent years "groups with special hatreds — racial, religious and political hatreds," Willkie accused the New Deal of undertaking to "govern America by playing off each of these groups against the other."

Labor vs. Capital

"It has encouraged labor to fight capital and encouraged capital to attack labor," the candidate said. "It has even encouraged labor to fight labor.

"It has created the farm problem as a separate problem, as if the farmers were somewhere on an island by themselves.

Communist Dupes

"It has kept in Washington, on our payroll, men who do not believe in our form of government—Communists and near-Communists and neo-Communists and pseudo-Communists and their dupes.

"It has divided our youth from us by preaching the doctrine that America can no longer grow."

That, said Willkie, was "the issue between the New Deal and the cause I represent."

Visits Fair

The nominee spent a busy day in New York, where he arrived shortly after noon. He went to the New York World's Fair, where his open car moved at a five-mile-an-hour pace between crowds lining the roadways.

After speaking there and later driving through lanes of applauding spectators in Times Square, he attended the Fordham-St. Mary's football game at the Polo Grounds. He scheduled two talks Saturday night on Long Island and two in Brooklyn.

Raids On London Increased By Nazi Bombers Saturday

By The Associated Press

LONDON (Sunday)—Fire bombs and high explosives, falling from as many as four and five bombers at a time, splattered over wide areas of London early today as Nazi raiders stepped up the pace of their 50th successive night of air attack.

The raiders' return at dusk after seven daylight stabs yesterday put the capital under eight air raid alarms during the day—a number never exceeded in a like period and only twice equalled since the start of the aerial siege.

Although London apparently still bore the brunt of the German bombardment, Liverpool reported night raiders attempting vainly to break through its ring of anti-aircraft fire and southwest Scotland had a second straight night of air attack. The Midlands also were raided.

One brief lull in the attack on London ended when raiders slipped past the capital's outer barrage and dropped incendiaries and earthshake explosives. The missiles fell in groups of eight and ten at one time.

Fire engines raced through the streets to fires which were rapidly extinguished.

A movie audience in the southeast town was watching news reel shots of Captain Robert Davies, who became a hero in removing a time bomb from the vicinity of St. Paul's Cathedral in London.

"There's no need for me to talk to you about bombs," the reflection was saying on the screen when bombs fell outside the theatre. The audience laughed.

STATE JOBS GAIN SHOWN

Non - Farm Laborers Increased 16,000

WASHINGTON —(AP)— A report prepared by the Labor Department showed 979,000 persons were employed in non-agricultural establishments in Texas last September, an increase of 16,000 over the preceding month and a gain of 7,000 or .8 per cent over September, 1939.

Nearly all states, the report said, shared in a total increase of 600,000 jobs in non-agricultural industries between August and September, bringing the total employed in non-agricultural industries in September to 36,000,000.

The report showed the employment gains were fairly well distributed over the major geographic areas, although the east north central and south Atlantic regions showed the largest increases.

The figures for Texas are for employes only, and do not cover properties, self-employed persons, domestic servants, persons employed on WPA or NYA projects, or CCC enrollees.

Junior B.P.W. Club Begins Second Year; Member Quota Filled

HARLINGEN — Second year of activity has been started by the Junior Business and Professional Women's Club, the only organization of the kind in existence, and composed of junior and senior high school girls. Full quota of membership, thirty, has been filled.

The club was organized a year ago under the sponsorship of the educational committee of the Harlingen B.P.W. Club, with Miss Ola Lee Smith as active leader. Other members of the committee are Miss Annie Gregg, chairman; Juanita Schneider, and Mrs. Jackie Ferguson.

With re-organization just completed, the junior club has named Billie Jeanne Weed, president for the second time, and Rebecca Fields, vice president. Elected secretary is Oleta Gillespie and Juanita Howard, reporter.

Group activity is the principle on which club is based. Grouping is in accordance with the vocations in which the girls have indicated an interest. A business or professional woman, experienced in her particular field, will direct each separate group.

Assisting as adult advisors to groups are Mrs. J. B. Henderson, manager of the Valley Baptist Hospital who will direct the nurse group; Mrs. Juanita Schneider, beauty technician; Mrs. Marguerite Bonnett, telephone; Mrs. Minnie Gilbert, journalism.

Special fields represented in the club show 13 interested in nursing; 14, secretarial work and business administration; three fine arts; two journalism; nine, homemaking; two aviation and pilot training; four telephone operation; four beauty technicians. Several of the girls registered for more than one type of work.

In connection with the sponsorship of the junior group, the senior club has taken for its educational project the purchase of recent books and magazines on vocational guidance for women and girls. A book on vocations for women and girls has been placed in the public library and a subscription to Independent Woman has been donated.

In addition, the club is maintaining a shelf on vocations for women, compiling clipping files which now include about 150 articles. The shelf is available to anyone interested in material on women in the professions but is intended especially to be of vocational assistance.

PLANTING fever is still spreading among Valley citizens and the majority are having a second or third attack.

Not only is interest in both permanent plantings and in flower seed more widespread that the Valley has ever witnessed, but the urge to get things growing seems to have come earlier this season.

It's all probably the result of the missionary work the garden club women and their friends have been carrying out ever since they landed the state garden club convention for the Valley next March.

FOLKS interested in the California type of bougainvillea, Brazilensis, may see some of the blossoms now on West Pierce street.

The flowers are larger and more vivid that the purple variety that is so widely planted in the Valley, and some folks are predicting the Brazilensis will some day outdistance all the others in popularity.

HOW to name the colorful orange-yellow flowers so gorgeous now and so appropriate to Hallowe'en has us a bit puzzled, but Mrs. G. W. Johnson, beloved in a dozen circles for as many reasons, has offered us a miscellany of names and we've about decided upon the spelling "tabachin."

It is variously written as "tavasheen," "bird of paradise," and "poinciana" in descriptions of decorations in the society section. Othernames sometimes used are Barbados-pride, and peacock flower.

Of course, as Mrs. Johnson pointed out, the real bird of paradise is Strelitzia Reginaea, an extraordinary appearing blossom in orange and blue, still rare in the Valley but to be found in the gardens of some of the experts.

It's our information that this plant with the regal name will not grow farther from the coastline than 20 miles.

MRS. Johnson gives the correct botanical name for the common tabachin, with the peculiarly pungent foliage, as "Caesalpinia Pulcherima."

In different parts of Mexico, Mrs. Johnson reports, this caesalpinia is known variously:

Flor de Camaron, tabaquin, chacasuchit, chamalxochitl, chacamalxochitl, flor de San Francisco, chamol (Guerrero), flor de guacamaya (Oaxaca and Chiapas); and chacsinkin (Yucatan).

In Tampico, she adds, it is known as pajaro paraiso, which probably is the reason this (bird of paradise) is the name most generally used in the Valley.

MEXICANS have a peculiarly apt way of naming flowers, giving delightful recognition to some peculiarity of blossom or leaf.

At the same time the names of the variols herbs, shrubs, and plants follow the botanical title much more closely than the common English names.

This is explained by the fact that the Indians had a vast lore involving the use of medicinal herbs and plants and in learning the curative plants and methods from the natives, the missionary priests in turn taught them the botanical names.

For example, "malva rosa" is a more accurate designation than hollyhock for the big-leafed mallows that excite our envy each spring when we travel the Old Military Road.

AS A matter of information we'd like to know the name for the shrub that most folks refer to as the "Oklahoma weed."

It is especially lovely in the early fall and prized for decorations, but no hostess wants to read that her home was adorned with ""Oklahoma weed."

There is a great quantity of the plant growing as tall as a man's shoulder in the brushy thicket on the T. J. Baird farm south of San Benito.

Most of the pretty clumps in San Benito yards came from this patch.

IF YOUR cassia shrubs aren't in blossom now, pour the water to them.

Rather heavy watering during September is pretty good insurance of a wealth of the yellow flowers from mid-October into November.

DIGGING into library books has not satisfied our curiosity as to whether there's any connection between the Molly Pitcher of Revolutionary fame and the "molly pichers" kids used to make at Hallowe'en.

The Hallowe'en "molly pichers" were ghosts created according to a definitely set idea that looked like nothing so much as a spook with a head covered by dough with holes for facial features.

The Revolutionary Molly Pitcher was really Mary Hays or Heis and was so called because she carried a pitcher of water to the patriot soldiers.

How she came to be a Hallowe'en spook, if "molly picher" is the ghost of somebody else, is a question that probably will never be settled to our satisfaction.

Bride's Father Performs Pretty Garden Wedding At City Of Palms' Home

McALLEN—The W. U. Coughran garden was the scene of the wedding of a well known Valley couple last night when the Coughrans' daughter, Eddie Grace, became the bride of William Rae Alston, older son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Toland, of McAllen.

The ceremony was performed by the bride's father under a garden arbor decorated with roses and fern.

For her wedding Mrs. Alston wore a royal blue crepe street dress, made with box pleats falling from the shoulders. Her accessories were black and she carried an arm bouquet of chrysanthemums.

She was attended by Miss Opal Johnson of Corpus Christi, wearing black velvet, brightened with white collar and cuffs. She also carried an arm bouquet of chrysanthemums.

Chester Martin of McAllen attended the groom as best man.

The bride's mother wore a blue frock, topped with a bright corsage and the groom's mother, black lace.

The 75 guests who attended the wedding were later entertained at a reception at the McAllen Country Club ballroom. Here the large tiered cake graced a table. The refreshment table was centered with a large red punch bowl, matching the tones of the red roses predominating in the floral decoration.

Mrs. Alston graduated from the McAllen Senior High School in 1940. She has lived here with her parents for the past 12 years. The groom graduated from Highland Park High School, Dallas, in June. He will be associated with his father in business at Sunland Creamery.

Valleyites Are Active At A. & I.

By CARL CHILTON, JR.

KINGSVILLE — Six Valley students have been selected by Professor Paul Riley and either regular singers or alternates in the A. and I. A Cappella Choir, which is possibly the most widely known organization on the Texas A. and I. campus. The A Cappella Choir, besides singing numerous times over the radio during the year, also travels extensively. Each year at Christmas time the choir presents Handel's "The Messiah" at the college. It is recognized as one of the outstanding musical organizations in the United States and the Valley should be justly proud to have furnished some of its members.

Valley students chosen for the choir were Rose Parten, Alamo, first soprano; Ava Sue Martin, Harlingen, second soprano; Betsy Lee Kidder, Mercedes, alternate second soprano; Vernon Schliska, Pharr, first tenor; Clinton Schmeling, Brownsville, baritone; and George Shimek, Santa Rosa, alternate bass.

Richard Rowe, a transfer to A. and I. from Edinburg Junior College, has become a leading campus figure in his first year on the A. and I. campus. He has been elected reporter of the sophomore class, president of the Press Club, and has been pledged to the Delta Sigma Chi fraternity. His more recent achievements include appointment as business manager of El Rancho, the college annual, and election as reporter of the pledges of Delta Sigma Chi.

This years pledges to Kappa Omicron Phi, national home economics sorority, include Mary Ellen Osborne and Nina Ruth Higdon of Harlingen.

Among the pledges of Alpha Chi, national honorary society, is Julia Guerra, of Roma. This society is very exclusive, accepting membership of only outstanding pupils. The members must have maintained a "B" scholastic average for four semesters of college work and must be outstanding in campus activities.

The Javelinas of A. and I. have a very enviable record in football competition. They are attempting a schedule this year which is as ambitious as that of any small college in the country. In the first game of the season the Javelinas beat last years' national scoring champions, the San Jose (Calif.) Spartans, and followed that up with a game against Texas A. and M., who has the best team in the contry last year. Still on the schedule is contest with Rice Institute, another Southwest Conference school. So far this season the Javelinas have won three and lost one, bowing only to A. and M.

The 55 piece A. and I. band, one of the outstanding college bands in the state, has among its membership ten pupils from the Rio Grande Valley. Of this ten, five are previously been members of the band, while the remaining five are playing their first year in the organization.

Valley-bred members of the band are Harvey Pritchard, Donna, saxophone; Clayton Dodd and Frank Dodd, Raymondville, Hazel Jackson, Sebastian, and Carl Chilton, Port Isabel, clarinets; Betty Platt, Alamo, and Betsy Lee Kidder, Mercedes, flutes; Dora Hager, Mercedes; trombone; and Babbette Rhinehart and Ella Melton, both of Pharr, drums.

Aside from this regular membership, Lorraine Vollmer of Mission and Ann Dunn of McAllen are members of the four piece color guard of the marching band.

Many View Paintings By Well-Known Artist As Exhibit Is Opened

HARLINGEN — Members of the Rio Grande Valley Art League entertained at the Woman's Building Thursday from 5:30 to 8:30 o'clock with an open house to mark the opening of the exhibit presenting paintings by Harold Roney. Greeting guests at the door was the artist and his wife with Mrs. E. E. Alcott, Jr., vice president of the hostess group.

Approximately fifty of Mr. Roney's paintings, ranging from very small canvas to several of massive proportions, are displayed about the club room and received the appreciative interest of a large number of guests. All of the subjects are landscapes and all are notable for the wonderfully effective treatment of skies. Clouds are expertly handled and one scene depicting a storm cloud drew particular praise. Trees and clouds and mountains predominate in the canvases which present many scenes around Kerrville and snow and autumn scenes of that vicinity and the artist's native Pennsylvania.

Guests were served from a tea table laid with lace which had a silver bowl of experanza and lupine for centerpiece. Mrs. W. H. Lemmon and Mrs. A. J. Alderdice alternated at the punch bowl.

Adding floral interest to the room were arrangements of fern with red verbena and with cosmos.

Extensive Park Work Is Started

HARLINGEN — The Garden Lovers Club's principal project, the improvement of Travis Park, is well under way this week and co-operation of business men and residents of the vicinity has been enlisted. Mrs. J. William Bones is president of the club which was recently organized.

Draining of the unsightly fountain in the park has started and the fountain is to be converted into a fish pond. Civic minded citizens near the park and homeowners have begun giving donations for the beautification work.

Candid camera pictures are to be made of the park before and after the work of improvement has been carried out.

The club is especially interested in obtaining a sufficient amount of carpet grass to cover the entire park. Any persons wishing to donate money or grass for this particular phase of beautification is asked to call Mrs. Wm. Trammell.

Southwest Emphasized In Program

HARLINGEN — Further expanding the development of the theme of the "Southwest," the program for the regular meeting of the Harlingen Study Club Thursday introduced a considerable amount of well-correlated information gleaned from authoritative commentaries.

Mrs. Polk Hornaday presented the last part of "Our Southwest" written by Erna Fergusson. She took her listeners on an imaginary 2,000-mile journey through the area designated as the Southwest. Of particular interest was her statement that the Indians in this territory represent the only tribes having increased in population since colonial days; and her tribute to the lowly burro.

Especially delightful was Miss Alma Rabb's review of "Rio Grande" written by Harry Fergusson, brother of the author of "Our Southwest." She brought out much of the romance connected with the historic boundary stream and stated the personality given the Rio Grande by Fergusson is said to have furnished Emil Ludwig with the idea for his "The Nile."

Mrs. M. H. Connelly sang, "My Heart is a Silent Violin." Mrs. James Koonce served as accompanist.

Hostess for the meeting was Mrs. R. M. Loving.

The Salt Of The Earth

You often hear this expression used—meaning what? Simply this: Everything we use in some way comes from the earth. When you pause for just a moment's thought, how essential is the land on which we work each day. Doesn't it make you want to own part of it. Never before, since the Valley was discovered and began its life of civilization, have you had such opportunities to buy land at such low prices.

20 Acres of the finest black sandy loam soil to be found in the Valley on a paved road about six miles from Harlingen with a good new $2,500 house. Now listen, the land is worth $2,500 and the house $2,500. We offer all for only $2,500.

280 acres of the finest land. Now irrigated. Low taxes. All in cultivation in Willacy county. Two good wells and tenant house. Long-term Federal Bank loan. This piece is only $50 per acre. It's a steal.

100 acres good irrigated land near pavement. Only $35 per acre.

10 acres close in on pavement. Only $850, $15 cash, $15 per month. Or will sell five acres on same terms.

5 acres, with good, modern 5-room house close in. A bargain, only $2,500. On paved road. Three blocks from North Ward school.

We have just what you want in beautiful groves or suburban homes. Call 139.

CHICAGO GRAINS

CHICAGO—(AP)—Wheat prices tumbled almost three cents a bushel Saturday after an early fractional advance in a wave of liquidation touched off by uneasiness regarding the recent sharp upturn and eagerness to take accumulated profits.

Selling out of professionally held lines of futures contracts occurred at the first signs of weakness after the market had staged an opening upturn of about ½ cent. Stop loss orders added to the market's burden. Some selling was attributed to hedging operations against actual wheat redeemed from government loans although trade reports indicated redemptions were small and scattered, with no signs of any definite change in the producer holding policy.

Some traders put stock in renewed peace talk coming from Europe but this only served to emphasize the uncertainty of the domestic and foreign political situation.

Despite scattered mill support and short covering attracted by the price break, wheat closed 1⅞-2¼ lower than Friday. December 84½-⅞, May 83½-83; corn 1 to 2 lower, December 60⅝-¾, May 61¾; oats ¾-⅞ down.

NE WYORK—(AP)—Stocks ended the week on the advancing side in Saturday's market, with steels and industrial specialties out in front for gains running to a point or so.

Brokers attributed the day's rallying tendencies partly to a slight revival of political optimism in Wall Street following last night's election campaign oratorical barrage.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up .4 of a point at 45, making net improvement for the week .3. It was the second week's rise for this composite. A month ago it stood at 44.3 and a year ago at 53.1.

Transfers for the two hours totaled 418,070 shares against 216,440 a week ago and was the best for a two-hour day since June 15.

Prominent share performers included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet, Wheeling Steel, Republic Steel, American Telephone, American Smelting, Consolidated Edison, Dow Chemical, American Can, Texas Corp., Du Pont, Union Carbide and Allied Chemical.

General Motors and Chrysler were up only ⅜ of a point each despite forecasts of heavy sales and output and the announcement of a Defense Commissioner Knudsen that the government orders of around $500,000,000 for aircraft parts would go to automotive concerns.

In the curb modest improvement was shown for Jones & Laughlin, American Cyanamid "B", American Gas, F. W. Bliss, Gulf Oil and Electric Bond & Share. The turnover here was around 86,000 shares compared with 38,000 last Saturday.

Bonds were steady and commodities mixed.

Current Films

JAMES STEWART and Rosalind Russell share co-starring roles in the screen's gaily sophisticated comedy-romance "No Time for Comedy," which is scheduled for current showing Sunday and Monday at the Capitol Theatre in Brownsville and at the Rivoli Theatre in San Benito, Friday and Saturday.

A lightning fast comedy the story concerns a young newspaperman who writes hilarious plays about Manhattan's penthouse set, scores a smash hit of Broadway and marries the star of his plays.

His plays a success, the young playwright begins to find more amusement in hob-nobbing with the smart set than writing about them. At one of the parties he meets the lovely blonde wife of a millionaire who convinces him that he is throwing away his genius on writing such frivolous plays and under her influence he begins writing a play with a "message."

On the opening night of his dramatic play, the audience laugh, just as they have always laughed at his plays. But this time no laughs were intended. By the time the play is ended the entire audience has left the theatre, including the playwright's blonde "inspiration."

'BRIGHAM YOUNG' IS PIONEER DRAMA

WRITTEN FOR THE SCREEN by Louis Bromfield "Brigham Young—Frontiersman," starring Tyrone Power and Linda Darnell is one of the most impressive love stories the screen has ever told.

Tyrone Power portrays the role of Jonathan Kent, Mormon scout, while Miss Darnell is cast as Zina Webb, a young girl who, although not of Mormon faith, flees with Power's family after her father is killed in the massacre at Nauvoo, Illinois, when masked raiders pillaged the city and struck down defenseless hundreds.

The featured supporting cast in "Brigham Young—Frontiersman" which is scheduled for current showing Sunday and Monday at the Arcadia Theater in Harlingen, Tuesday and Wednesday at the Ritz Theatre in Weslaco and at the State Theatre in Mercedes, Thursday and Friday includes Dean Jagger as Brigham Young, Brian Donlevy, Jane Darwell, John Carradine and Mary Astor.

DEANNA DURBIN IN 'SPRING PARADE'

DEANNA DURBIN in her fifth starring picture "Spring Parade" showing Sunday and Monday at both the Rivoli Theatre in San Benito and the Palace Theatre in McAllen, is seen in her first grown-up role.

"Spring Parade" presents Miss Durbin as a young village girl who goes to the city. In the metropolis, she meets and falls in love with Robert Cummings, a young blade, and the picture tells the progress of their love affair over a bumpy—and highly laugh-filled—road of complications.

Deanna sings (more beautifully than ever) four numbers—three of them from the pen of Robert Stolz, famous Viennese musician who composed, among others, the beautiful "Two Hearts in Three-Quarter Time." The fourth is "Blue Danube Dream." All four carry words by Gus Kahn, dean of American lyric writers.

In the large supporting cast are Mischa Auer, Henry Stephenson, Butch and Buddy, Anne Gwynne, Walter Catlett, S. Z. Sakall, Samuel S. Hinds, Allyn Joslyn, Reginald Denny, Franklin Pangborn, Peggy Moran and others.

PAT O'BRIEN SEEN AS KNUTE ROCKNE

THE GREATEST MAN in history of a great sport was "Knute Rockne—All American," whose life has been filmed with Pat O'Brien contributing his finest screen performance in tribute to the famous Rockne.

Based on the most important incidents in the life of the famous player and coach who raised American football to its present high level of sportsmanship, the story also deals with the most important people in Rockne's life.

Top support for O'Brien is given by Gale Page, Ronald Reagan and Donald Crisp. Others in the cast are Albert Basserman, John Litel, Henry O'Neill, with Nick Lukats, Kane Richmond, William Marshall and William Byrne in the roles of "The Four Horsemen."

"Knute Rockne—All American" is booked for current showing Sunday and Monday at the Ritz Theatre in Weslaco and at the Palace Theatre in McAllen, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Tyrone Power and Linda Darnell co-starred in the colorful and exciting screen epic "Brigham Young, Frontiersman," booked for current showing Sunday and Monday at the Arcadia Theatre in Harlingen; Tuesday and Wednesday at the Ritz Theatre in Weslaco and at the State Theatre in Mercedes, Thursday and Friday. The featured supporting cast in the picture includes Dean Jagger as Brigham Young, Brian Donlevy, John Carradine, Jane Darwell and Mary Astor.

'The Ramparts We Watch' Is Feature Length Film

Picture Heralded As Screen's Greatest

When a motion picture is acclaimed by critics, government officials, and news commentators alike as "America's most important feature picture," it rates universal attention. When that same movie is afterwards super-charged by the addition of breath-taking sequences from the notorious Nazi propaganda film, "Baptism of Fire," it becomes an event of unique importance to American theatre goers.

The picture is "The Ramparts We Watch," which is scheduled for premier Valley showings Thursday, Friday and Saturday at both the Arcadia Theatre in Harlingen and the Capitol Theatre in Brownsville.

An absolutely new kind of picture, "The Ramparts We Watch," was inspired by the disastrous trend of world events. Recreating the story of America in the great crisis of World War I, it also was designed to reveal the forces of aggression which were plunging the world once more into war.

After tremendous difficulties the March of Time has finally brought to the American screen "The Ramparts We Watch" as it was originally planned—a thrilling re-creation of the sweep of world history from 1914 to 1940 and what it means to Americans and to America's future.

HALLOWE'EN SHOWS SET

Both the Capitol Theatre in Brownsville and the Arcadia Theatre in Harlingen have arranged for showing of Dorothy Lamour's latest comedy, Musical romance "Moon Over Burma" which also features Robert Preston, Doris Nolan and Preston Foster.

The screen's new hilarious hit "No Time For Comedy" starring James Stewart and Rosalind Russell will be offered at both the Rivoli Theatre in San Benito and the Ritz Theatre in Weslaco.

Pleasure-seekers who attend the Palace Theatre in McAllen will see Mickey Rooney and Judy Garland in "Strike Up the Band" while at the State Theatre in Mercedes Joan Blondell and Dick Powell will be seen in "I Want a Divorce."
